Tax cuts extended

WASHINGTON (AP) — With little time to spare, the House appears ready to give final congressional approval to a bill protecting Americans for another 60 days against a $15-billion-a-year increase in income taxes.

A vote could come today on legislation that would send a Senate-passed tax-cut extension to President Ford, who is on record in favor of an even-larger tax cut.

Without the legislation, the package of antirecession tax cuts enacted last year would expire at midnight Wednesday, meaning higher taxes for virtually every family and, the experts say, a heavy blow to the economy.

Hardest hit by a lapse in the tax cuts would be the nation's poorest families. A four-member family earning $6,000-a-year would face a $445 tax hike.

A family of four earning $15,000 would face a $180-a-year tax increase, as would a single person earning $25,000. The increase would be $182 for a single person earning $8,000, and $204 for a couple with no children and earning $10,000.

On a voice vote with no debate or dissent, the Senate agreed Monday to extend the tax cuts through Sept. 1. No one in the House is fighting the extension, although key Democrats are said to favor an extension only until Aug. 16.

In agreeing to the 60-day extension, the Senate concluded there is no way Congress can complete action in two months on a massive tax-revision bill that would extend the cuts for at least another year.

There has never been any doubt in Congress that the tax cuts would be extended. It is now considered likely that the reductions will be made permanent, if not this year then next.

Here is how the tax cuts work:

A taxpayer is allowed to subtract directly from taxes owed $35 for himself and each dependent. Or, he may subtract 2 per cent of the first $9,000 of taxable income, meaning a maximum credit of $180.

The credit is available to every taxpayer — whether he itemizes or takes the standard deduction.

—A taxpayer who does not itemize is allowed a minimum standard deduction of $1,700 or $2,100 for joint returns. The maxmum standard deduction is 16 per cent of adjusted gross income, up to $2,400 for single persons and $2,800 for joint returns.

—Poor working families with children are allowed a special tax credit by subtracting up to $400 from their tax bill. This is a 10 per cent credit on the first $4,000 of earning income, which phases down until it disappears at the $8,000 earnings level.

Sales tax repeal urged on food, drug purchases

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick has promised swift action in verifying the petitions calling for a public vote on repeal of the sales tax on food and drugs.

More than 165,000 signatures from seven congressional districts in the state were submitted to Kirkpatrick Monday, culminating four years of work toward the tax exemption.

"This is the first step towards a more equitable tax system, not only for senior citizens but for all low and moderate income Missourians," said Marie Towley, 73, vice president of the Missouri tax reform group.

That organization, a coalition of elderly, poor, church and labor-affiliated groups, has been conducting the petition drive for the past two years after failing to win tax revisions through the legislature. About 100,600 valid signatures of registered voters will be needed to place the propostion on the November general election ballot.

The sales tax exemption petitions are the third set of initiative petitions submitted so far this year.

Kirkpatrick has already certified a controversial proposal to permit state aid to private schools in the areas of transportation, textbook loans and education of the handicapped, and Gov. Christopher S. Bond has ordered thah proposal along with six other constitutional changes offered by the general assembly to be submitted to voters Aug. 3.

Several court suits have been filed by opponents of the state aid proposal in an effort to keep it off the ballot, however. Those suits all deal with technical aspects of the measure.

Kirkpatrick said he hoped to complete verification work within the next two weeks on petitions calling for a one-eighth cent sales tax for purchase of hunting, fishing and nature areas by the state. More than 140,000 signatures were collected in that initiative effort.

Still expected before the Thursday deadline are petitions seeking to prohibit utilities from charging customers for the costs of long-range construction projects, banning legislators from receiving state-financed pension benefits and requiring voter approval of any legislative pay hikes.

Still expected before the Thursday deadline are petitions seeking to prohibit utilities from charging customers for the costs of long-range construction projects.

Backers of two other petition efforts to limit financial benefits gained by state lawmakers announced today however that they have halted their efforts.

Paul Distler, president of the Missouri Citizens for Common Sense, said the drive for signatures showed "a slight weakness" in four of the state congressional districts.

The group, he said, was "beginning work on a more simplified petition form and proposal which would soon be circulated and offered in the off year election when the public would have more time and opportunity to consider the merits of the proposal."

Castor River breaks levee in 3 places

BLOOMFIELD — Floodwaters from a swollen Castor River have broken the levee in three places and flooded 8,000 to 10,000 acres of Stoddard County farm land, according to Rep. C. F. Cline of Missouri's 156th District.

Cline said that Sikeston Civil Defense officials provided their helicopter, Monday, so that he could survey the flood damage.

In a telephone interview with The Daily Standard this morning, Cline said he was going to meet with the Stoddard County Court in Bloomfield to discuss the possibility of asking Gov. Christopher S. Bond to declare the county a disaster area.

The three breaks in the levee are all on tthe east side, and most of the inundated farm land is north of Bloomfield. High water can be seen in fields near Clines Island, Avert, Leora, Duck Creek, Kinder and Puxico.

County court considers ditch and road requests

BENTON — K. M. Streeter of rural Painton asked the Scott County Court Monday to repave the road running by his farm and J. Handy Moore asked permission to build a drainage ditch.

The road which runs south and east of Highway W to Highway CC, west of Oran, was paved by the County Court in 1971 and has been retopped once since that time.

The judges said they would not repave the road at this time but did agree to make a test section to see what could be done with the road.

The problem, the court said, is that water washes the bed away, causing the blacktop to break up.

J. Handy Moore of North Ridge Road in Sikeston asked permission of the County Court to construct a drainage ditch, allowing water which overflows from his property onto the rodeo grounds to drain into No. 2 Ditch (St. John's Ditch).

Moore said he would drain the water from his property across land belonging to Burt H. Rowe Jr. on North Ridge Road, then into the No. 2 St.John's Ditch.

He said that he had permission from Rowe to go across his property.

The court said it would look into the situation before giving approval.

Paul Noland of Scott City complained to the court about water overflowing from Ramsey Creek in Scott City.

He said that since the city of Illmo cleaned its section of Ramsey Creek, the water flows faster out of that city, thereby causing an overflow where the creek has not been cleaned.

The court told him to contact the Scott City Council, since it was that city's problem.

In final action the court approved the hauling of several loads of gravel for the roads by the property of Anton Niederkorn, Benton Route One and Theon Glastetter, one-half mile west of New Hamburg.

Thieves take $900 worth of sausage

CHARLESTON — A house burglary and the theft of $900 worth of sausage is under investigation by police.

Partin's Sausage on West Marshal Street reported 19 baskets of sausage, valued at $900, were taken from two of their Monday night while the trucks were parked on the north side of the building.

The home of Early Pierce, 617 Vine St., was entered by prying off a screen and raising a front window.

Police said Pierce returned home about 11 p.m. Monday and found a young black man in the home, ran from the premises taking a cassette tape player, valued at $64.

Bond vetos disclosure revision

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Legislation intened to solve problems that have arisen in administration of the state's new Campaign Practices Act was vetoed today by Gov. Christopher S. Bond because it also weakened the controversial economic disclosure provisions for candidates.

"Unfortunately the general assembly went too far in weakening the law and thus thwarting the will of the Missouri voters," Bond said as he completed action on the remaining bills sent him by the legislature this year. Had he failed to act by today on the three final bills, the General Assembly could have ordered them into law by a majority vote.

Bond had indicated less than an hour after the amendments to the campaign law passed the legislature on the final night of the session that he intended to veto them because they stripped the economic disclosure provisions.

"The income disclosure provisions are so weakened that it is almost meaningless," the governor said of the rejected changes.

The bill would have replaced requirements for disclosure of income sources in excess of at least $500 with a general provision for disclosure of sources of no less than $6,000. It would also have made it possible for many candidates for the state legislature to avoid making disclosure statements.

The bill would have had little impact on candidates in this election year since it would not have become effective until Aug. 13, 10 days after the primary election.

The Missouri Elections Commission has attempted to solve some of the problems that have arisen through issuance of interpretative regulations, but its members claim legislation is needed to take care of the remaining ones.

Reaction to the veto came swiftly as Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick asserted Bond's decision was based on "the wrong advice."

Claiming information on personal and family finances should be removed from "the prying eyes of government," Kirkpatrick said, "Those requirements have discouraged many community-minded and public-spirited men and women from seeking local offices for which they would receive little or nothing except the pride of good public service."

The governor signed the other two measures, the major one setting up a special 12-member committee to thoroughly review the entire state tax structure and recommend changes to make it more equitable while providing as much or more revenue. That panel will begin its work as soon as all members are appointed and must make its first report to the governor and the legislature by next Feb. 15.

Train strikes, kills man

BELL CITY — L. B. Dockins, 53, of Bell City was killed instantly at 9:43 p.m. Monday when he was run over by a train at a crossing on Highway 91 in Bell City.

The death was apparently suicide.

Stoddard County Sheriff Ralph Mouser said that Dockins either just stood on the tracks or walked into the path of the train.

Stoddard County Coroner Ray Rainey said that whether or not it was suicide has not been determined. A ruling will be made following an investigation now being conducted.

He said the man was seen sitting on the railroad tracks about 30 - minutes earlier when a young boy talked to him.

The body was taken to Shetley Funeral Home in Bell City, where arrangements are incomplete.

Moore will seek re-election

Prosecuting Attorney James Moore III announces that he is seeking re-election as Prosecuting Attorney of Scott County.

James Moore III

Moore says that although he is just now announcing, he made this decision immediately on determining that there would be a new sheriff in Scott County in 1977. Moore feels that his experience as an attorney and his specialized training and experience as prosecutor will be necessary for an efficient transfer of the sheriff's office.

Moore, with more years legal experience than any other candidate for this office had been a special appointed prosecutor prior to 1966, had served two years as assistant prosecuting attorney in 1969 and 1970. He had completed special courses for prosecuting attorneys and received a diploma from the National District Attorneys Association, Missouri Attorney General and United States Department of Justice prior to his first seeking office of chief prosecutor of this county.

Since taking office as chief prosecutor of this county in 1973, Moore has been a speaker at specialized courses for prosecuting attorneys, has contributed his prepared forms to prosecutors throughout the state, has taught regional classes to Missouri law enforcement officers and was selected to be one of the instructors at the state seminar on arson.

In 1974, Moore received an award of merit from Northeast Missouri State University for outstanding personal service in law enforcement.

Since taking office, Moore says he has attended more specialized schooling and courses for Prosecuting Attorneys than any other prosecuting attorney in the Bootheel Area. He is presently a member of the National District Attorneys Association, the Missouri Prosecuting Attorneys Association, The Missouri Peace Officers Association, Southeast Missouri Law Enforcement Association, the American Bar Association, Missouri Bar Association, Scott County Bar Association, the American Trail Lawyers Association, the Missouri Trial Lawyers Association, the First Methodist Church of Sikeston and numerous civic clubs and organizations.

Moore this month was named statewide legal counsel emeritus for the Young Democrats of Missouri, having served four full terms as state legal counsel for that organization, and four terms on its executive board. Moore was the recipient this year of an award for outstanding service to the Young Democratic Club of Missouri.

He has also served several terms as Scott County Young

HEW VS. ACADEMIC FREEDOM

Someone once said that if Fascism ever comes to power in the United States, it will do so under the banner of Civil Liberties. Today, in the name of "racial justice," the all-powerful U. S. Department of HEW is forcing colleges and universities throughout the United States — including private, non-government- funded schools — to march in regimented goose-step in accord with HEW mandated "reforms" in the field of education. Such is the charge made in a feature article appearing in the May, 1976 Reader's Digest, and the accusation appears to be supported by the evidence.

Example: Reed College in Oregon (a "liberal" school, by the way) was forced by HEW to advertise nationally for a needed few faculty members. Result: the small private college was flooded with over 6,000 job applications. Not content with that, HEW further demanded that the school keep records on all of the thousands of applicants NOT hired, and submit detailed reports to Washington as to race, sex, job qualifications, prior experience and why Reed did not hire them! Cost to Reed: over $40,000 for useless, wasteful paperwork. And if it cost Reed $40,000 to do the original paperwork, it probably cost of the government another 80,000 of your tax dollars to file, sort, tabulate and otherwise fiddle around with the papers in Washington.

Other schools report the same extremism by HEW. The University of California at Berkeley spent an estimated $40,000 in paperwork and bureauctratic detailing to comply with HEW demands. Multiply those amounts by all of the colleges and universities in America, and then add the cost of Federal administration, and the total cost is beyond conception or calculation.

But the monetary penalty is only part of the story. Declares the Digest: "Hew (has) proclaimed control over virtually every aspect of college life, from admissions policy and physical- education classes to off-campus housing." When Brown University told an HEW bureaucrat that certain students did not meet the school's requirements for ancient languages in its religious- studies program, the Fed replied: "Then end these old- fashioned programs that require irrelevant languages." The American Association of Presidents of Independent Colleges declares: "A more outrageous violation of academic and religious freedom can scarcely be imagined." One almost expected the HEW enforcer to add: "Heil Hitler!"

Former Congresswoman Edith Green of Oregon, who sponsored the original Title IX, now says that if she thought that "the legislation was designed to do some of the things which HEW now says it was designed to do... myself would not have voted for it."

The warning, and the message, clear: Congress should repeal Title IX now. "The issue," says President George Roche of Hillsdale College in Michigan, "is whether academic freedom and independent education are to endure in America."

Despite all the talk about freedom of information and no secrecy in government a federal report on the costs of government auto regulations is being withheld.

The government has compiled a long and expensive study of the cost to the auto industry and various consumer segments within the auto community, from manufacturer to motorist, of compliance with the many federal regulations. This was done at a great deal of expense to the taxpayers.

Someone in Washington didn't like what they saw and now that report, with all its facts and figures is being kept secret. We wonder what the bureaucrats are using for a reason -- certainly not national security.

INTEGRATION OKAY FOR COMMONERS' KIDS

Literally hundreds of senators and representatives, as well as other top Washington officials, have sent their children to predominatly white private schools even while working or voting for public school busing to end segregation among the children of common folk.

To name all those "who have avoided authentic integration of their children in schools by resorting to the private school or white suburban route" would be to compile a Who's Who in Congress, writes syndicated columnist Nick Thimmesch in the April Saturday Evening Post.

Nevertheless, Thimmesch takes a stab at it and his list may be of some interest.

Among those who are either present or past presidential candidates or whose names have been mentioned, and who have sent their children to private schools in the Washington, D.C., area, are: Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana and Sargent Shriver.

Other prominent Washington figures who have sent or who are sending their children to private schools are: Illinois Sens. Adlai Stevenson III and Charles Percy, former New York Sen. Charles Goodell and Sens. Edmund Muskie of Maine, Howard Baker of Tennessee, Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, John Tunney of California, Jacob Javitts of New York and Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut.

Rep. Donald Fraser of Minnesota, whom Thimmesch terms "an ardent advocate of busing," enrolled his daughter in a Washington public school but withdrew her when she fell behind in reading and placed her in a private school. Likewise another Minnesota liberal, Sen. Walter Mondale, after his son found a public junior high school "too rough and tumble." Ditto ex-Sen. Goodell.

"At least these three tried and lost," says Thimmesch. "Virtually every other congressman, administration official and opinion-maker in the Washington area either charged with the responsibility of implementing school integration or on the record for busing copped out when it came to his own children."

Lest anyone conclude, however, that this failure of nerve is exhibited only by white liberals, prominent blacks in the District of Columbia "are no exception to the rule that integration activists find it difficult to live up to their preachments," notes Thimmesch. Among them he cites Mayor Walter Washington, Rep. Walter Fauntroy and Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall.

SPIRIT OF INITIATIVE

A new edition of a book, "The Great Merchants" by Tom Mahoney and Leonard Sloane, recently published by Harper & Row, calls deserved attention to the importance and excellence of free enterprise retailing in America. "Research-laboratory discoveries and the production miracles of factory and farm are meaningless," write the authors, "until retailers place them in the hands of consumers....America leads the world in retailing....Nowhere else have retailers of every kind gone to such lengths to guarantee satisfaction to every customer....In virtually any store he is assured of happiness or his money back."

Stores also are interesting places to work and sometimes offer a wide range of job opportunities worthy of consideration by the ambitious. "Retailing is a great field," the authors conclude, "for all sorts of people; men and women; the young and the old; the trained and the untrained; the part-time and the full-time worker....There are no onerous apprenticeship or educational requirements for entry but special knowledge or experience may bring high rewards."

The story of American retailing, as exemplified in this history of the nation's great merchandising institutions, embodies the essence and spirit of individual initiative in a competitive enterprise system.

LET'S GET WITH IT!

If you were out camping on a cold and rainy night and needed a bigger fire to drive away the chill, it would make no sense to throw water on the flames instead of more wood. Apparently, those misguided, instant experts on the shortage of petroleum products, both in and out of Congress, need to go camping in a rainstorm--lest they continue to think they can cure the shortage by socking it to the oil industry which produces those products. As a top oil company executive explains, "Right now in Congress the climate is one of strangling rather than encouraging development of energy in this country. U.S. policy was a recipe for increasing consumption and decreasing supply, and nobody should have been surprised at the huge energy gap...."

If Americans are to have adequate energy supplies, federal policies must change--beginning with formation of a new "recipe" stressing energy self-sufficiency instead of dependence upon insecure foreign oil imports. In the high-risk oil business, the quest for self-sufficiency will be successful only if there is enough incentive to make domestic operations worthwhile. Each new oil field requires three to ten years for proper development, with total exploration and production costs reaching the $722 million mark in 1973 alone. Capital expenditures accounted for another $1 billion. With these kind of stakes, it makes little sense to thwart petroleum industry efforts, yet government and environmental groups are forever throwing punitive regulations and delays in their path. There is even talk of creating a Federal Oil and Gas Corporation to supposedly stimulate competition among the nation's oil producers. In reality, it would merely stimulate the usual outpouring of bureaucratic waste, deficits and red tape that have proven in the past to accompany government ventures into commercial enterprise.

How long will it be until the American people realize that energy shortages cannot be conquered by throwing cold water on the nation's investor-owned petroleum industry--our best hope for satisfying U.S. energy needs now and in the coming years.

NEW JOBS DEPEND ON CAPITAL INVESTED

Robert C. Brown, executive director of Tax Foundation, set the theme and outlined its historical background. The year 1776, he said, saw the concurrence of Jefferson's Declaration of Independence, Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations, and James Watt's steam engine. All flourished in an atmosphere of liberty.

Today, said Bob Brown, capital—savings and investment—is sacrificed to consumption and extravagant government spending based on a concept of "the full employment budget."

We cannot achieve full employment by assuming it, he pointed out. The creation of new jobs is determined by the amount of private capital invested.

NO MORE PEACE AT UNION'S PRICE

About 210 million American do not live in San Francisco. But what is currently taking place in that cityhas a direct bearing on a question of concern to every urban American: Who runs the cities — the people or the municipal workers unions?

Nearly 2,000 of San Francisco's 18,000 city employes, members of 10 craft unions, went on strike March 31, halting trash collection and even taking the famous cable cars off the streets. Since then, San Franciscans have been further plagued by separate strikes involving bus and cab drivers.

Not that the strikers can be blamed. Voter-mandeate budget cuts would slash the wages of street sweepers, for example, from $17,300 a year to between $12,000 and $14,300.

But what reason under the Californian sun was there for paying street sweepers more than $17,000 a year in the first place? This, along with other free-wheeling spending which has led bus drivers for the Golden Gate Transit District to reject an offer that would give them about $28,500 in pay and benefits, was the price of capitulation to two previous munbicipal strikes.

Had San Franciscans indulged in less fiscal folly and exercised more firmness a few years ago, they might not be in the situation they are today. It is now a contest of wills, and the outcome depends upon which side can outlast the other.

But whatever the outcome of the strike in San Francisco, the moral should be plain to every city worker in every city in the country, whether overpaid or underpaid (and no doubt many are in the latter category). That is that the public's willingness to buy labor peace at any price is coming to an end.

YANKEE TRADER NEEDED!

Admittedly, relationships between nations are far different than between individual people; and, for the most part, that is a good thing. If people acted like nations toward each other, the population on almost every city block would be constantly thinned by neighbors shooting each other up because someone disliked the way someone else failed to return the lawnmower they borrowed or had cold pale eyes that didn't look very friendly. Also, people generally treat their friends better than their enemies, however, nation's do not seem to observe that rule of Human behavior.

For instance, the United States taxpayer is expected to provide tens of millions of dollars for the Export-Import Bank to loan the Soviet Union for the construction of industrial facilities -- as, for example, a fertilizer manufacturing complex. The problem is that the loans are made at six per cent, while top American corporations have to pay double that for the money they need. The idea is that this will increase trade between the two countries. It is certainly a proper and constructive goal. But somewhere along the line, if the U.S. is planning to trade with the USSR, it will have to do so on a realistic basis.

In recalling the great wheat deal of 1972, the editor of he Albemarle, North Carolina, News and Press comments: "Dealing with Russia has already cost Americans billions of dollars. If we continue to deal with them, it is time to drive some decent bargains, from the American standpoint." It is impossible to buy friends, or nation's.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

CIA Reports That Mexico Has Huge Oil Reserves

By Jack Anderson
with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON -- A top-secret CIA report claims that impoverished Mexico is sitting on an astounding 75-billion-barrel oil reserve. This would boost Mexico to second place among the world oil powers.

Numerous government and industry sources have told us the huge figure is possible but improbable. The highest estimate we could get general agreement on is 60 billion barrels. But one cabinet member told us that he believes the CIA's startling, confidential discovery is true.

This would give Mexico a reserve seven times larger than what lies under Alaska's north slope. In terms of sheer world power, it would offer Mexico the opportunity to hit the big-time. Saudi Arabia has the world's largest oil reserve, which is close to 170 billion barrels. Kuwait ranks second with 71 billion. Iran is third with 64 billion, the United States and Russia fourth with 40 billion.

The incredible CIA report cites the rich oil reservoir Mexico struck in 1974. The preliminary drillings uncovered three vast oil fields in the Mexican states of Tabasco and Chiapas. Industry sources say this has now been expanded to an area 300 miles long and five miles wide.

The Mexicans, however, are playing it cagey. The country already produces all the oil it needs, and Mexican officials claim this is their only concern. One embassy official told us the CIA estimate is "totally out of proportion." Mexico's national oil company, PEMEX, estimates the reserves at a cautious 12 to 14 billion barrels.

If the CIA figure turns out to be true, however, it means the Mexicans will be playing a high-stakes international game. There would be powerful U.S. pressure on Mexico to break the Middle East oil cartel. But the Mexicans have announced they would join the cartel if offered the chance.

Fatal Mission: The day before American Ambassador Francis Meloy was murdered in Lebanon, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger ordered him to become more "directly involved" in the peace efforts and to increase his contacts with the warring factions.

Specifically, Meloy was directed to call upon President-elect Elias Sarkis. The secret instructions were flashed to Beirut on June 17. The following morning, in obedience to Kissinger's orders, Meloy set out to visit Sarkis. The ambassador passed through no-man's-land in a bulletproof Chevrolet sedan. But he never reached his destination. He was kidnaped and killed.

Kissinger took pains to stress in his instructions that Meloy should "take due regard for personal safety." It was also the ambassador's own original suggestion that he should play a more active role in pursuing peace in Lebanon. Agreeing, Kissinger instructed him to proceed as promptly as possible to contact the rival leaders and to encourage them to contact one another.

Love Plot: A Senate aide has reported to the FBI that he was lured by a Russian beauty to her apartment in Moscow. After his return home from Russia, he began reading a book about the KGB secret police and became suspicious that she might have been a KGB agent.

The aide, 29-year-old Jeff Bingham, is on the staff of Sen. Jake Garn, R.-Utah. He spent a week in the Soviet Union last March. As he recounted the incident to the FBI, an attractive woman was seated at his table in the hotel dining room.

She spoke excellent English and was dressed fashionably. She introduced herself as Natasha Sokoloff, called "Flora" by her friends. She was a tour guide, she said, from Kiev. They went dancing after dinner, and then she invited him to her Moscow apartment for tea.

Bingham dated her twice. She made some disparaging remarks about her own country but showed no interest in his Senate work, he later reported to the FBI.

Not until he got home and began reading about the Soviet secret police were his suspicions aroused. He first called the CIA which turned him over to the FBI.

The FBI agreed that his encounter with an attractive, English-speaking woman who happened to have a private Moscow apartment was probably no coincidence. "It appears to be a classic case of attempted subversion," an FBI source told us.

She either changed her mind about trying to blackmail him or was setting him up for future contact, the source suggested. Sen. Garn said his aide, in reporting the incident, did the right thing. Garn is a member of the permanent Senate Intelligence Committee. But in March, when the Moscow incident occurred, the sensitive committee hadn't been formed.

Senate Pawn Shop: Two years ago, we reported that Renaldo "Muzzie" Spitelle, who worked in the Senate Post Office, was inspecting the mail of Sen. Joe Biden, D.-Del. Spitelle got his job through ex-Sen. Caleb Boggs, R.-Del., whom Biden defeated.

After our story appeared, Spitelle was quietly transferred to the Senate warehouse. Now we have caught him operating his own private pawn shop in the warehouse. He offered to sell jewelry to our reporter Barbara Vass, who posed as a Senate secretary on a shopping spree.

Later, our associate Gary Cohn, posing as a city street punk, brought a wristwatch to Spitelle's private pawnshop. "Hey, Muzzie, I hear you buy watches and other stuff," said Cohn. "I got a watch to sell."

Spitelle said he was in the market, asked to see the watch and whipped out a jeweler's instrument to inspect it.

GOSSIP COLUMN

WASHINGTON--There is a tremendous amount of talk these days about the newspaper's role in scandal. Should the press discuss the sexual and private lives of public servants? What is the point of newspapermen reporting gossip? Unfortunately, the sex scandals have gotten everyone off the track. There is a definite place for gossip in Washington, but it shouldn't have to do with who is sleeping with whom.

This is the type of gossip column that Washington and the country needs.

Congressman Val Blinkerman was seen last night at Duke Zeiberts Restaurant dining with a lobbyist from General Dynamics. Rumor has it that Blinkermann may be in bed with the B-1 bomber people . . . . Senator Tom Crinkle missed an important vote on the tax bill because he was off hunting on the eastern shore of Maryland with several buddies from an aerospace conglomerate . . . . General Charley Rotor and his family are vacationing in the Virgin Islands, compliments of an armored personnel tank company. Charley wanted to stay for a second week, but he had to get back to the Pentagon to advise the secretary of defense on equipment for the U.S. Army's new tactical division. Tough luck, Charley, but a week is better than nothing . . . .

Washington is agog over the new Mercedes Benz Billy Rimsikorf is driving. Billy, who makes $15,000 a year, said the Mercedes was a gift from an old college school chum who is now VP of a large oil company hoping to get offshore drilling rights to New Jersey. Do we hear wedding bells in the offing? . . .

The lovely hostess Clara Kay, wife of the powerful Senator Biff Kay, is no longer doing charity work. She has just been hired by the government of Rutania to handle its public relations in the United States. Clara is very excited about her new job and sees no conflict with her husband's position as chairman of the subcommittee on Rutania, which will hold hearings next week on a $900 million aid package to the country. Ambassador Zoog, who throws the best parties in Washington told us, "I am secretly in love with Clara. We're very lucky to get her." When we asked Clara what her salary would be, she said $85,000. "Isn't it fun?" she giggled. "I'll be making more money than Biff."

What consumer advocate is now being followed night and day by the FBI? . . . Toland Brillo, of Brillo, Factor and Capistan, the Washington law firm, gave a big party at the Madison Hotel last week to celebrate an out-of-court settlement he made with the Justice Department in the SEC fraud case of Dilly Doodle. For those of you who have short memories, Doodle was indicted for embezzling $20 million in a grain fraud scandal. Thanks to Brillo, Doodle was fined $500 and cannot deal in wheat futures for six months. Poor Dilly.

Dr. Huddleston Hargrave, the tough Federal Drug Administrator who was responsible for the recall of Whizzadrine, made by the Plowboy Drug Co., has resigned to become vice president in charge of public affairs for Plowboy at $150,000 a year. His last act before leaving the FDA was to rescind his recall of Whizzadrine, which he admitted was a "terrible" mistake.

It's sad but true. Two of our favorite people, Henry Kissinger and Ronald Reagan, are going their separate ways. Henry is keeping detente, and Ronnie gets custody of the Panama Canal . . . Another couple on the verge of splitsville are Mayor Abe Beame and Secretary of the Treasury Bill Simon. Simon has told friends that Abe spends money like water, and Abe says Simon doesn't have any idea what it costs to run a city any more. Simon is thinking of taking out a classified ad saying he will no longer be responsible for Abe's debts. Isn't it terrible when love goes out the window and disputes about money take over? . . .

If you see a light over Langley tomorrow evening don't call the fire department. The CIA is holding a bonfire to burn records that have just been subpoenaed by a joint contressional committee.

The Pentagon has misplaced $9 billion . . . Now It Can Be Told Dept.: Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew always disliked each other, and friends say had Spiro become President he would have never pardoned Nixon . . . That's all, folks. More hot stuff tomorrow.

INTEGRATION OKAY FOR COMMONERS' KIDS

Literally hundreds of senators and representatives, as well as other top Washington officials, have sent their children to predominatly white private schools even while working or voting for public school busing to end segregation among the children of common folk.

To name all those "who have avoided authentic integration of their children in schools by resorting to the private school or white suburban route" would be to compile a Who's Who in Congress, writes syndicated columnist Nick Thimmesch in the April Saturday Evening Post.

Nevertheless, Thimmesch takes a stab at it and his list may be of some interest.

Among those who are either present or past presidential candidates or whose names have been mentioned, and who have sent their children to private schools in the Washington, D.C., area, are: Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana and Sargent Shriver.

Other prominent Washington figures who have sent or who are sending their children to private schools are: Illinois Sens. Adlai Stevenson III and Charles Percy, former New York Sen. Charles Goodell and Sens. Edmund Muskie of Maine, Howard Baker of Tennessee, Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, John Tunney of California, Jacob Javitts of New York and Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut.

Rep. Donald Fraser of Minnesota, whom Thimmesch terms "an ardent advocate of busing," enrolled his daughter in a Washington public school but withdrew her when she fell behind in reading and placed her in a private school. Likewise another Minnesota liberal, Sen. Walter Mondale, after his son found a public junior high school "too rough and tumble." Ditto ex-Sen. Goodell.

"At least these three tried and lost," says Thimmesch. "Virtually every other congressman, administration official and opinion-maker in the Washington area either charged with the responsibility of implementing school integration or on the record for busing copped out when it came to his own children."

Lest anyone conclude, however, that this failure of nerve is exhibited only by white liberals, prominent blacks in the District of Columbia "are no exception to the rule that integration activists find it difficult to live up to their preachments," notes Thimmesch. Among them he cites Mayor Walter Washington, Rep. Walter Fauntroy and Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall.

SPIRIT OF INITIATIVE

A new edition of a book, "The Great Merchants" by Tom Mahoney and Leonard Sloane, recently published by Harper & Row, calls deserved attention to the importance and excellence of free enterprise retailing in America. "Research-laboratory discoveries and the production miracles of factory and farm are meaningless," write the authors, "until retailers place them in the hands of consumers....America leads the world in retailing....Nowhere else have retailers of every kind gone to such lengths to guarantee satisfaction to every customer....In virtually any store he is assured of happiness or his money back."

Stores also are interesting places to work and sometimes offer a wide range of job opportunities worthy of consideration by the ambitious. "Retailing is a great field," the authors conclude, "for all sorts of people; men and women; the young and the old; the trained and the untrained; the part-time and the full-time worker....There are no onerous apprenticeship or educational requirements for entry but special knowledge or experience may bring high rewards."

The story of American retailing, as exemplified in this history of the nation's great merchandising institutions, embodies the essence and spirit of individual initiative in a competitive enterprise system.

LET'S GET WITH IT!

If you were out camping on a cold and rainy night and needed a bigger fire to drive away the chill, it would make no sense to throw water on the flames instead of more wood. Apparently, those misguided, instant experts on the shortage of petroleum products, both in and out of Congress, need to go camping in a rainstorm--lest they continue to think they can cure the shortage by socking it to the oil industry which produces those products. As a top oil company executive explains, "Right now in Congress the climate is one of strangling rather than encouraging development of energy in this country. U.S. policy was a recipe for increasing consumption and decreasing supply, and nobody should have been surprised at the huge energy gap...."

If Americans are to have adequate energy supplies, federal policies must change--beginning with formation of a new "recipe" stressing energy self-sufficiency instead of dependence upon insecure foreign oil imports. In the high-risk oil business, the quest for self-sufficiency will be successful only if there is enough incentive to make domestic operations worthwhile. Each new oil field requires three to ten years for proper development, with total exploration and production costs reaching the $722 million mark in 1973 alone. Capital expenditures accounted for another $1 billion. With these kind of stakes, it makes little sense to thwart petroleum industry efforts, yet government and environmental groups are forever throwing punitive regulations and delays in their path. There is even talk of creating a Federal Oil and Gas Corporation to supposedly stimulate competition among the nation's oil producers. In reality, it would merely stimulate the usual outpouring of bureaucratic waste, deficits and red tape that have proven in the past to accompany government ventures into commercial enterprise.

How long will it be until the American people realize that energy shortages cannot be conquered by throwing cold water on the nation's investor-owned petroleum industry--our best hope for satisfying U.S. energy needs now and in the coming years.

NEW JOBS DEPEND ON CAPITAL INVESTED

Robert C. Brown, executive director of Tax Foundation, set the theme and outlined its historical background. The year 1776, he said, saw the concurrence of Jefferson's Declaration of Independence, Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations, and James Watt's steam engine. All flourished in an atmosphere of liberty.

Today, said Bob Brown, capital—savings and investment—is sacrificed to consumption and extravagant government spending based on a concept of "the full employment budget."

We cannot achieve full employment by assuming it, he pointed out. The creation of new jobs is determined by the amount of private capital invested.

NO MORE PEACE AT UNION'S PRICE

About 210 million American do not live in San Francisco. But what is currently taking place in that cityhas a direct bearing on a question of concern to every urban American: Who runs the cities — the people or the municipal workers unions?

Nearly 2,000 of San Francisco's 18,000 city employes, members of 10 craft unions, went on strike March 31, halting trash collection and even taking the famous cable cars off the streets. Since then, San Franciscans have been further plagued by separate strikes involving bus and cab drivers.

Not that the strikers can be blamed. Voter-mandeate budget cuts would slash the wages of street sweepers, for example, from $17,300 a year to between $12,000 and $14,300.

But what reason under the Californian sun was there for paying street sweepers more than $17,000 a year in the first place? This, along with other free-wheeling spending which has led bus drivers for the Golden Gate Transit District to reject an offer that would give them about $28,500 in pay and benefits, was the price of capitulation to two previous munbicipal strikes.

Had San Franciscans indulged in less fiscal folly and exercised more firmness a few years ago, they might not be in the situation they are today. It is now a contest of wills, and the outcome depends upon which side can outlast the other.

But whatever the outcome of the strike in San Francisco, the moral should be plain to every city worker in every city in the country, whether overpaid or underpaid (and no doubt many are in the latter category). That is that the public's willingness to buy labor peace at any price is coming to an end.

YANKEE TRADER NEEDED!

Admittedly, relationships between nations are far different than between individual people; and, for the most part, that is a good thing. If people acted like nations toward each other, the population on almost every city block would be constantly thinned by neighbors shooting each other up because someone disliked the way someone else failed to return the lawnmower they borrowed or had cold pale eyes that didn't look very friendly. Also, people generally treat their friends better than their enemies, however, nation's do not seem to observe that rule of Human behavior.

For instance, the United States taxpayer is expected to provide tens of millions of dollars for the Export-Import Bank to loan the Soviet Union for the construction of industrial facilities -- as, for example, a fertilizer manufacturing complex. The problem is that the loans are made at six percent, while top American corporations have to pay double that for the money they need. The idea is that this will increase trade between the two countries. It is certainly a proper and constructive goal. But somewhere along the line, if the U.S. is planning to trade with the USSR, it will have to do so on a realistic basis.

In recalling the great wheat deal of 1972, the editor of he Albemarle, North Carolina, News and Press comments: "Dealing with Russia has already cost Americans billions of dollars. If we continue to deal with them, it is time to drive some decent bargains, from the American standpoint." It is impossible to buy friends, or nation's.

GOSSIP COLUMN

WASHINGTON--There is a tremendous amount of talk these days about the newspaper's role in scandal. Should the press discuss the sexual and private lives of public servants? What is the point of newspapermen reporting gossip? Unfortunately, the sex scandals have gotten everyone off the track. There is a definite place for gossip in Washington, but it shouldn't have to do with who is sleeping with whom.

This is the type of gossip column that Washington and the country needs.

Congressman Val Blinkerman was seen last night at Duke Zeiberts Restaurant dining with a lobbyist from General Dynamics. Rumor has it that Blinkermann may be in bed with the B-1 bomber people . . . . Senator Tom Crinkle missed an important vote on the tax bill because he was off hunting on the eastern shore of Maryland with several buddies from an aerospace conglomerate . . . . General Charley Rotor and his family are vacationing in the Virgin Islands, compliments of an armored personnel tank company. Charley wanted to stay for a second week, but he had to get back to the Pentagon to advise the secretary of defense on equipment for the U.S. Army's new tactical division. Tough luck, Charley, but a week is better than nothing . . . .

Washington is agog over the new Mercedes Benz Billy Rimsikorf is driving. Billy, who makes $15,000 a year, said the Mercedes was a gift from an old college school chum who is now VP of a large oil company hoping to get offshore drilling rights to New Jersey. Do we hear wedding bells in the offing? . . .

The lovely hostess Clara Kay, wife of the powerful Senator Biff Kay, is no longer doing charity work. She has just been hired by the government of Rutania to handle its public relations in the United States. Clara is very excited about her new job and sees no conflict with her husband's position as chairman of the subcommittee on Rutania, which will hold hearings next week on a $900 million aid package to the country. Ambassador Zoog, who throws the best parties in Washington told us, "I am secretly in love with Clara. We're very lucky to get her." When we asked Clara what her salary would be, she said $85,000. "Isn't it fun?" she giggled. "I'll be making more money than Biff."

What consumer advocate is now being followed night and day by the FBI? . . . Toland Brillo, of Brillo, Factor and Capistan, the Washington law firm, gave a big party at the Madison Hotel last week to celebrate an out-of-court settlement he made with the Justice Department in the SEC fraud case of Dilly Doodle. For those of you who have short memories, Doodle was indicted for embezzling $20 million in a grain fraud scandal. Thanks to Brillo,Doodle was fined $500 and cannot deal in wheat futures for six months. Poor Dilly.

Dr. Huddleston Hargrave, the tough Federal Drug Administrator who was responsible for the recall of Whizzadrine, made by the Plowboy Drug Co., has resigned to become vice president in charge of public affairs for Plowboy at $150,000 a year. His last act before leaving the FDA was to rescind his recall of Whizzadrine, which he admitted was a "terrible" mistake.

It's sad but true. Two of our favorite people, Henry Kissinger and Ronald Reagan, are going their separate ways. Henry is keeping detente, and Ronnie gets custody of the Panama Canal . . . . Another couple on the verge of splitsville are Mayor Abe Beame and Secretary of the Treasury Bill Simon. Simon has told friends that Abe spends money like water, and Abe says Simon doesn't have any idea what it costs to run a city any more. Simon is thinking of taking out a classified ad saying he will no longer be responsible for Abe's debts. Isn't it terrible when love goes out the window and disputes about money take over? . . .

If you see a light over Langley tomorrow evening don't call the fire department. The CIA is holding a bonfire to burn records that have just been subpoenaed by a joint contressional committee.

The Pentagon has misplaced $9 billion . . . Now It Can Be Told Dept.: Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew always disliked each other, and friends say had Spiro become President he would have never pardoned Nixon . . . That's all, folks. More hot stuff tomorrow.

CIA Reports That Mexico Has Huge Oil Reserves

By Jack Anderson
with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON -- A top-secret CIA report claims that impoverished Mexico is sitting on an astounding 75-billion-barrel oil reserve. This would boost Mexico to second place among the world oil powers.

Numerous government and industry sources have told us the huge figure is possible but improbable. The highest estimate we could get general agreement on is 60 billion barrels. But one cabinet member told us that he believes the CIA's startling, confidential discovery is true.

This would give Mexico a reserve seven times larger than what lies under Alaska's north slope. In terms of sheer world power, it would offer Mexico the opportunity to hit the big-time. Saudi Arabia has the world's largest oil reserve, which is close to 170 billion barrels. Kuwait ranks second with 71 billion. Iran is third with 64 billion, the United States and Russia fourth with 40 billion.

The incredible CIA report cites the rich oil reservoir Mexico struck in 1974. The preliminary drillings uncovered three vast oil fields in the Mexican states of Tabasco and Chiapas. Industry sources say this has now been expanded to an area 300 miles long and five miles wide.

The Mexicans, however, are playing it cagey. The country already produces all the oil it needs, and Mexican officials claim this is their only concern. One embassy official told us the CIA estimate is "totally out of proportion." Mexico's national oil company, PEMEX, estimates the reserves at a cautious 12 to 14 billion barrels.

If the CIA figure turns out to be true, however, it means the Mexicans will be playing a high-stakes international game. There would be powerful U.S. pressure on Mexico to break the Middle East oil cartel. But the Mexicans have announced they would join the cartel if offered the chance.

Fatal Mission: The day before American Ambassador Francis Meloy was murdered in Lebanon, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger ordered him to become more "directly involved" in the peace efforts and to increase his contacts with the warring factions.

Specifically, Meloy was directed to call upon President-elect Elias Sarkis. The secret instructions were flashed to Beirut on June 17. The following morning, in obedience to Kissinger's orders, Meloy set out to visit Sarkis. The ambassador passed through no-man's-land in a bulletproof Chevrolet sedan. But he never reached his destination. He was kidnaped and killed.

Kissinger took pains to stress in his instructions that Meloy should "take due regard for personal safety." It was also the ambassador's own original suggestion that he should play a more active role in pursuing peace in Lebanon. Agreeing, Kissinger instructed him to proceed as promptly as possible to contact the rival leaders and to encourage them to contact one another.

Love Plot: A Senate aide has reported to the FBI that he was lured by a Russian beauty to her apartment in Moscow. After his return home from Russia, he began reading a book about the KGB secret police and became suspicious that she might have been a KGB agent.

The aide, 29-year-old Jeff Bingham, is on the staff of Sen. Jake Garn, R.-Utah. He spent a week in the Soviet Union last March. As he recounted the incident to the FBI, an attractive woman was seated at his table in the hotel dining room.

She spoke excellent English and was dressed fashionably. She introduced herself as Natasha Sokoloff, called "Flora" by her friends. She was a tour guide, she said, from Kiev. They went dancing after dinner, and then she invited him to her Moscow apartment for tea.

Bingham dated her twice. She made some disparaging remarks about her own country but showed no interest in his Senate work, he later reported to the FBI.

Not until he got home and began reading about the Soviet secret police were his suspicions aroused. He first called the CIA which turned him over to the FBI.

The FBI agreed that his encounter with an attractive, English-speaking woman who happened to have a private Moscow apartment was probably no coincidence. "It appears to be a classic case of attempted subversion," an FBI source told us.

She either changed her mind about trying to blackmail him or was setting him up for future contact, the source suggested. Sen. Garn said his aide, in reporting the incident, did the right thing. Garn is a member of the permanent Senate Intelligence Committee. But in March, when the Moscow incident occurred, the sensitive committee hadn't been formed.

Senate Pawn Shop: Two years ago, we reported that Renaldo "Muzzie" Spitelle, who worked in the Senate Post Office, was inspecting the mail of Sen. Joe Biden, D.-Del. Spitelle got his job through ex-Sen. Caleb Boggs, R.-Del., whom Biden defeated.

After our story appeared, Spitelle was quietly transferred to the Senate warehouse. Now we have caught him operating his own private pawn shop in the warehouse. He offered to sell jewelry to our reporter Barbara Vass, who posed as a Senate secretary on a shopping spree.

Later, our associate Gary Cohn, posing as a city street punk, brought a wristwatch to Spitelle's private pawnshop. "Hey, Muzzie, I hear you buy watches and other stuff," said Cohn. "I got a watch to sell."

Spitelle said he was in the market, asked to see the watch and whipped out a jeweler's instrument to inspect it.

May-December romance: bride's 73, groom's 94

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Amsey Sheffield didn't have a ladder and couldn't carry his love down one, but he and Nannie Gurley eloped and got married anyway.

"We were in love," exclaimed the new Mrs. Sheffield, a 73-year-old widow, showing off her crisp marriage license.

She announced that she and her 94-year-old husband soon would move from the nursing home where they live to her house in Columbus.

"The doctor didn't want me to stay alone," she said. "Now I've got someone to be with me 24 hours a day."

"We didn't know they were in love," said Sally Maloney, social services director at the Highland House Nursing Home. "All the ladies call Mr. Sheffield 'Honey' and 'Sugar.' We thought he was playing the field."

Sheffield, a widower, said he is looking forward to setting up housekeeping with his bride.

"But what if she can't cook?" asked a guest at the impromptu reception.

"She better learn," he countered.

They decided Wednesday that the time had come, and called a friend from church to take them for blood tests and the ceremony by a probate judge, Mrs. Sheffield said.

They were married just across the state line, in Phenix City, Ala., to skip the three-day waiting period required by Georgia law.

It was "just too long," Sheffield said.

The nursing home staff thought they'd just gone for a drive, he said.

Sheffield, who has the room next to his wife's, wanted to spend their wedding night in his wife's room. But the twin bed made sleeping difficult and before dawn, he kissed his bride good night and padded off to his own quarters.

"We were excited and laughing all night," Mrs. Sheffield said.

"And the nurses and all the aides kept knocking on the door to congratulate us."

She said she isn't worried about the 21-year difference between her age and her husband's.

"I always did like older men," she said.

Recker-Trum

Mattie Frances Recker

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert A. Recker, 104 Winter Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter Mattie Frances to Richard W. Trum II, of New Madrid, son of Richard W. Trum Sr. of Mobile, Ala. and the late Mrs. Lois Hilker Trum.

The future bride is a graduate of Sikeston Senior High School and John Robert Powers School of Modeling at Fort Worth, Tex. She received her bachelor's degree in elementary education from Mississippi University for Women in Columbus, Miss. in 1971. At MUW she was a member of the Mam'selle Social Club and captain of the modeling squad. She is now employed as a kindergarten teacher for the New Madrid County R-1 Enlarged School District.

Trum graduated from Broadmoor High School in Baton Rouge, La. He attended Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge and Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Giarardeau where he majored in business agriculture. He is a self-employed farmer.

A wedding date has been set for Aug 7 at the First Methodist Church of New Madrid.

DEAR POLLY and BEVERLY — I have been making my own diet margarine for many a year. Buy a soft spread, let it come to room temperature in your smallest, deepest mixing bowl. Gradually add one and a half to two cups of tepid water as it beats on low-medium. Experiment a bit. If bought in a tub, as I buy it, there should be two tubs full when you finish and, of course, half as many calories in each serving. I find the firmer spread does not mix so well with the water so always use the soft. if well mixed the water will rarely ever "weep" and you have a light, tasty and always spreadable mixture that is great for weight watchers and those allergic to fats. It was quite natural that the margarine company did not want to tell you of the addition of water, since one only has to buy half as much margarine. — MRS. O.V.D.

Thanks to many many readers who sent in this same method that they all seemed to like. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — To keep cookies from burning on the bottom, I turn my cookie sheet upside down and bake the cookies on the back. They are a nice golden brown.

I would like to pass on a beauty tip I have used for years and it works. Fill a kettle three-fourths full of water and heat until steaming. Put cleansing cream on your face and a shower cap over your hair so as not to loose your set. With a towel make a kind of tent around the kettle, lean over and steam your face for four or five minutes. This leaves the skin rose petal soft and the pores thoroughly cleansed. — ANOTHER POLLY.

Military academies enroll first women

By The Associated Press

The sign leading into the Air Force Academy read "Bring Me Men," but that didn't faze 150 women, the academy's first female cadets.

As the first-year cadets, or doolies, enrolled Monday in the shadow of the Colorado Rockies, 38 women were also processing in at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. Women were expected to join freshman classes later this summer at the Army and Navy academies.

The first to walk beneath the Air Force Academy banner was Joan Olsen, an 18-year-old from Elk Grove, Calif., who came early because, she explained simply, "I wanted to be the first,"

The banner brought giggles from other arriving young women as they piled out of family station wagons, taxis and buses into the bright sunlight. Laden with suitcases and bags, the women got few offers of help from stern-looking upperclassmen, who just pointed to the baggage collection area and let the girls struggle.

The incoming Air Force cadets went through the usual long lines of processing, physical exams and the routine military haircut. The girls had a choice of four short hairstyles, including the familiar "Dorothy Hamill" clip made popular by the American Olympic gold medal ice skater.

The unfamiliar mixture of sexes caused confusion in some quarters.

"O.K., gentleman, ..." one apparently napping Coast Guard Academy upperclassman began an order to a group of newcomers that included men and women.

The Coast Guard Academy, run by the Department of Transportation, admitted women voluntarily. Congress ordered the change at the three military service academies under Defense Department jurisdiction.

250 children enrolled in reading program

A total of 250 children are currently enrolled in the New Madrid County Library's Summer Reading Program. The Reading Program is conducted in Portageville, Parma, Risco, Gideon, Matthews, New Madrid, and Morehouse.

In addition to the encouraged reading, the program also consists of film entertainment, worksheets, art projects, songs and games.

The program will conclude July 16 with a picnic held at the Portageville Park.

Children may continue to enroll at their hometown library.

Ann Landers

Ann baited about drunk fish

Dear Ann Landers: I read that the National institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism gave $102,000 of our hard-earned tax dollars to the University of California for Porof. Harman V. Peeke to get fish drunk.

I know that alcoholism is the country's No. 1 health problem and we need to do something about it. But fish? And after that research was underway the (NIAAA) granted another $90,000 to do research on rats.

Why, when there are so many good reasons to give money to research on cancer, heart and kidney disease or two dozen other things I could name, did they waste $192,000 on drunk fish and rats? How could it help people? --No Drunk Fish In S.C.

Dear N.D.F.: When one considers the total budget is in excess of $400 billion, $192,000 isn't much to spend on a research project for alcoholics, particularly when one considers that alcoholism is now epidemic in this country. (It is also a serious public health problem in France and Italy.) Scientists must experiment on animals animals and fish before they apply the principles to human beings.

Dear Ann Landers: I've never written to a column such as yours, but that letter from the secretary who was desperate to increase the size of her breasts really got to me.

I have always been small-busted and know how self-conscious and inadequate it can make a woman feel. It only takes one lousy, insensitive jackass to give a woman like me an inferiority complex forever.

Just last week a supposedly sophisticated man- about- town told me to put some calamine lotion on them and they would be gone by morning. I was so humiliated and hurt I almost bawled. What I had hoped would be a delightful weekend at the gentleman's summer home turned out to a be a miserable flop.

I hope you'll print this letter so the men out there will realize there are certain things you just don't kid about. -- Crushed In Cincinnate

Dear C.: A pox on both his houses-- the cad! Put this column in the mail. Maybe he'll learn something.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an animal control officer, better known as a "dog catcher." I can't recall that you have ever said a kind word about us although you have taken up the cudget for nearly every other segment of society.

There are times when I believe we are the most despised of all working people. The average citizen has no use for us but it's o.k. to ask us to crawl under a porch and drag out a skunk -- or travel miles in the wilderness to get horses back into the pasture. We get calls at all hours to get a cat out of a tree or put a dog to sleep when he has been seriously injured.

Then there are the "nut" calls a monkey is loose, a pink elephant was seen on Main Street, the Loch Ness monster is in town. We must respond to every call, no matter how screwy.

So please, Ann, say a good word for the dog catcher. He catches a lot of hell along with the dogs, but very few kind words come his way.–From Missouri (Sometimes Pronounced "Misery")

Dear Misery: Your job certainly entails requests I never dreamed of. I hope your letter will help generate some well-deserved public appreciation.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers's booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom" could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Reception planned

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Healy

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde "Pete" Healy of Dexter will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Saturday with a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church of Dexter from 2 to 4 p.m.

The couple was married July 3, 1926, in New Madrid. They have one daughter, Mrs. Travis Calhoun of Wentzville, and four grandchildren.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the reception.

May-December romance: bride's 73, groom's 94

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Amsey Sheffield didn't have a ladder and couldn't carry his love down one, but he and Nannie Gurley eloped and got married anyway.

"We were in love," exclaimed the new Mrs. Sheffield, a 73-year-old widow, showing off her crisp marriage license.

She announced that she and her 94-year-old husband soon would move from the nursing home where they live to her house in Columbus.

"The doctor didn't want me to stay alone," she said. "Now I've got someone to be with me 24 hours a day."

"We didn't know they were in love," said Sally Maloney, social services director at the Highland House Nursing Home. "All the ladies call Mr. Sheffield 'Honey' and 'Sugar.' We thought he was playing the field."

Sheffield, a widower, said he is looking forward to setting up housekeeping with his bride.

"But what if she can't cook?" asked a guest at the impromptu reception.

"She better learn," he countered.

They decided Wednesday that the time had come, and called a friend from church to take them for blood tests and the ceremony by a probate judge, Mrs. Sheffield said.

They were married just across the state line, in Phenix City, Ala., to skip the three-day waiting period required by Georgia law.

It was "just too long," Sheffield said.

The nursing home staff thought they'd just gone for a drive, he said.

Sheffield, who has the room next to his wife's, wanted to spend their wedding night in his wife's room. But the twin bed made sleeping difficult and before dawn, he kissed his bride good night and padded off to his own quarters.

"We were excited and laughing all night," Mrs. Sheffield said.

"And the nurses and all the aides kept knocking on the door to congratulate us."

She said she isn't worried about the 21-year difference between her age and her husband's.

"I always did like older men," she said.

Weddings to come

Carrow-Garrett

MORLEY — The Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. Carrow of Morley announce the engagement of their daughter Pamela Jane to Gary William Garrett. Garrett's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. William J. Garrett of Joplin.

Miss Carrow is a 1976 graduate of Scott Central High School. Her fiance is a 1976 graduate of First Christian Assembly High School. He is associate minister of the Apostolic Pentecostal Church of Joplin.

The couple will be wed Sept. 24.

Recker-Trum

Mattie Frances Recker

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert A. Recker, 104 Winter Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter Mattie Frances to Richard W. Trum II, of New Madrid, son of Richard W. Trum Sr. of Mobile, Ala. and the late Mrs. Lois Hilker Trum.

The future bride is a graduate of Sikeston Senior High School and John Robert Powers School of Modeling at Fort Worth, Tex. She received her bachelor's degree in elementary education from Mississippi University for Women in Columbus, Miss. in 1971. At MUW she was a member of the Mam'selle Social Club and captain of the modeling squad. She is now employed as a kindergarten teacher for the New Madrid County R-1 Enlarged School District.

Trum graduated from Broadmoor High School in Baton Rouge, La. He attended Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge and Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Giarardeau where he majored in business agriculture. He is a self-employed farmer.

A wedding date has been set for Aug 7 at the First Methodist Church of New Madrid.

TWO STARS NOW IN NL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The National League office points out that the league's batters may have added trouble next season. Southpaw Mickey Lolich has been added to the Mets and right hander Doc Medich will be with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

250 children enrolled in reading program

A total of 250 children are currently enrolled in the New Madrid County Library's Summer Reading Program. The Reading Program is conducted in Portageville, Parma, Risco, Gideon, Matthews, New Madrid, and Morehouse.

In addition to the encouraged reading, the program also consists of film entertainment, worksheets, art projects, songs and games.

The program will conclude July 16 with a picnic held at the Portageville Park.

Children may continue to enroll at their hometown library.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — I save toilet soap and at the same time have an always ready nail brush by turning this brush upside down on the sink dish and then placing the soap bar on the bristles rather than right in the dish. No more soapy dishes to clean and a nail brush always ready to use. — A.D.

DEAR POLLY and BEVERLY — I have been making my own diet margarine for many a year. Buy a soft spread, let it come to room temperature in your smallest, deepest mixing bowl. Gradually add one and a half to two cups of tepid water as it beats on low-medium. Experiment a bit. If bought in a tub, as I buy it, there should be two tubs full when you finish and, of course, half as many calories in each serving. I find the firmer spread does not mix so well with the water so always use the soft. if well mixed the water will rarely ever "weep" and you have a light, tasty and always spreadable mixture that is great for weight watchers and those allergic to fats. It was quite natural that the margarine company did not want to tell you of the addition of water, since one only has to buy half as much margarine. — MRS. O.V.D.

Thanks to many many readers who sent in this same method that they all seemed to like. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — To keep cookies from burning on the bottom, I turn my cookie sheet upside down and bake the cookies on the back. They are a nice golden brown.

I would like to pass on a beauty tip I have used for years and it works. Fill a kettle three-fourths full of water and heat until steaming. Put cleansing cream on your face and a shower cap over your hair so as not to loose your set. With a towel make a kind of tent around the kettle, lean over and steam your face for four or five minutes. This leaves the skin rose petal soft and the pores thoroughly cleansed. — ANOTHER POLLY.

Military academies enroll first women

By The Associated Press

The sign leading into the Air Force Academy read "Bring Me Men," but that didn't faze 150 women, the academy's first female cadets.

As the first-year cadets, or doolies, enrolled Monday in the shadow of the Colorado Rockies, 38 women were also processing in at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. Women were expected to join freshman classes later this summer at the Army and Navy academies.

The first to walk beneath the Air Force Academy banner was Joan Olsen, an 18-year-old from Elk Grove, Calif., who came early because, she explained simply, "I wanted to be the first,"

The banner brought giggles from other arriving young women as they piled out of family station wagons, taxis and buses into the bright sunlight. Laden with suitcases and bags, the women got few offers of help from stern-looking upperclassmen, who just pointed to the baggage collection area and let the girls struggle.

The incoming Air Force cadets went through the usual long lines of processing, physical exams and the routine military haircut. The girls had a choice of four short hairstyles, including the familiar "Dorothy Hamill" clip made popular by the American Olympic gold medal ice skater.

The unfamiliar mixture of sexes caused confusion in some quarters.

"O.K., gentleman, ..." one apparently napping Coast Guard Academy upperclassman began an order to a group of newcomers that included men and women.

The Coast Guard Academy, run by the Department of Transportation, admitted women voluntarily. Congress ordered the change at the three military service academies under Defense Department jurisdiction.

Ann Landers

Ann baited about drunk fish

Dear Ann Landers: I read that the National institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism gave $102,000 of our hard-earned tax dollars to the University of California for Porof. Harman V. Peeke to get fish drunk.

I know that alcoholism is the country's No. 1 health problem and we need to do something about it. But fish? And after that research was underway the (NIAAA) granted another $90,000 to do research on rats.

Why, when there are so many good reasons to give money to research on cancer, heart and kidney disease or two dozen other things I could name, did they waste $192,000 on drunk fish and rats? How could it help people? --No Drunk Fish In S.C.

Dear N.D.F.: When one considers the total budget is in excess of $400 billion, $192,000 isn't much to spend on a research project for alcoholics, particularly when one considers that alcoholism is now epidemic in this country. (It is also a serious public health problem in France and Italy.) Scientists must experiment on animals animals and fish before they apply the principles to human beings.

Dear Ann Landers: I've never written to a column such as yours, but that letter from the secretary who was desperate to increase the size of her breasts really got to me.

I have always been small-busted and know how self-conscious and inadequate it can make a woman feel. It only takes one lousy, insensitive jackass to give a woman like me an inferiority complex forever.

Just last week a supposedly sophisticated man- about- town told me to put some calamine lotion on them and they would be gone by morning. I was so humiliated and hurt I almost bawled. What I had hoped would be a delightful weekend at the gentleman's summer home turned out to a be a miserable flop.

I hope you'll print this letter so the men out there will realize there are certain things you just don't kid about. -- Crushed In Cincinnate

Dear C.: A pox on both his houses-- the cad! Put this column in the mail. Maybe he'll learn something.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an animal control officer, better known as a "dog catcher." I can't recall that you have ever said a kind word about us although you have taken up the cudget for nearly every other segment of society.

There are times when I believe we are the most despised of all working people. The average citizen has no use for us but it's o.k. to ask us to crawl under a porch and drag out a skunk -- or travel miles in the wilderness to get horses back into the pasture. We get calls at all hours to get a cat out of a tree or put a dog to sleep when he has been seriously injured.

Then there are the "nut" calls a monkey is loose, a pink elephant was seen on Main Street, the Loch Ness monster is in town. We must respond to every call, no matter how screwy.

So please, Ann, say a good word for the dog catcher. He catches a lot of hell along with the dogs, but very few kind words come his way.–From Missouri (Sometimes Pronounced "Misery")

Dear Misery: Your job certainly entails requests I never dreamed of. I hope your letter will help generate some well-deserved public appreciation.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers's booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom" could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Of the world's principal languages, more people — some 650 million — speak Mandarin Chinese than any other.

Running a wild river in an inflatable raft is an exciting outdoor adventure which is becoming more popular each year. Site for most of these white- water river trips is the Colorado- Green River system on the western Colorado border.

In Wimbledon quarterfinals

Connors ousted by Tanner

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Roscoe Tanner beat favored Jimmy Connors 6-4, 6-2, 8-6 in the quarter-finals of the men's singles today at the Wimledon Tennis Championships.

Connors, the firm favorite this year, was champion in 1974 and lost his title in last year's final to Arthur Ashe.

With Ashe already out of the tournament, the way looked wide open for Connors to regain the title he wanted so badly. He had breezed through the first four rounds this year without dropping a single set.

But the seventh-seeded Tanner, famous for his 140-mile per hour plus serve, today showed he has all the other shots in his armory as well.

Tanner slammed 19 aces.

The early part of the match gave no hint of the upset to come. Connors broke Tanner's service in the first game and dropped only one point in his first three service games.

Connors looked set for victory as he served at 4-3, but suddenly the course of the match turned. Tanner began returning service short, and Connors made one error after another, missing or netting low volleys.

Tanner broke service, leveled at 4-4 and then held service for 5-4. As he stepped up his game, Connors lost his touch and finally lost the set by serving his first double fault of the match.

Tanner started the second set with three aces in one game, and clearly was up against it.

Tanner broke through again to lead 3-1 in the second. Again he had Connors groping for low vollies, and he completed the break with a superb backhand pass.

Tanner held on to his lead and went on to win the second set by breaking Connors again at 6-2. His winning point was a tremendous forehand across the court that had the 17,000 fans on the center court yelling with excitement.

Tanner continued on his way with ace after ace. Connors could not get back into the groove, and trailed 1-3 after losing his service in the third set. Connors finished that game by double faulting and then putting a backhand out with all the court to aim at.

But Connors regained his confidence and fought like a tiger to save the match. Serving at 3-5, he trailed 0-40 but then saved three match points—with an ace, a backhand volley and a service winner.

Next Connors broke back. He went to 30-40 on Tanner's service with a fine backhand. Then he hit a half-hearted lob, but instead of putting away his smash Tanner played safe and stroked the ball back gently. Connors took his chance and slammed a forehand past nim.

That cut Tanner's lead to 5-4, and Connors held service to level at 5-5.

It looked as if Connors might be getting back into the match, but Tanner served one ace per game and held on to lead 7-6. And then the match turned in his favor again.

Serving to save the match, Connors netted a forehand and then hit a high forehand volley out of court to trail 15-40. If Connors had left that one alone, it would have probably gone out anyway.

Connors' last chance had gone. Tanner passed him with a sizzling backhand—and it was over.

It was sweet revenge for Tanner. Connors defeated him in straight sets in last year's semifinals.

Rafting gains popularity

For an outdoor adventure which is different than most, more exciting than most, but still safer than almost anything you can do, take a roller-coaster raft ride down one of our wild western rivers.

A lot of folks are doing just this.

Bouncing through turbulent white-water canyons, drinking in breath-taking scenery, fishing for trout in clear feeder streams, dining on bountiful cowboy meals, exploring archaeological sites, camping by the side of the river with the campfire reflecting off canyon walls--this is the stuff these river trips are made of, and it's a vacation fare which seems to appeal to everyone.

Headquarters for some of these river trips is Green River, Utah, which is situated in the middle of the spectacular canyon country created by the Green and Colorado Rivers. This wilderness country, once the haunt of Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, now is the site of six national parks, created to preserve the natural beauty of the area and provide a degree of control over activities within their boundaries.

Two types of river trips are offered by licensed outfitters operating in this area. The first involves sport one-man "yaks" which bounce down the rapids like corks, with their pilots wielding double-end paddles in a frantic effort to remain on course.

The other utilizes big inflated rafts which are piloted by seasoned guides. With these craft, all guests have to do is hang on as the rafts race through rapids, dodging huge boulders and foam-filled vortexes which seem to have no bottom. Exciting, Yes, but still safe. Life preservers are required, and outfitters must be licensed to conduct these trips. To date, they have an enviable safety record.

Some of the more popular floats are Westwater and Gateway Canyons on the upper Colorado River, Desolation and Gray Canyons on the Green River, the dramatic Cataract Canyon trip which utilizes both the Colorado and Green Rivers, and Delores and Slick Rock Canyons on the Delores River. The latter two floats utilize Cortez, Colorado, as a pick-up point. All the others originate in Grand Junction, Colorado.

Outfitters furnish everything on these trips, except personal effects. Floats range from two days to six days, depending on the section of the river floated and the time of year. The floating season in this area commences the middle of April and closes in late September. All-inclusive prices are surprisingly reasonable. For example, one outfitter's family rate for a four-day trip is $194 per person. A seven-day expedition is priced at $297. A two-day float can be had for as little as $85 per head.

Oliva makes loser of Littell

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Courageous Tony Oliva still believes in miracles, but his creaky, aging knees don't seem to have any effect on that beautiful swing that once won him three American League batting championships.

"I really think Tony thinks he's going to be able to play everyday again," said Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch after Oliva's eighth inning double led the Twins to a 4-3 victory over Kansas City Monday night.

"You've got to be lucky to hit the ball in the right place at the right time," said Oliva, who hobbled into second and then went safely into third when a play was made at the plate. "I had to try for second anyway."

Oliva has never quit trying and he plays only because of the hundreds of painful hours he's worked to rehabilitate his right knee, scarred by seven operations,

"Sure, I would like to play in the outfield and be able to play everyday again," said Oliva. "I miss that."

The double by Oliva scored Lyman Bostock from first base tying the game 3-3 and Jerry Terrell ran for Oliva and scored the winning run on Larry Hisle's sacrafice fly.

"I think maybe you can make some pitches on Oliva you couldn't have made before," said K.C. Manager Whitey Herzog. "But you can't make a bad pitch on him. There are still a lot of other guys I'd rather see up there in a clutch situation."

Oliva only has six hits this season, but he's driven in five runs.

Losing pitcher Mark Littell tried a breaking pitch on the 34-year-old Oliva, but the ball broke in too close and Oliva pulled it sharply off the right field fence.

"You don't want to go in on him," said Littell. "I think I could have hit that pitch."

Littell took over for starter Dennis Leonard following a one-hour rain delay after the seventh inning.

"I came into a game in an identical situation early this year and had no trouble at all," added Littell, who dropped to 3-3.

The Twins countered with Bill Campbell. The right-hander with the herky-jerky motion cut down the Royals the final two innings and improved his record to 8-2.

"It's been awhile since I've really pitched well," said Campbell. "I don't really lose my confidence, but sometimes I think I don't tell Gene (Mauch) when I'm not ready."

K.C. took a 3-2 lead in the fifth on Amos Otis' rbi double. The Royals had tied the game in the third with a pair of runs off Twins starter Bill Singer. George Brett, the league's top hitter, sent in the first run with a sacrafice fly and a wild pitch by Singer let in the other run.

76'er' put Marks out of first in fastpitch softball

Tom Stinnett outpitched brother Bob last night in the Sikeston Fast Pitch Softball League as the 76'ers knocked Marks Food Mart out of first place in the league standings with a 6-3 victory.

The 76'er scored two in the first, three in the third and added another in the fifth as they handed Marks only their third loss of the season. Marks did all their scoring in the third. Holt was three-for-four at the plate for the winners.

Steward Steel, with a 6-2 record, is now in first place, 50 percentage points ahead of Marks, which is 7-3.

Eby's ripped Security National Bank 12-4 in the second game. Jim Hill went two-for-three and also got the win on the mound for the winners, who scored seven runs in the seventh inning to turn what had been a 5-4 game into a rout.

In Wimbledon quarterfinals

Connors ousted by Tanner

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Roscoe Tanner beat favored Jimmy Connors 6-4, 6-2, 8-6 in the quarter-finals of the men's singles today at the Wimledon Tennis Championships.

Connors, the firm favorite this year, was champion in 1974 and lost his title in last year's final to Arthur Ashe.

With Ashe already out of the tournament, the way looked wide open for Connors to regain the title he wanted so badly. He had breezed through the first four rounds this year without dropping a single set.

But the seventh-seeded Tanner, famous for his 140-mile per hour plus serve, today showed he has all the other shots in his armory as well.

Tanner slammed 19 aces.

The early part of the match gave no hint of the upset to come. Connors broke Tanner's service in the first game and dropped only one point in his first three service games.

Connors looked set for victory as he served at 4-3, but suddenly the course of the match turned. Tanner began returning service short, and Connors made one error after another, missing or netting low volleys.

Tanner broke service, leveled at 4-4 and then held service for 5-4. As he stepped up his game, Connors lost his touch and finally lost the set by serving his first double fault of the match.

Tanner started the second set with three aces in one game, and clearly was up against it.

Tanner broke through again to lead 3-1 in the second. Again he had Connors groping for low vollies, and he completed the break with a superb backhand pass.

Tanner held on to his lead and went on to win the second set by breaking Connors again at 6-2. His winning point was a tremendous forehand across the court that had the 17,000 fans on the center court yelling with excitement.

Tanner continued on his way with ace after ace. Connors could not get back into the groove, and trailed 1-3 after losing his service in the third set. Connors finished that game by double faulting and then putting a backhand out with all the court to aim at.

But Connors regained his confidence and fought like a tiger to save the match. Serving at 3-5, he trailed 0-40 but then saved three match points—with an ace, a backhand volley and a service winner.

Next Connors broke back. He went to 30-40 on Tanner's service with a fine backhand. Then he hit a half-hearted lob, but instead of putting away his smash Tanner played safe and stroked the ball back gently. Connors took his chance and slammed a forehand past nim.

That cut Tanner's lead to 5-4, and Connors held service to level at 5-5.

It looked as if Connors might be getting back into the match, but Tanner served one ace per game and held on to lead 7-6. And then the match turned in his favor again.

Serving to save the match, Connors netted a forehand and then hit a high forehand volley out of court to trail 15-40. If Connors had left that one alone, it would have probably gone out anyway.

Connors' last chance had gone. Tanner passed him with a sizzling backhand—and it was over.

It was sweet revenge for Tanner. Connors defeated him in straight sets in last year's semifinals.

Rafting gains popularity

For an outdoor adventure which is different than most, more exciting than most, but still safer than almost anything you can do, take a roller-coaster raft ride down one of our wild western rivers.

A lot of folks are doing just this.

Bouncing through turbulent white-water canyons, drinking in breath-taking scenery, fishing for trout in clear feeder streams, dining on bountiful cowboy meals, exploring archaeological sites, camping by the side of the river with the campfire reflecting off canyon walls--this is the stuff these river trips are made of, and it's a vacation fare which seems to appeal to everyone.

Headquarters for some of these river trips is Green River, Utah, which is situated in the middle of the spectacular canyon country created by the Green and Colorado Rivers. This wilderness country, once the haunt of Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, now is the site of six national parks, created to preserve the natural beauty of the area and provide a degree of control over activities within their boundaries.

Two types of river trips are offered by licensed outfitters operating in this area. The first involves sport one-man "yaks" which bounce down the rapids like corks, with their pilots wielding double-end paddles in a frantic effort to remain on course.

The other utilizes big inflated rafts which are piloted by seasoned guides. With these craft, all guests have to do is hang on as the rafts race through rapids, dodging huge boulders and foam-filled vortexes which seem to have no bottom. Exciting, Yes, but still safe. Life preservers are required, and outfitters must be licensed to conduct these trips. To date, they have an enviable safety record.

Some of the more popular floats are Westwater and Gateway Canyons on the upper Colorado River, Desolation and Gray Canyons on the Green River, the dramatic Cataract Canyon trip which utilizes both the Colorado and Green Rivers, and Delores and Slick Rock Canyons on the Delores River. The latter two floats utilize Cortez, Colorado, as a pick-up point. All the others originate in Grand Junction, Colorado.

Outfitters furnish everything on these trips, except personal effects. Floats range from two days to six days, depending on the section of the river floated and the time of year. The floating season in this area commences the middle of April and closes in late September. All-inclusive prices are surprisingly reasonable. For example, one outfitter's family rate for a four-day trip is $194 per person. A seven-day expedition is priced at $297. A two-day float can be had for as little as $85 per head.

Oliva makes loser of Littell

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Courageous Tony Oliva still believes in miracles, but his creaky, aging knees don't seem to have any effect on that beautiful swing that once won him three American League batting championships.

"I really think Tony thinks he's going to be able to play everyday again," said Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch after Oliva's eighth inning double led the Twins to a 4-3 victory over Kansas City Monday night.

"You've got to be lucky to hit the ball in the right place at the right time," said Oliva, who hobbled into second and then went safely into third when a play was made at the plate. "I had to try for second anyway."

Oliva has never quit trying and he plays only because of the hundreds of painful hours he's worked to rehabilitate his right knee, scarred by seven operations,

"Sure, I would like to play in the outfield and be able to play everyday again," said Oliva. "I miss that."

The double by Oliva scored Lyman Bostock from first base tying the game 3-3 and Jerry Terrell ran for Oliva and scored the winning run on Larry Hisle's sacrafice fly.

"I think maybe you can make some pitches on Oliva you couldn't have made before," said K.C. Manager Whitey Herzog. "But you can't make a bad pitch on him. There are still a lot of other guys I'd rather see up there in a clutch situation."

Oliva only has six hits this season, but he's driven in five runs.

Losing pitcher Mark Littell tried a breaking pitch on the 34-year-old Oliva, but the ball broke in too close and Oliva pulled it sharply off the right field fence.

"You don't want to go in on him," said Littell. "I think I could have hit that pitch."

Littell took over for starter Dennis Leonard following a one-hour rain delay after the seventh inning.

"I came into a game in an identical situation early this year and had no trouble at all," added Littell, who dropped to 3-3.

The Twins countered with Bill Campbell. The right-hander with the herky-jerky motion cut down the Royals the final two innings and improved his record to 8-2.

"It's been awhile since I've really pitched well," said Campbell. "I don't really lose my confidence, but sometimes I think I don't tell Gene (Mauch) when I'm not ready."

K.C. took a 3-2 lead in the fifth on Amos Otis' rbi double. The Royals had tied the game in the third with a pair of runs off Twins starter Bill Singer. George Brett, the league's top hitter, sent in the first run with a sacrafice fly and a wild pitch by Singer let in the other run.

76'er' put Marks out of first in fastpitch softball

Tom Stinnett outpitched brother Bob last night in the Sikeston Fast Pitch Softball League as the 76'ers knocked Marks Food Mart out of first place in the league standings with a 6-3 victory.

The 76'er scored two in the first, three in the third and added another in the fifth as they handed Marks only their third loss of the season. Marks did all their scoring in the third. Holt was three-for-four at the plate for the winners.

Steward Steel, with a 6-2 record, is now in first place, 50 percentage points ahead of Marks, which is 7-3.

Eby's ripped Security National Bank 12-4 in the second game. Jim Hill went two-for-three and also got the win on the mound for the winners, who scored seven runs in the seventh inning to turn what had been a 5-4 game into a rout.

Hrabosky's wild pitch scores winning run

NEW YORK (AP) — First, Tom Seaver had a win and Skip Lockwood had a save. Then Lockwood had the win and Bob Apodaca got the save.

Finally, thanks to a wild pitch by St. Louis relief ace Al Hrabosky with two out in the eighth inning, the New York Mets posted a 5-4 decision over the Cardinals Monday night.

Hrabosky's wild heave allowed Dave Kingman to score from third base with the winning run. u

Kingman's 26th home run of the season in the fourth inning and John Milner's two-run single in the fifth had staked Tom Seaver to a 4-1 lead but the Mets' ace was unable to hold it.

The Cardinals chased him with two runs in the seventh on consecutive singles by Lou Brock, Ted Simmons and Willie Crawford plus an error by Seaver on Ron Fairly's grounder.

Enter Lockwood with the bases loaded and none out.

Exit Hector Cruz, Mike Tyson and pinch hitter Jerry Mumphrey, all strikeout victims.

"I actually was trying to strike out all three batters I faced in the seventh." Lockwood said. "I came in thinking strike one, strike two. When I got that, I was intent on striking out every batter I faced. I think I threw 13 pitches and 10 were fast balls."

In the next inning, though, the Cards tied the score off Lockwood on two walks and two singles.

"It was strange pitching in that windstorm which developed in that inning," Lockwood said. "I was hit with 25,000 Dixie cups. I didn't have the stuff I had in the seventh. I guess it was a rebound reaction, I didn't have the adrenalin going like I did in the seventh."

But in the bottom of the eighth, Lockwood became the winner when Kingman singled off loser Bill Greif and Joe Torre greeted Hrabosky with a pinch single that sent Kingman to third. Mike Vail struck out but Hrabosky's first pitch to Wayne Garrett was wild and Kingman scored.

Canalou slow pitch tournament opens

CANALOU— New Madrid and Lilbourn picked up opening round victories Monday night as the Canalou Slow Pitch Softball Tournament got underway.

New Madrid had to score two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to defeat Puxico 10-9. Puxico, trailing 8-3 going into the seventh, rallied for six in the top of the inning to take the lead 9-8, but New Madrid came right back in the bottom of the frame to win it. Steve Glenn, Larry Glenn and James Kisky all homered for New Madrid.

Dick Johnson blasted two round-trippers for Lilbourn as they bombed First Christian Church of Sikeston 23-7. Lilbourn scored seven times in the first and ten more in the second as they broke the game open early. Sam Taylor and Woody Wilson also homered for Libourn.

Action in the double-elimination tournament continues tonight. Canalou takes on Bank of Sikeston at 6:30, followed by an 8:00 meeting between New Madrid and Matthews. Coleman's Barbecue meets Jeans Studio at 9:30.

Flippo and Arnold team for no-hitter vs. Moore's

A combined no-hitter by Ricky Flippo and Mike Arnold of Bridger Plumbing and Heating in the American League highlighted Monday night's action in the Sikeston Little League, where rains failed to wash out play at the Sikeston Recreational Complex.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Flippo and Arnold worked two innings of hitless baseball apiece as Bridger blasted Moore's Firestone 24-0. Flippo and Bailey smacked three hits apiece for Bridger as they scored ten times in the first, six more in the second and eight in the third.

First National Bank rallied for five runs in the top of the sixth to nip Righter Trucking 14-13. First National outhit Righter 17-8, but Righter put together their hits for 13 runs. Jeff Neal blasted three doubles and a single in four trips to lead First National's attack. Shawn Sain was the winning hurler, while Jon Fair got the loss.

MUSIAL LEAGUE

A six-run second inning by Harts Bread vaulted them to a 9-7 win over Bank of Sikeston. Jimmy Cowell and Kevin Meunier had three hits apiece for the winners to back up winning pitcher Scott Carmody. Allen Morris was the loser.

Malone and Hyde scored five times in the first and then six more in the second as they downed Kingsway 14-9. Ken Lathom was the winning hurler, outpitching Johnnie Nelson.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Kiwanis tallied three times in the fifth and twice more in the sixth as they broke away to a 7-1 victory over Pizza Inn. Nick Garner tossed a one hitter, surrendering only a fourth-inning double to Baker. Bob Casey doubled and tripled to lead the winners in the hitting department, while Garner also had a pair of safeties.

A & B Leasing won a forfeit from Legion in the other National League game, Legion started the game with eight playesr and had to forfeit when one of them was ejected from the contest.

Olympic track team selected

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The 90-member U.S. Olympic track and field team — ranging in age from 16 to 38 — will report to training camp at Plattsburg, N.Y. in a week and begin preparation for the Montreal Summer Games.

But for now, the team members selected at the U.S. Olympic Track and Field Trials — along with friends, relatives, coaches and officials — have gone home for a rest after eight days of competition seen by about 105,000 persons at Hayward Field.

Illness, injury and age prevented some of America's finest athletes from receiving their just rewards after four years of sweat, determination and personal sacrifice. Some will retire.

Hurdlers Ralph Mann, 26, and Jim Bolding, 27, succumbed to younger competitors.

Steve Williams, America's hope for the 100 and 200-meter sprints, went home empty handed. The 22-year-old Florida Track Club star, one of many athletes who suffered hamstring injuries, had been rated a top prospect for the gold medal at Montreal in both dashes.

Bitter disappointment again struck Marty Liquori, 27, who suffered injuries during the 1968 Olympics and before the trials four years ago.

He reinjured a month-old pulled hamstring during the third lap of his 5,000-meter heat. His Olympic hopes ended when he quit on the sixth lap, burying his face in his wife's jacket.

Steeplechaser Mike Manley, who trained in nearby mountains to avoid Eugene's pollen-laden air, fell after striking a barrier in the second lap. The 1972 Olympian injured his right leg and did not finish.

Another steeplechaser, Mike Roche of the New York Athletic Club, crashed over the final barrier in third place. He fell flat but leaped to his feet and, with the crowd cheering wildly, sprinted past Don Timm for the final Olympic berth.

Decathloner Craig Brigham of Oregon, whose debilitating bout with mononucleosis caused pain even when he blinked his eyes just six weeks ago, said he probably would retire.

Brigham, 22, who finished eighth behind world record holder Bruce Jenner, will enter medical school at Northwestern this fall.

There were brighter moments, however, for Rhonda Brady, Jay Silvester and Willie Davenport.

Hrabosky's wild pitch scores winning run

NEW YORK (AP) — First, Tom Seaver had a win and Skip Lockwood had a save. Then Lockwood had the win and Bob Apodaca got the save.

Finally, thanks to a wild pitch by St. Louis relief ace Al Hrabosky with two out in the eighth inning, the New York Mets posted a 5-4 decision over the Cardinals Monday night.

Hrabosky's wild heave allowed Dave Kingman to score from third base with the winning run. u

Kingman's 26th home run of the season in the fourth inning and John Milner's two-run single in the fifth had staked Tom Seaver to a 4-1 lead but the Mets' ace was unable to hold it.

The Cardinals chased him with two runs in the seventh on consecutive singles by Lou Brock, Ted Simmons and Willie Crawford plus an error by Seaver on Ron Fairly's grounder.

Enter Lockwood with the bases loaded and none out.

Exit Hector Cruz, Mike Tyson and pinch hitter Jerry Mumphrey, all strikeout victims.

"I actually was trying to strike out all three batters I faced in the seventh." Lockwood said. "I came in thinking strike one, strike two. When I got that, I was intent on striking out every batter I faced. I think I threw 13 pitches and 10 were fast balls."

In the next inning, though, the Cards tied the score off Lockwood on two walks and two singles.

"It was strange pitching in that windstorm which developed in that inning," Lockwood said. "I was hit with 25,000 Dixie cups. I didn't have the stuff I had in the seventh. I guess it was a rebound reaction, I didn't have the adrenalin going like I did in the seventh."

But in the bottom of the eighth, Lockwood became the winner when Kingman singled off loser Bill Greif and Joe Torre greeted Hrabosky with a pinch single that sent Kingman to third. Mike Vail struck out but Hrabosky's first pitch to Wayne Garrett was wild and Kingman scored.

Canalou slow pitch tournament opens

CANALOU— New Madrid and Lilbourn picked up opening round victories Monday night as the Canalou Slow Pitch Softball Tournament got underway.

New Madrid had to score two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to defeat Puxico 10-9. Puxico, trailing 8-3 going into the seventh, rallied for six in the top of the inning to take the lead 9-8, but New Madrid came right back in the bottom of the frame to win it. Steve Glenn, Larry Glenn and James Kisky all homered for New Madrid.

Dick Johnson blasted two round-trippers for Lilbourn as they bombed First Christian Church of Sikeston 23-7. Lilbourn scored seven times in the first and ten more in the second as they broke the game open early. Sam Taylor and Woody Wilson also homered for Libourn.

Action in the double-elimination tournament continues tonight. Canalou takes on Bank of Sikeston at 6:30, followed by an 8:00 meeting between New Madrid and Matthews. Coleman's Barbecue meets Jeans Studio at 9:30.

Flippo and Arnold team for no-hitter vs. Moore's

A combined no-hitter by Ricky Flippo and Mike Arnold of Bridger Plumbing and Heating in the American League highlighted Monday night's action in the Sikeston Little League, where rains failed to wash out play at the Sikeston Recreational Complex.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Flippo and Arnold worked two innings of hitless baseball apiece as Bridger blasted Moore's Firestone 24-0. Flippo and Bailey smacked three hits apiece for Bridger as they scored ten times in the first, six more in the second and eight in the third.

First National Bank rallied for five runs in the top of the sixth to nip Righter Trucking 14-13. First National outhit Righter 17-8, but Righter put together their hits for 13 runs. Jeff Neal blasted three doubles and a single in four trips to lead First National's attack. Shawn Sain was the winning hurler, while Jon Fair got the loss.

MUSIAL LEAGUE

A six-run second inning by Harts Bread vaulted them to a 9-7 win over Bank of Sikeston. Jimmy Cowell and Kevin Meunier had three hits apiece for the winners to back up winning pitcher Scott Carmody. Allen Morris was the loser.

Malone and Hyde scored five times in the first and then six more in the second as they downed Kingsway 14-9. Ken Lathom was the winning hurler, outpitching Johnnie Nelson.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Kiwanis tallied three times in the fifth and twice more in the sixth as they broke away to a 7-1 victory over Pizza Inn. Nick Garner tossed a one hitter, surrendering only a fourth-inning double to Baker. Bob Casey doubled and tripled to lead the winners in the hitting department, while Garner also had a pair of safeties.

A & B Leasing won a forfeit from Legion in the other National League game, Legion started the game with eight playesr and had to forfeit when one of them was ejected from the contest.

Olympic track team selected

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The 90-member U.S. Olympic track and field team — ranging in age from 16 to 38 — will report to training camp at Plattsburg, N.Y. in a week and begin preparation for the Montreal Summer Games.

But for now, the team members selected at the U.S. Olympic Track and Field Trials — along with friends, relatives, coaches and officials — have gone home for a rest after eight days of competition seen by about 105,000 persons at Hayward Field.

Illness, injury and age prevented some of America's finest athletes from receiving their just rewards after four years of sweat, determination and personal sacrifice. Some will retire.

Hurdlers Ralph Mann, 26, and Jim Bolding, 27, succumbed to younger competitors.

Steve Williams, America's hope for the 100 and 200-meter sprints, went home empty handed. The 22-year-old Florida Track Club star, one of many athletes who suffered hamstring injuries, had been rated a top prospect for the gold medal at Montreal in both dashes.

Bitter disappointment again struck Marty Liquori, 27, who suffered injuries during the 1968 Olympics and before the trials four years ago.

He reinjured a month-old pulled hamstring during the third lap of his 5,000-meter heat. His Olympic hopes ended when he quit on the sixth lap, burying his face in his wife's jacket.

Steeplechaser Mike Manley, who trained in nearby mountains to avoid Eugene's pollen-laden air, fell after striking a barrier in the second lap. The 1972 Olympian injured his right leg and did not finish.

Another steeplechaser, Mike Roche of the New York Athletic Club, crashed over the final barrier in third place. He fell flat but leaped to his feet and, with the crowd cheering wildly, sprinted past Don Timm for the final Olympic berth.

Decathloner Craig Brigham of Oregon, whose debilitating bout with mononucleosis caused pain even when he blinked his eyes just six weeks ago, said he probably would retire.

Brigham, 22, who finished eighth behind world record holder Bruce Jenner, will enter medical school at Northwestern this fall.

There were brighter moments, however, for Rhonda Brady, Jay Silvester and Willie Davenport.

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Missouri

To be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Missouri at a special election to be held on Tuesday, the Third day of August, 1976.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 1

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly First Regular Session)

Amends Section 7, Article X, Missouri Constitution, by deleting twenty-five year limitation on laws granting partial tax relief for lands devoted exclusively to forestry purposes.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing section 7 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri relating to taxation and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article X of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section 1. Section 7, article X constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 7, to read as follows:

Section 7. For the purpose of encouraging forestry when lands are devoted exclusively to such purpose, and the reconstruction, redevelopment, and rehabilitation of obsolete, decadent, or blighted areas, the general assembly by general law may provide for such partial relief from taxation of the lands devoted to any such purpose, and of the improvements thereon, by such method or methods, for such period or periods of time, not exceeding twenty-five years in any instance, and upon such terms, conditions, and restrictions as it may prescribe; provided, however, that in the case of forest lands, the limitation of twenty-five years herein described shall not apply.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 2

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly First Regular Session)

Repeals constitutional provision which presently requires that each election ballot be numbered and that such number be recorded on list of voters opposite voter's name.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing section 3 of Article VIII of the constitution of Missouri relating to elections and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to Article VIII of the constitution of the state of Missouri.

Section 1. Section 3. Article VIII constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 3, to read as follows:

Section 3. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by any mechanical method prescribed by law. All election officers shall be sworn or affirmed not to disclose how any voter voted; provided, that in cases of contested elections, grand jury investigations and in the trial of all civil or criminal cases in which the violation of any law relating to elections, including nominating elections, is under investigation or at issue, such officers may be required to testify and the ballots cast may be opened, examined, counted, and received as evidence.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 3

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly Second Regular Session)

Authorizes counties to issue utility or airport revenue bonds with voter approval; authorizes counties and municipalities to issue industrial development revenue bonds without voter approval.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing Section 27 of Article VI of the constitution of Missouri relating to the indebtedness of certain political subdivisions and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to Article VI of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section 1. Section 27, Article VI, constitution of Missouri, is repealed and three new sections adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as sections 27(a), 27(b), and 27(c), to read as follows:

Section 27(a). Any county, city or incorporated town or village in this state, by vote of a majority of the qualified electors thereof voting thereon, may issue and sell its negotiable interest bearing revenue bonds for the purpose of paying all or part of the cost of purchasing, constructing, extending or improving any of the following: (1) revenue producing water, gas or electric light works, heating or power plants; or (2) airports; to be owned exclusively by the county, city or incorporated town or village, the cost of operation and maintenance and the principal and interest of the bonds to be payable solely from the revenues derived by the county, city or incorporated town or village from the operation of the utility or airport.

Section 27(b). Any county, city or incorporated town or village in this state, by a majority vote of the governing body thereof, may issue and sell its negotiable interest bearing revenue bonds for the purpose of paying all or part of the cost of purchasing, constructing, extending or improving any facility to be leased or otherwise disposed of pursuant to law to private persons or corporations for manufacturing, commercial, warehousing and industrial development purposes, including the real estate, buildings, fixtures and machinery. The cost of operation and maintenance and the principal and interest of the bonds shall be payable solely from the revenues derived by the county, city, or incorporated town or village from the lease or other disposal of the facility.

Section 27(c). As used in Article VI, Sections 27(a) and 27(b), the term "revenue bonds" means bonds neither the interest nor the principal of which is an indebtedness or obligation of the issuing county, city or incorporated town or village.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 4

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly Second Regular Session)

Amends Missouri Constitution to authorize legislature to rescind administrative rules and regulations of agencies by concurrent resolution without presentation to the governor.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing Section 8 of article IV of the constitution of Missouri relating to the duty of the governor in regard to concurrent resolution and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article IV of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section 1. Section 8, article IV, constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 8, to read as follows:

Section 8. Administrative rules and regulations other than those which affect only the internal operation of the agency adopting them and other than those promulgated under authority granted by the constitution may be rescinded by concurrent resolution of both houses which shall be effective immediately upon the adoption of such resolution without presentation to the governor. Every other resolution to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary, except on questions of adjournment, going into joint session, and of amending this constitution, shall be presented to the governor, and before the same shall take effect, shall be proceeded upon in the same manner as in the case of a bill; provided, that no resolution shall have the effect to repeal, extend, or amend any law except as otherwise authorized under the provisions of this section.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 5

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly Second Regular Session)

Repeals provision of Missouri Constitution which provides "Separate schools shall be provided for white and colored children, except in cases otherwise provided for by law."

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing section 1(a) of article IX of the constitution of Missouri relating to public schools and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article IX of the constitution of the state of Missouri.

Section 1. Section 1(a), article IX constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 1(a) to read as follows:

Section 1(a). A general diffusion of knowledge and intelligence being essential to the preservation of the rights and liberties of the people, the general assembly shall establish and maintain free public schools for the gratuitous instruction of all persons in this state within ages not in excess of twenty-one years as prescribed by law.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 6

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly Second Regular Session)

Changes authority and jurisdiction of Supreme Court, Courts of Appeal and circuit courts; abolishes all other courts; creates associate circuit judges; amends nonpartisan court plan; amends judges retirement provisions; abolishes constables and St. Louis City prosecuting attorney; municipal courts become divisions of circuit courts.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri an amendment repealing sections 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29(a), 29(b), 29(c)(1), 29(c)(2), 29(d), 29(e), 29(f), 29(g), 30, and 31 of article V of the constitution of Missouri relating to the judicial department and adopting thirty-three new sections in lieu thereof relating to the same subject, with an effective date.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article V of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section A. Sections 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29(a), 29(b), 29(c) (1), 29(c) (2), 29(d), 29(e), 29(f), 29(g), 30, and 31 of article V, constitution of Missouri are repealed and thirty-three new sections enacted in lieu thereof, to be known as sections 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25(a), 25(b), 25(c) (1), 25(c) (2), 25(d), 25(e), 25(f), 25(g), 26, and 27 to read as follows:

Section 1. The judicial power of the state shall be vested in a supreme court, a court of appeals consisting of districts as prescribed by law, and circuit courts.

Section 3. The supreme court shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction in all cases involving the validity of a treaty or statute of the United States, or of a statute or provision of the Constitution of this State, the construction of the revenue laws of this state, the title to any state office and in all cases where the punishment imposed is death or imprisonment for life. The court of appeals shall have general appellate jurisdiction in all cases except those within the exclusive jurisdiction of the supreme court.

Section 4. 1. The supreme court shall have general superintending control over all courts and tribunals. Each district of the court of appeals shall have general superintending control over all courts and tribunals in its jurisdiction. The supreme court and districts of the court of appeals may issue and determine original remedial writs. Supervisory authority over all courts is vested in the supreme court which may make appropriate delegations of this power.

2. The supreme court may appoint a state courts administrator and other staff to aid in the administration of the courts, and it shall appoint a clerk of the supreme court and may appoint other staff to aid in the administration of the business of the supreme court. Each such appointee shall serve at the pleasure of the court. The clerk's and administrator's salary shall be fixed by law. All other appointees shall have salaries fixed by the court within the legislative limits of the appropriation made for that purpose.

3. In the event that six commissioners of the supreme court are not available to sit as a reapportionment commission as provided in sections 2, 3 and 7 of article III of the constitution of this state, a commission composed of six members appointed by the supreme court from among the judges of the court of appeals, shall serve in lieu of the commissioners of the supreme court. No more than two members of any division of the court of appeals shall be appointed to the commission.

Section 5. The supreme court may establish rules relating to practice, procedure and pleading for all courts and administrative tribunals, which shall have the force and effect of law. The rules shall not change substantive rights, or the law relating to evidence, the oral examination of witnesses, juries, the right of trial by jury, or the right of appeal. The court shall publish the rules and fix the day on which they take effect, but no rule shall take effect before six months after its publication. Any rule may be annulled or amended in whole or in part by a law limited to the purpose.

Section 6. The supreme court may make temporary transfers of judicial personnel from one court or district to another as the administration of justice requires, and may establish rules with respect thereto. Any judge shall be eligible to sit temporarily on any court upon assignment by the supreme court or pursuant to supreme court rule.

Section 7. The supreme court may sit in banc or in divisions as the court may determine. Any district of the court of appeals may sit at such places within the district and in divisions as the judges of such district may determine. Each divison of the supreme court or of the court of appeals shall be composed of not less than three judges, at least one of whom shall be a regular judge of the court. A majority of a division shall constitute a quorum thereof, and all orders, judgments, and decrees of a division, as to causes and matters pending before it, shall have the force and effect of those of the court.

Section 8. The judges of the supreme court shall elect from their number a chief justice to preside over the court en banc, and the judges of the court of appeals in each district shall elect from their number a chief judge of the district. The terms of the chief justice and chief judges shall be fixed by the courts over which they preside. The chief justice of the supreme court shall be the chief administrative officer of the judicial system, and subject to the supervisory authority of the supreme court, shall supervise the administration of the courts of this state.

Section 9. A cause in the supreme court shall be transferred to the court en banc when the members of a division are equally divided in opinion, or when the division shall so order, or on application of the losing party when a member of the division dissents from the opinion therein, or pursuant to supreme court rule.

Section 10. Cases pending in the court of appeals shall be transferred to the supreme court when any participating judge dissents from the majority opinion and certifies that he deems said opinion to be contrary to any previous decision of the supreme court or of the court of appeals, or any district of the court of appeals. Cases pending in the Court of Appeals may be transferred to the supreme court by order of the majority of the judges of the participating district of the court of appeals, after opinion, or by order of the supreme court before or after opinion because of the general interest or importance of a question involved in the case, or for the purpose of reexamining the existing law, or pursuant to supreme court rule. The supreme court may finally determine all causes coming to it from the court of appeals, whether by certification, transfer or certiorari, the same as on original appeal.

Section 11. In all proceedings reviewable on appeal by the supreme court or the court of appeals, appeals shall go directly to the court or district having jurisdiction, but want of jurisdiction shall not be ground for dismissal, and the proceeding shall be transferred to the appellate court having jurisdiction. An original action filed in a court lacking jurisdiction or venue shall be transferred to the appropriate court.

Section 12. The opinions of the supreme court and court of appeals and all divisions or districts of said courts shall be in writing and filed in the respective causes, and shall become a part of the records of the court, be available for publication, and shall be public records. The supreme court and the court of appeals may issue memorandum decisions or dispose of a cause by order pursuant to and as authorized by supreme court rule.

Section 13. The court of appeals shall be organized into separate districts, the number, not less than three, geographical boundaries, and territorial jurisdiction of which shall be prescribed by law. Each district of the court of appeals shall be composed of such number of judges, not less than three, as may be provided by law.

Section 14. (a) The circuit courts shall have original jurisdiction over all cases and matters, civil and criminal. Such courts may issue and determine original remedial writs and shall sit at times and places within the circuit as determined by the circuit court.

(b) Procedures for the adjudication of small claims shall be as provided by law.

Section 15. 1. The state shall be divided into convenient circuits of contiguous counties. In each circuit there shall be at least one circuit judge. The circuits may be changed or abolished by law as public convenience and the administration of justice may require, but no judge shall be removed from office during his term by reason of alteration of the geographical boundaries of a circuit. Any circuit or associate circuit judge may temporarily sit in any other circuit at the request of a judge thereof. In circuits having more than one judge, the court may sit in general term or in divisions. The circuit judges of the circuit may make rules for the circuit not inconsistent with the rules of the supreme court.

2. Each circuit shall have such number of circuit judges as provided by law.

3. The circuit and associate circuit judges in each circuit shall select by secret ballot a circuit judge from their number to serve as presiding judge. The presiding judge shall have general administrative authority over the court and its divisions.

4. Personnel to aid in the business of the circuit court shall be selected as provided by law or in accordance with a governmental charter of a political subdivision of this state. Where there is a separate probate division of the circuit court, the judge of the probate division shall, until otherwise provided by law, appoint a clerk and other nonjudical personnel for the probate division.

Section 16. Each county shall have such number of associate circuit judges as provided by law. There shall be at least one resident associate circuit judge in each county. Associate circuit judges shall be selected or elected in each county. In those circuits where the circuit judge is selected under Section 25 of Article 5 of the Constitution the associate circuit judge shall be selected in the same manner. All other associate circuit judges shall be elected in the county in which they are to serve.

Section 17. Associate circuit judges may hear and determine all cases, civil or criminal and all other matters as now provided by law for magistrate or probate judges and may be assigned such additional cases or classes of cases as may be provided by law. In probate matters the associate circuit judge shall have general equitable jurisdiction.

Section 18. All final decisions, findings, rules and orders on any administrative officer or body existing under the Constitution or by law, which are judicial or quasi-judicial and affect private rights, shall be subject to direct review by the courts as provided by law; and such review shall include the determination whether the same are authorized by law, and in cases in which a hearing is required by law, whether the same are supported by competent and substantial evidence upon the whole record. Unless otherwise provided by law, administrative decisions, findings, rules, and orders subject to review under this section or which are otherwise subject to direct judicial review, shall be reviewed in such manner and by such court as the supreme court by rule shall direct and the court so designated shall, in addition to its other jurisdiction, have jurisdiction to hear and determine any such review proceeding.

Section 19. Judges of the supreme court and of the court of appeals shall be selected for terms of twelve years, judges of the circuit court for terms of six years, and associate circuit judges for terms of four years.

Section 20. All judges shall receive as salary the total amount of their present compensation until otherwise provided by law, but no judge's salary shall be diminished during his term of office. No judge shall receive any other or additional compensation for any public service. No supreme, appellate, circuit or associate circuit judge shall practice law or do law business. Judges may receive reasonable traveling and other expenses allowed by law.

Section 21. Judges of the supreme court and of the court of appeals shall have been citizens of the United States for at least fifteen years, and qualified voters of the state for nine years next preceding their selection. Such judges shall be at least thirty years of age. Except as provided by section 6, judges of the court of appeals shall be residents of the court of appeals district in which they serve. Circuit judges shall have been citizens of the United States for at least ten years, and qualified voters of this state three years next preceding their selection, and be not less than thirty years of age and residents of the circuit for at least one year. Associate circuit judges shall be qualified voters of this state and residents of the county, at least twenty-five years old, and have such other qualifications as may be provided by law. Every supreme, appellate, circuit, and associate circuit court judge shall be licensed to practice law in this state.

Section 22. Each district of the court of appeals shall appoint a clerk of the court and other personnel to aid in the administration of the business of the court. Their salaries shall be within the limit of the legislative appropriation for that purpose.

Section 23. Each circuit may have such municipal judges as provided by law and the necessary non-judicial personnel assisting them. The selection, tenure and compensation of such judges and such personnel shall be as provided by law, or in cities having a charter form of government as provided by such charter. A municipal judge may be a part-time judge except where prohibited by ordinance or charter of the municipality. A municipal judge shall hear and determine violations of municipal ordinances in one or more municipalities. Until otherwise provided by law, or supreme court rule, the practice, procedure, right to and method of appeal before and from municipal judges shall be as heretofore provided with respect to municipal courts. Associate circuit judges shall hear and determine violations of municipal ordinances in any municipality with a population of under four hundred thousand within the circuit for which a municipal judge is not provided, or upon request of the governing body of any municipality with a population of under four hundred thousand within the circuit.

Section 24. 1. There shall be a commission on retirement, removal, and discipline, composed of two citizens who are not members of the bar, appointed by the governor, two lawyers appointed by the board of governors of The Missouri Bar, one judge of the court of appeals to be selected by a majority of the judges of the court of appeals, and one judge of the circuit courts to be selected by a majority of the circuit judges of this state. The commission shall receive and investigate all requests and suggestions for retirement for disability, and all complaints concerning misconduct of all judges, members of the judicial commissions, and of this commission. No member of the commission shall participate in any matter in which he has a personal interest. If a member is disqualified to participate in any matter before the commission, the respective selecting authority shall select a substitute to sit during such disqualification. Of the members first appointed, each of the citizen members shall be appointed for a term of two years and each of the lawyer members for a term of four years, and each of the judge members for a term of six years; and thereafter members shall be appointed for a term of six years.

2. Upon recommendation by an affirmative vote of at least four members of the commission, the supreme court en banc shall retire from office any judge or any member of any judicial commission or any member of this commission who is found to be unable to discharge the duties of his office with efficiency because of permanent sickness or physical or mental infirmity. A judge, except a municipal judge so retired shall receive one-half of his regular compensation during the remainder of his term of office. Where a judge subject to retirement under other provisions of law, has been retired under the provisions of this section, the time during which he was retired for disability under this section shall count as time served for purposes of retirement under other provisions of this Constitution or of law.

3. Upon recommendation by an affirmative vote of at least four members of the commission, the supreme court en banc, upon concurring with such recommendation, shall remove, suspend, discipline or reprimand any judge of any court or any member of any judicial commission or of this commission, for the commission of a crime, or for misconduct, habitual drunkeness, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office, incompetency or any offense involving moral turpitude, or oppression in office. No action taken under this section shall be a bar to or prevent any other action authorized by law.

4. A judge is disqualified from acting as a judicial officer while there is pending an indictment or information charging him in any court in the United States with a crime punishable as a felony under the laws of Missouri or the United States, or a recommendation to the supreme court by the commission for his removal, or retirement, or after articles of impeachment have been voted by the house of representatives. A judge so disqualified shall continue to receive his salary.

5. On recommendation of the commission, the supreme court shall suspend a judge from office without salary when in any court in the United States he pleads guilty or no contest to, or is found guilty of, an offense punishable as a felony under the laws of Missouri or the United States, or of any other offense that involves moral turpitude. If he is suspended and his conviction becomes final the supreme court shall remove him from office. If his conviction is reversed and he is discharged from that charge by order of court or of the prosecuting officer, whether without further trial or after further trial and a finding of not guilty, his suspension terminates and he shall be paid his salary for the period of suspension.

6. Recommendations to the supreme court by the commission shall be made only after notice and hearing. Rules for the administration of this section and for the procedures thereunder shall be prescribed by supreme court rule unless otherwise provided by law.

7. Members of the commission shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

8. Additional duties shall not be imposed by law or supreme court rule upon the commission on retirement, removal and discipline.

Section 25(a). Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of judge of any of the following courts of this state, to wit: The supreme court, the court of appeals, or in the office of circuit or associate circuit judge within the city of St. Louis and Jackson county, the governor shall fill such vacancy by appointing one of three persons possessing the qualifications for such office, who shall be nominated and whose names shall be submitted to the governor by a nonpartisan judicial commission established and organized as hereinafter provided. If the governor fails to appoint any of the nominees within sixty days after the list of nominees is submitted, the nonpartisan judicial commission making the nomination shall appoint one of the nominees to fill the vacancy.

Section 25(b). At any general election the qualified voters of any judicial circuit outside the city of St. Louis and Jackson county, may by a majority of those voting on the question elect to have the circuit and associate circuit judges appointed by the governor in the manner provided for the appointment of judges to the courts designated in section 25(a), or, outside the city of St. Louis and Jackson county, to discontinue any such plan. The question of whether the circuit and associate circuit judges of any such circuit shall be so appointed shall be submitted to the voters of each county in any circuit at the next general election whenever petitions therefor signed by ten percent of the legal voters of each county in the circuit voting for the office of governor at the last election thereof are filed in the office of secretary of state at least 90 days before such election. The question shall be presented as follows: "Shall the circuit and associate circuit judges of the .... judicial circuit be selected as provided in Section 25 of Article V of the Missouri Constitution? Yes ☐ No ☐ (Mark One)". The provisions of law with respect to initiative petitions shall apply insofar as applicable relative to the certification of the petitions to local officials by the secretary of state, the preparation, printing, publishing and distribution of the judicial ballots required by this section, the holding and conduct of the election, and the counting, canvassing, return, certification, and proclamation of the votes. If a majority of the votes upon the question are cast in favor of the adoption in each county comprising the circuit, the nonpartisan selection of the circuit and associate judges shall be adopted in the circuit. The question of selection of circuit and associate circuit judges in the manner provided in Section 25(a) shall not be submitted more often than once every four years. If any judicial circuit adopts the nonpartisan selection of the circuit and associate circuit judges under the provisions of this section, the question of its discontinuance shall not be submitted more often than once every four years and may be submitted at any general election and shall be proceeded upon insofar as may be applicable in like manner as prescribed in this section for the original adoption of the plan.

The petition shall be in substantially the following form:

To the Honorable Officials in general charge of elections for the county of ..... for the state of Missouri:

We, the undersigned, legal voters of the state of Missouri, and of the county of ....., respectfully demand that the question of the discontinuance of the nonpartisan selection of the circuit and associate circuit judges be submitted to the legal voters of the ..... judicial circuit, for their approval or rejection, at the general election to be held on the ..... day of ....., A.D. 19 .....

The ballot shall provide as follows:

"Shall the nonpartisan appointment by the governor of the circuit and associate circuit judges be discontinued in the ..... judicial circuit?

☐ Yes
☐ No

(Place an "X" in one square)

If a majority of the votes upon the question are cast in favor of such discontinuance in each county comprising the circuit, the nonpartisan selection of the circuit and associate circuit judges shall be discontinued in such judicial circuit.

If the nonpartisan selection of the judges be discontinued in any such judicial circuit, other than the city of St. Louis and Jackson county, the selection of such judges therein shall be made as otherwise prescribed by law. This section shall be self-enforcing.

Section 25(c)(1). Each judge appointed pursuant to the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) shall hold office for a term ending December thirty-first following the next general election after the expiration of twelve months in the office. Any judge holding office, or elected thereto, at the time of the election by which the provisions of section 25(a)-(g) become applicable to his office, shall, unless removed for cause, remain in office for the term to which he would have been entitled had the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) not become applicable to his office. Not less than sixty days prior to the holding of the general election next preceding the expiration of his term of office, any judge whose office is subject to the provisions of section 25(a)-(g) may file in the office of the secretary of state a declaration of candidacy for election to succeed himself. If a declaration is not so filed by any judge, the vacancy resulting from the expiration of his term of office shall be filled by appointment as herein provided. If such declaration is filed, his name shall be submitted at said next general election to the voters eligible to vote within the state if his office is that of judge of the supreme court, or within the geographic jurisdictional limit of the district where he serves if his office is that of a judge of the court of appeals, or within the circuit if his office is that of circuit judge, or within the county if his office is that of associate circuit judge on a separate judicial ballot, without party designation, reading:

"Shall Judge .....
(Here the name of the judge shall be inserted?
of the .....
(Here the title of the court shall be inserted)
be retain in office? Yes ☐ No ☐
(mark an X in the box you prefer)"

If a majority of those voting on the question vote against retaining him in office, upon the expiration of his term of office, a vacancy shall exist which shall be filled by appointment as provided in section 25(a); otherwise, said judge shall, unless removed for cause, remain in office for the number of years after December thirty-first following such election as is provided for the full term of such office, and at the expiration of each such term shall be eligible for retention in office by election in the manner here prescribed.

Section 25(c) (2). Whenever a declaration of candidacy for election to succeed himself is filed by any judge or associate circuit judge under the provisions of this section, the secretary of state shall not less than thirty days before the election certify the name of said judge or associate circuit judge and the official title of his office to the clerks of the county courts, and to the boards of election commissioners in counties or cities having such boards, or to such other officials as may hereafter be provided by law, of all counties and cities wherein the question of retention of such judge in office is to be submitted to the voters, and, until legislation shall be expressly provided otherwise therefor, the judicial ballots required by this section shall be prepared, printed, published and distributed, and the election upon the question of retention of such judge in office shall be conducted and the votes counted, canvassed, returned, certified and proclaimed by such public officials in such manner as is now provided by the statutory law governing voting upon measures proposed by the initiative.

Section 25(d). Nonpartisan judicial commissions whose duty it shall be to nominate and submit to the governor names of persons for appointment as provided by sections 25(a)-(g) are hereby established and shall be organized on the following bases: For vacancies in the office of judge of the supreme court or of the court of appeals, there shall be one such commission, to be known as "The Appellate Judicial Commission"; for vacancies in the office of circuit judge or associate circuit judge of any circuit court subject to the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) there shall be one such commission, to be known as "The ... Circuit Judicial Commission", for each judicial circuit which shall be subject to the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g); the appellate judicial commission shall consist of a judge of the supreme court selected by the members of the supreme court, and the remaining members shall be chosen in the following manner: The members of the bar of this state residing in each court of appeals district shall elect one of their number to serve as a member of said commission, and the governor shall appoint one citizen, not a member of the bar, from among the residents of each court of appeals district, to serve as a member of said commission, and the members of the commission shall select one of their number to serve as chairman. Each circuit judicial commission shall consist of five members, one of whom shall be the chief judge of the district of the court of appeals within which the judicial circuit of such commission, or the major portion of the population of said circuit is situated and the remaining four members shall be chosen in the following manner: The members of the bar of this state residing in the judicial circuit of such commission shall elect two of their number to serve as members of said commission, and the governor shall appoint two citizens, not members of the bar, from among the residents of said judicial circuit to serve as members of said commission, the members of the commission shall select one of their number to serve as chairman; and the terms of office of the members of such commission shall be fixed by law, but no law shall increase or diminish the term of any member then in office. No member of any such commission other than a judge shall hold any public office, and no member shall hold any official position in a political party. Every such commission may act only by the concurrence of a majority of its members. The members of such commission shall receive no salary or other compensation for their services but they shall receive their necessary traveling and other expenses incurred while actually engaged in the discharge of their official duties. All such commissions shall be administered, and all elections provided for under this section shall be held and regulated, under such rules as the supreme court shall promulgate.

Section 25(e). All expenses incurred in administering sections 25(a)-(g), when approved by the supreme court, shall be paid out of the state treasury. The supreme court shall certify such expense to the commissioner of administration, who shall draw his warrant therefor payable out of funds not otherwise appropriated.

Section 25(f). No judge of any court in this state, appointed to or retained in office in the manner prescribed in sections 25(a)-(g), shall directly or indirectly make any contribution to or hold any office in a political party or organization, or take part in any political campaign.

Section 25(g). All of the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) shall be self-enforcing except those as to which action by the general assembly may be required.

Section 26. 1. All judges other than municipal judges shall retire at the age of seventy years, except as provided in the schedule to this article, under a retirement plan provided by law.

2. All judges may retire at an earlier age authorized by law and may participate in a retirement plan provided by law.

3. Any retired judge, associate circuit judge or commissioner, with his consent, may be assigned by the supreme court as a senior judge to any court in this state or as a special commissioner. When serving as a senior judge he shall have the same powers as an active judge.

SCHEDULE

Section 27. Except as otherwise provided in this article, the effective date of this article shall be January 2, 1979.

1. All judges elected in 1978 shall be sworn into office on January 1, 1979.

2. All magistrate courts, probate courts, courts of common pleas, the St. Louis court of criminal correction, and municipal corporation courts shall continue to exist until the effective date of this article at which time said courts shall cease to exist. When such courts cease to exist:

a. The jurisdiction of magistrate courts shall be transferred to the circuit court of the circuit and such courts shall become divisions of the circuit court.

b. The jurisdiction of probate courts within the circuit shall be transferred to the circuit court and such courts shall become divisions of the circuit court.

c. The jurisdiction of St. Louis court of criminal correction and all courts of common pleas shall be transferred to the circuit court for the respective circuit and such courts shall become divisions of the circuit court. The provisions of law relating to practice and procedure of the courts of common pleas shall, until otherwise changed by law, remain in effect and the provision of law relating to practice, procedure, venue, jurisdiction, selection of jurors, election of clerk and provisions for deputies and all other provisions of law relating to the Hannibal Court of Common Pleas shall until otherwise changed by law, remain in effect as to such division of the Marion county circuit court and said division shall be known as division number 2 of the Marion county circuit court instead of the Hannibal Court of Common Pleas.

d. The jurisdiction of municipal courts shall be transferred to the circuit court of the circuit in which such municipality or major geographical area thereof shall be located and, such courts shall become divisons of the circuit court. When such courts cease to exist, all records, papers and files shall be transferred to the circuit court which may designate the place where such records may be maintained.

e. Divisions of the circuit court created by this subsection may be changed hereafter by law.

f. After the effective date of this article, in counties with a population of over thirty thousand and less than sixty-five

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Missouri

To be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Missouri at a special election to be held on Tuesday, the Third day of August, 1976.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 1

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly First Regular Session)

Amends Section 7, Article X, Missouri Constitution, by deleting twenty-five year limitation on laws granting partial tax relief for lands devoted exclusively to forestry purposes.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing section 7 of article X of the Constitution of Missouri relating to taxation and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article X of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section 1. Section 7, article X constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 7, to read as follows:

Section 7. For the purpose of encouraging forestry when lands are devoted exclusively to such purpose, and the reconstruction, redevelopment, and rehabilitation of obsolete, decadent, or blighted areas, the general assembly by general law may provide for such partial relief from taxation of the lands devoted to any such purpose, and of the improvements thereon, by such method or methods, for such period or periods of time, not exceeding twenty-five years in any instance, and upon such terms, conditions, and restrictions as it may prescribe; provided, however, that in the case of forest lands, the limitation of twenty-five years herein described shall not apply.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 2

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly First Regular Session)

Repeals constitutional provision which presently requires that each election ballot be numbered and that such number be recorded on list of voters opposite voter's name.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing section 3 of Article VIII of the constitution of Missouri relating to elections and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to Article VIII of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section 1. Section 3. Article VIII constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 3, to read as follows:

Section 3. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by any mechanical method prescribed by law. All election officers shall be sworn or affirmed not to disclose how any voter voted; provided, that in cases of contested elections, grand jury investigations and in the trial of all civil or criminal cases in which the violation of any law relating to elections, including nominating elections, is under investigation or at issue, such officers may be required to testify and the ballots cast may be opened, examined, counted, and received as evidence.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 3

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly Second Regular Session)

Authorizes counties to issue utility or airport revenue bonds with voter approval; authorizes counties and municipalities to issue industrial development revenue bonds without voter approval.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing Section 27 of Article VI of the constitution of Missouri relating to the indebtedness of certain political subdivisions and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to Article VI of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section 1. Section 27, Article VI, constitution of Missouri, is repealed and three new sections adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as sections 27(a), 27(b), and 27(c), to read as follows:

Section 27(a). Any county, city or incorporated town or village in this state, by vote of a majority of the qualified electors thereof voting thereon, may issue and sell its negotiable interest bearing revenue bonds for the purpose of paying all or part of the cost of purchasing, constructing, extending or improving any of the following: (1) revenue producing water, gas or electric light works, heating or power plants; or (2) airports; to be owned exclusively by the county, city or incorporated town or village, the cost of operation and maintenance and the principal and interest of the bonds to be payable solely from the revenues derived by the county, city or incorporated town or village from the operation of the utility or airport.

Section 27(b). Any county, city or incorporated town or village in this state, by a majority vote of the governing body thereof, may issue and sell its negotiable interest bearing revenue bonds for the purpose of paying all or part of the cost of purchasing, constructing, extending or improving any facility to be leased or otherwise disposed of pursuant to law to private persons or corporations for manufacturing, commercial, warehousing and industrial development purposes, including the real estate, buildings, fixtures and machinery. The cost of operation and maintenance and the principal and interest of the bonds shall be payable solely from the revenues derived by the county, city, or incorporated town or village from the lease or other disposal of the facility.

Section 27(c). As used in Article VI, Sections 27(a) and 27(b), the term "revenue bonds" means bonds neither the interest nor the principal of which is an indebtedness or obligation of the issuing county, city or incorporated town or village.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 4

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly Second Regular Session)

Amends Missouri Constitution to authorize legislature to rescind administrative rules and regulations of agencies by concurrent resolution without presentation to the governor.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing Section 8 of article IV of the constitution of Missouri relating to the duty of the governor in regard to concurrent resolution and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to Article IV of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section 1. Section 8, article IV, constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 8, to read as follows:

Section 8. Administrative rules and regulations other than those which affect only the internal operation of the agency adopting them and other than those promulgated under authority granted by the constitution may be rescinded by concurrent resolution of both houses which shall be effective immediately upon the adoption of such resolution without presentation to the governor. Every other resolution to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary, except on questions of adjournment, going into joint session, and of amending this constitution, shall be presented to the governor, and before the same shall take effect, shall be proceeded upon in the same manner as in the case of a bill; provided, that no resolution shall have the effect to repeal, extend, or amend any law except as otherwise authorized under the provisions of this section.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 5

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly Second Regular Session)

Repeals provision of Missouri Constitution which provides "Separate schools shall be provided for white and colored children, except in cases otherwise provided for by law."

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment repealing section 1(a) of article IX of the constitution of Missouri relating to public schools and adopting one new section in lieu thereof relating to the same subject.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article IX of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section 1. Section 1(a), article IX constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 1(a) to read as follows:

Section 1(a). A general diffusion of knowledge and intelligence being essential to the preservation of the rights and liberties of the people, the general assembly shall establish and maintain free public schools for the gratuitous instruction of all persons in this state within ages not in excess of twenty-one years as prescribed by law.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 6

(Submitted by the 78th General Assembly Second Regular Session)

Changes authority and jurisdiction of Supreme Court, Courts of Appeal and circuit courts; abolishes all other courts; creates associate circuit judges; amends nonpartisan court plan; amends judges retirement provisions; abolishes constables and St. Louis City prosecuting attorney; municipal courts become divisions of circuit courts.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri an amendment repealing sections 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29(a), 29(b), 29(c)(1), 29(c)(2), 29(d), 29(e), 29(f), 29(g), 30, and 31 of article V of the constitution of Missouri relating to the judicial department and adopting thirty-three new sections in lieu thereof relating to the same subject, with an effective date.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein:

That at the next general election to be held in the state of Missouri, on Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1976, or at a special election to be called by the governor for that purpose, there is hereby submitted to the qualified voters of this state, for adoption or rejection, the following amendment to article V of the constitution of the state of Missouri:

Section A. Sections 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29(a), 29(b), 29(c) (1), 29(c) (2), 29(d), 29(e), 29(f), 29(g), 30, and 31 of article V, constitution of Missouri are repealed and thirty-three new sections enacted in lieu thereof, to be known as sections 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25(a), 25(b), 25(c) (1), 25(c) (2), 25(d), 25(e), 25(f), 25(g), 26, and 27 to read as follows:

Section 1. The judicial power of the state shall be vested in a supreme court, a court of appeals consisting of districts as prescribed by law, and circuit courts.

Section 3. The supreme court shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction in all cases involving the validity of a treaty or statute of the United States, or of a statute or provision of the Constitution of this State, the construction of the revenue laws of this state, the title to any state office and in all cases where the punishment imposed is death or imprisonment for life. The court of appeals shall have general appellate jurisdiction in all cases except those within the exclusive jurisdiction of the supreme court.

Section 4. 1. The supreme court shall have general superintending control over all courts and tribunals. Each district of the court of appeals shall have general superintending control over all courts and tribunals in its jurisdiction. The supreme court and districts of the court of appeals may issue and determine original remedial writs. Supervisory authority over all courts is vested in the supreme court which may make appropriate delegations of this power.

2. The supreme court may appoint a state courts administrator and other staff to aid in the administration of the courts, and it shall appoint a clerk of the supreme court and may appoint other staff to aid in the administration of the business of the supreme court. Each such appointee shall serve at the pleasure of the court. The clerk's and administrator's salary shall be fixed by law. All other appointees shall have salaries fixed by the court within the legislative limits of the appropriation made for that purpose.

3. In the event that six commissioners of the supreme court are not available to sit as a reapportionment commission as provided in sections 2, 3 and 7 of article III of the constitution of this state, a commission composed of six members appointed by the supreme court from among the judges of the court of appeals, shall serve in lieu of the commissioners of the supreme court. No more than two members of any division of the court of appeals shall be appointed to the commission.

Section 5. The supreme court may establish rules relating to practice, procedure and pleading for all courts and administrative tribunals, which shall have the force and effect of law. The rules shall not change substantive rights, or the law relating to evidence, the oral examination of witnesses, juries, the right of trial by jury, or the right of appeal. The court shall publish the rules and fix the day on which they take effect, but no rule shall take effect before six months after its publication. Any rule may be annulled or amended in whole or in part by a law limited to the purpose.

Section 6. The supreme court may make temporary transfers of judicial personnel from one court or district to another as the administration of justice requires, and may establish rules with respect thereto. Any judge shall be eligible to sit temporarily on any court upon assignment by the supreme court or pursuant to supreme court rule.

Section 7. The supreme court may sit in banc or in divisions as the court may determine. Any district of the court of appeals may sit at such places within the district and in divisions as the judges of such district may determine. Each divison of the supreme court or of the court of appeals shall be composed of not less than three judges, at least one of whom shall be a regular judge of the court. A majority of a division shall constitute a quorum thereof, and all orders, judgments, and decrees of a division, as to causes and matters pending before it, shall have the force and effect of those of the court.

Section 8. The judges of the supreme court shall elect from their number a chief justice to preside over the court en banc, and the judges of the court of appeals in each district shall elect from their number a chief judge of the district. The terms of the chief justice and chief judges shall be fixed by the courts over which they preside. The chief justice of the supreme court shall be the chief administrative officer of the judicial system, and subject to the supervisory authority of the supreme court, shall supervise the administration of the courts of this state.

Section 9. A cause in the supreme court shall be transferred to the court en banc when the members of a division are equally divided in opinion, or when the division shall so order, or on application of the losing party when a member of the division dissents from the opinion therein, or pursuant to supreme court rule.

Section 10. Cases pending in the court of appeals shall be transferred to the supreme court when any participating judge dissents from the majority opinion and certifies that he deems said opinion to be contrary to any previous decision of the supreme court or of the court of appeals, or any district of the court of appeals. Cases pending in the Court of Appeals may be transferred to the supreme court by order of the majority of the judges of the participating district of the court of appeals, after opinion, or by order of the supreme court before or after opinion because of the general interest or importance of a question involved in the case, or for the purpose of reexamining the existing law, or pursuant to supreme court rule. The supreme court may finally determine all causes coming to it from the court of appeals, whether by certification, transfer or certiorari, the same as on original appeal.

Section 11. In all proceedings reviewable on appeal by the supreme court or the court of appeals, appeals shall go directly to the court or district having jurisdiction, but want of jurisdiction shall not be ground for dismissal, and the proceeding shall be transferred to the appellate court having jurisdiction. An original action filed in a court lacking jurisdiction or venue shall be transferred to the appropriate court.

Section 12. The opinions of the supreme court and court of appeals and all divisions or districts of said courts shall be in writing and filed in the respective causes, and shall become a part of the records of the court, be available for publication, and shall be public records. The supreme court and the court of appeals may issue memorandum decisions or dispose of a cause by order pursuant to and as authorized by supreme court rule.

Section 13. The court of appeals shall be organized into separate districts, the number, not less than three, geographical boundaries, and territorial jurisdiction of which shall be prescribed by law. Each district of the court of appeals shall be composed of such number of judges, not less than three, as may be provided by law.

Section 14. (a) The circuit courts shall have original jurisdiction over all cases and matters, civil and criminal. Such courts may issue and determine original remedial writs and shall sit at times and places within the circuit as determined by the circuit court.

(b) Procedures for the adjudication of small claims shall be as provided by law.

Section 15. 1. The state shall be divided into convenient circuits of contiguous counties. In each circuit there shall be at least one circuit judge. The circuits may be changed or abolished by law as public convenience and the administration of justice may require, but no judge shall be removed from office during his term by reason of alteration of the geographical boundaries of a circuit. Any circuit or associate circuit judge may temporarily sit in any other circuit at the request of a judge thereof. In circuits having more than one judge, the court may sit in general term or in divisions. The circuit judges of the circuit may make rules for the circuit not inconsistent with the rules of the supreme court.

2. Each circuit shall have such number of circuit judges as provided by law.

3. The circuit and associate circuit judges in each circuit shall select by secret ballot a circuit judge from their number to serve as presiding judge. The presiding judge shall have general administrative authority over the court and its divisions.

4. Personnel to aid in the business of the circuit court shall be selected as provided by law or in accordance with a governmental charter of a political subdivision of this state. Where there is a separate probate division of the circuit court, the judge of the probate division shall, until otherwise provided by law, appoint a clerk and other nonjudical personnel for the probate division.

Section 16. Each county shall have such number of associate circuit judges as provided by law. There shall be at least one resident associate circuit judge in each county. Associate circuit judges shall be selected or elected in each county. In those circuits where the circuit judge is selected under Section 25 of Article 5 of the Constitution the associate circuit judge shall be selected in the same manner. All other associate circuit judges shall be elected in the county in which they are to serve.

Section 17. Associate circuit judges may hear and determine all cases, civil or criminal and all other matters as now provided by law for magistrate or probate judges and may be assigned such additional cases or classes of cases as may be provided by law. In probate matters the associate circuit judge shall have general equitable jurisdiction.

Section 18. All final decisions, findings, rules and orders on any administrative officer or body existing under the Constitution or by law, which are judicial or quasi-judicial and affect private rights, shall be subject to direct review by the courts as provided by law; and such review shall include the determination whether the same are authorized by law, and in cases in which a hearing is required by law, whether the same are supported by competent and substantial evidence upon the whole record. Unless otherwise provided by law, administrative decisions, findings, rules, and orders subject to review under this section or which are otherwise subject to direct judicial review, shall be reviewed in such manner and by such court as the supreme court by rule shall direct and the court so designated shall, in addition to its other jurisdiction, have jurisdiction to hear and determine any such review proceeding.

Section 19. Judges of the supreme court and of the court of appeals shall be selected for terms of twelve years, judges of the circuit court for terms of six years, and associate circuit judges for terms of four years.

Section 20. All judges shall receive as salary the total amount of their present compensation until otherwise provided by law, but no judge's salary shall be diminished during his term of office. No judge shall receive any other or additional compensation for any public service. No supreme, appellate, circuit or associate circuit judge shall practice law or do law business. Judges may receive reasonable traveling and other expenses allowed by law.

Section 21. Judges of the supreme court and of the court of appeals shall have been citizens of the United States for at least fifteen years, and qualified voters of the state for nine years next preceding their selection. Such judges shall be at least thirty years of age. Except as provided by section 6, judges of the court of appeals shall be residents of the court of appeals district in which they serve. Circuit judges shall have been citizens of the United States for at least ten years, and qualified voters of this state three years next preceding their selection, and be not less than thirty years of age and residents of the circuit for at least one year. Associate circuit judges shall be qualified voters of this state and residents of the county, at least twenty-five years old, and have such other qualifications as may be provided by law. Every supreme, appellate, circuit, and associate circuit court judge shall be licensed to practice law in this state.

Section 22. Each district of the court of appeals shall appoint a clerk of the court and other personnel to aid in the administration of the business of the court. Their salaries shall be within the limit of the legislative appropriation for that purpose.

Section 23. Each circuit may have such municipal judges as provided by law and the necessary non-judicial personnel assisting them. The selection, tenure and compensation of such judges and such personnel shall be as provided by law, or in cities having a charter form of government as provided by such charter. A municipal judge may be a part-time judge except where prohibited by ordinance or charter of the municipality. A municipal judge shall hear and determine violations of municipal ordinances in one or more municipalities. Until otherwise provided by law, or supreme court rule, the practice, procedure, right to and method of appeal before and from municipal judges shall be as heretofore provided with respect to municipal courts. Associate circuit judges shall hear and determine violations of municipal ordinances in any municipality with a population of under four hundred thousand within the circuit for which a municipal judge is not provided, or upon request of the governing body of any municipality with a population of under four hundred thousand within the circuit.

Section 24. 1. There shall be a commission on retirement, removal, and discipline, composed of two citizens who are not members of the bar, appointed by the governor, two lawyers appointed by the board of governors of The Missouri Bar, one judge of the court of appeals to be selected by a majority of the judges of the court of appeals, and one judge of the circuit courts to be selected by a majority of the circuit judges of this state. The commission shall receive and investigate all requests and suggestions for retirement for disability, and all complaints concerning misconduct of all judges, members of the judicial commissions, and of this commission. No member of the commission shall participate in any matter in which he has a personal interest. If a member is disqualified to participate in any matter before the commission, the respective selecting authority shall select a substitute to sit during such disqualification. Of the members first appointed, each of the citizen members shall be appointed for a term of two years and each of the lawyer members for a term of four years, and each of the judge members for a term of six years; and thereafter members shall be appointed for a term of six years.

2. Upon recommendation by an affirmative vote of at least four members of the commission, the supreme court en banc shall retire from office any judge or any member of any judicial commission or any member of this commission who is found to be unable to discharge the duties of his office with efficiency because of permanent sickness or physical or mental infirmity. A judge, except a municipal judge so retired shall receive one-half of his regular compensation during the remainder of his term of office. Where a judge subject to retirement under other provisions of law, has been retired under the provisions of this section, the time during which he was retired for disability under this section shall count as time served for purposes of retirement under other provisions of this Constitution or of law.

3. Upon recommendation by an affirmative vote of at least four members of the commission, the supreme court en banc, upon concurring with such recommendation, shall remove, suspend, discipline or reprimand any judge of any court or any member of any judicial commission or of this commission, for the commission of a crime, or for misconduct, habitual drunkeness, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office, incompetency or any offense involving moral turpitude, or oppression in office. No action taken under this section shall be a bar to or prevent any other action authorized by law.

4. A juage is disqualified from acting as a judicial officer while there is pending an indictment or information charging him in any court in the United States with a crime punishable as a felony under the laws of Missouri or the United States, or a recommendation to the supreme court by the commission for his removal, or retirement, or after articles of impeachment have been voted by the house of representatives. A judge so disqualified shall continue to receive his salary.

5. On recommendation of the commission, the supreme court shall suspend a judge from office without salary when in any court in the United States he pleads guilty or no contest to, or is found guilty of, an offense punishable as a felony under the laws of Missouri or the United States, or of any other offense that involves moral turpitude. If he is suspended and his conviction becomes final the supreme court shall remove him from office. If his conviction is reversed and he is discharged from that charge by order of court or of the prosecuting officer, whether without further trial or after further trial and a finding of not guilty, his suspension terminates and he shall be paid his salary for the period of suspension.

6. Recommendations to the supreme court by the commission shall be made only after notice and hearing. Rules for the administration of this section and for the procedures thereunder shall be prescribed by supreme court rule unless otherwise provided by law.

7. Members of the commission shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

8. Additional duties shall not be imposed by law or supreme court rule upon the commission on retirement, removal and discipline.

Section 25(a). Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of judge of any of the following courts of this state, to wit: The supreme court, the court of appeals, or in the office of circuit or associate circuit judge within the city of St. Louis and Jackson county, the governor shall fill such vacancy by appointing one of three persons possessing the qualifications for such office, who shall be nominated and whose names shall be submitted to the governor by a nonpartisan judicial commission established and organized as hereinafter provided. If the governor fails to appoint any of the nominees within sixty days after the list of nominees is submitted, the nonpartisan judicial commission making the nomination shall appoint one of the nominees to fill the vacancy.

Section 25(b). At any general election the qualified voters of any judicial circuit outside the city of St. Louis and Jackson county, may by a majority of those voting on the question elect to have the circuit and associate circuit judges appointed by the governor in the manner provided for the appointment of judges to the courts designated in section 25(a), or, outside the city of St. Louis and Jackson county, to discontinue any such plan. The question of whether the circuit and associate circuit judges of any such circuit shall be so appointed shall be submitted to the voters of each county in any circuit at the next general election whenever petitions therefor signed by ten percent of the legal voters of each county in the circuit voting for the office of governor at the last election thereof are filed in the office of secretary of state at least 90 days before such election. The question shall be presented as follows: "Shall the circuit and associate circuit judges of the . . . . judicial circuit be selected as provided in Section 25 of Article V of the Missouri Constitution? Yes ☐ No ☐ (Mark One)". The provisions of law with respect to initiative petitions shall apply insofar as applicable relative to the certification of the petitions to local officials by the secretary of state, the preparation, printing, publishing and distribution of the judicial ballots required by this section, the holding and conduct of the election, and the counting, canvassing, return, certification, and proclamation of the votes. If a majority of the votes upon the question are cast in favor of the adoption in each county comprising the circuit, the nonpartisan selection of the circuit and associate judges shall be adopted in the circuit. The question of selection of circuit and associate circuit judges in the manner provided in Section 25(a) shall not be submitted more often than once every four years. If any judicial circuit adopts the nonpartisan selection of the circuit and associate circuit judges under the provisions of this section, the question of its discontinuance shall not be submitted more often than once every four years and may be submitted at any general election and shall be proceeded upon insofar as may be applicable in like manner as prescribed in this section for the original adoption of the plan.

The petition shall be in substantially the following form:

To the Honorable Officials in general charge of elections for the county of . . . . . for the state of Missouri:

We, the undersigned, legal voters of the state of Missouri, and of the county of . . . . . , respectfully demand that the question of the discontinuance of the nonpartisan selection of the circuit and associate circuit judges be submitted to the legal voters of the . . . . . judicial circuit, for their approval or rejection, at the general election to be held on the . . . . . day of . . . . . , A.D. 19 . . . . . .

The ballot shall provide as follows:

"Shall the nonpartisan appointment by the governor of the circuit and associate circuit judges be discontinued in the . . . . . judicial circuit?

☐ Yes
☐ No

(Place an "X" in one square)

If a majority of the votes upon the question are cast in favor of such discontinuance in each county comprising the circuit, the nonpartisan selection of the circuit and associate circuit judges shall be discontinued in such judicial circuit.

If the nonpartisan selection of the judges be discontinued in any such judicial circuit, other than the city of St. Louis and Jackson county, the selection of such judges therein shall be made as otherwise prescribed by law. This section shall be self-enforcing.

Section 25(c)(1). Each judge appointed pursuant to the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) shall hold office for a term ending December thirty-first following the next general election after the expiration of twelve months in the office. Any judge holding office, or elected thereto, at the time of the election by which the provisions of section 25(a)-(g) become applicable to his office, shall, unless removed for cause, remain in office for the term to which he would have been entitled had the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) not become applicable to his office. Not less than sixty days prior to the holding of the general election next preceding the expiration of his term of office, any judge whose office is subject to the provisions of section 25(a)-(g) may file in the office of the secretary of state a declaration of candidacy for election to succeed himself. If a declaration is not so filed by any judge, the vacancy resulting from the expiration of his term of office shall be filled by appointment as herein provided. If such declaration is filed, his name shall be submitted at said next general election to the voters eligible to vote within the state if his office is that of judge of the supreme court, or within the geographic jurisdictional limit of the district where he serves if his office is that of a judge of the court of appeals, or within the circuit if his office is that of circuit judge, or within the county if his office is that of associate circuit judge on a separate judicial ballot, without party designation, reading:

"Shall Judge .....
(Here the name of the judge shall be inserted?
of the .....
(Here the title of the court shall be inserted)
be retain in office? Yes ☐ No ☐
(mark an X in the box you prefer)"

If a majority of those voting on the question vote against retaining him in office, upon the expiration of his term of office, a vacancy shall exist which shall be filled by appointment as provided in section 25(a); otherwise, said judge shall, unless removed for cause, remain in office for the number of years after December thirty-first following such election as is provided for the full term of such office, and at the expiration of each such term shall be eligible for retention in office by election in the manner here prescribed.

Section 25(c) (2). Whenever a declaration of candidacy for election to succeed himself is filed by any judge or associate circuit judge under the provisions of this section, the secretary of state shall not less than thirty days before the election certify the name of said judge or associate circuit judge and the official title of his office to the clerks of the county courts, and to the boards of election commissioners in counties or cities having such boards, or to such other officials as may hereafter be provided by law, of all counties and cities wherein the question of retention of such judge in office is to be submitted to the voters, and, until legislation shall be expressly provided otherwise therefor, the judicial ballots required by this section shall be prepared, printed, published and distributed, and the election upon the question of retention of such judge in office shall be conducted and the votes counted, canvassed, returned, certified and proclaimed by such public officials in such manner as is now provided by the statutory law governing voting upon measures proposed by the initiative.

Section 25(d). Nonpartisan judicial commissions whose duty it shall be to nominate and submit to the governor names of persons for appointment as provided by sections 25(a)-(g) are hereby established and shall be organized on the following bases: For vacancies in the office of judge of the supreme court or of the court of appeals, there shall be one such commission, to be known as "The Appellate Judicial Commission"; for vacancies in the office of circuit judge or associate circuit judge of any circuit court subject to the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) there shall be one such commission, to be known as "The . . . . Circuit Judicial Commission", for each judicial circuit which shall be subject to the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g); the appellate judicial commission shall consist of a judge of the supreme court selected by the members of the supreme court, and the remaining members shall be chosen in the following manner: The members of the bar of this state residing in each court of appeals district shall elect one of their number to serve as a member of said commission, and the governor shall appoint one citizen, not a member of the bar, from among the residents of each court of appeals district, to serve as a member of said commission, and the members of the commission shall select one of their number to serve as chairman. Each circuit judicial commission shall consist of five members, one of whom shall be the chief judge of the district of the court of appeals within which the judicial circuit of such commission, or the major portion of the population of said circuit is situated and the remaining four members shall be chosen in the following manner: The members of the bar of this state residing in the judicial circuit of such commission shall elect two of their number to serve as members of said commission, and the governor shall appoint two citizens, not members of the bar, from among the residents of said judicial circuit to serve as members of said commission, the members of the commission shall select one of their number to serve as chairman; and the terms of office of the members of such commission shall be fixed by law, but no law shall increase or diminish the term of any member then in office. No member of any such commission other than a judge shall hold any public office, and no member shall hold any official position in a political party. Every such commission may act only by the concurrence of a majority of its members. The members of such commission shall receive no salary or other compensation for their services but they shall receive their necessary traveling and other expenses incurred while actually engaged in the discharge of their official duties. All such commissions shall be administered, and all elections provided for under this section shall be held and regulated, under such rules as the supreme court shall promulgate.

Section 25(e). All expenses incurred in administering sections 25(a)-(g), when approved by the supreme court, shall be paid out of the state treasury. The supreme court shall certify such expense to the commissioner of administration, who shall draw his warrant therefor payable out of funds not otherwise appropriated.

Section 25(f). No judge of any court in this state, appointed to or retained in office in the manner prescribed in sections 25(a)-(g), shall directly or indirectly make any contribution to or hold any office in a political party or organization, or take part in any political campaign.

Section 25(g). All of the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) shall be self-enforcing except those as to which action by the general assembly may be required.

Section 26. 1. All judges other than municipal judges shall retire at the age of seventy years, except as provided in the schedule to this article, under a retirement plan provided by law.

2. All judges may retire at an earlier age authorized by law and may participate in a retirement plan provided by law.

3. Any retired judge, associate circuit judge or commissioner, with his consent, may be assigned by the supreme court as a senior judge to any court in this state or as a special commissioner. When serving as a senior judge he shall have the same powers as an active judge.

SCHEDULE

Section 27. Except as otherwise provided in this article, the effective date of this article shall be January 2, 1979.

1. All judges elected in 1978 shall be sworn into office on January 1, 1979.

2. All magistrate courts, probate courts, courts of common pleas, the St. Louis court of criminal correction, and municipal corporation courts shall continue to exist until the effective date of this article at which time said courts shall cease to exist. When such courts cease to exist:

a. The jurisdiction of magistrate courts shall be transferred to the circuit court of the circuit and such courts shall become divisions of the circuit court.

b. The jurisdiction of probate courts within the circuit shall be transferred to the circuit court and such courts shall become divisions of the circuit court.

c. The jurisdiction of St. Louis court of criminal correction and all courts of common pleas shall be transferred to the circuit court for the respective circuit and such courts shall become divisions of the circuit court. The provisions of law relating to practice and procedure of the courts of common pleas shall, until otherwise changed by law, remain in effect and the provision of law relating to practice, procedure, venue, jurisdiction, selection of jurors, election of clerk and provisions for deputies and all other provisions of law relating to the Hannibal Court of Common Pleas shall until otherwise changed by law, remain in effect as to such division of the Marion county circuit court and said division shall be known as division number 2 of the Marion county circuit court instead of the Hannibal Court of Common Pleas.

d. The jurisdiction of municipal courts shall be transferred to the circuit court of the circuit in which such municipality or major geographical area thereof shall be located and, such courts shall become divisons of the circuit court. When such courts cease to exist, all records, papers and files shall be transferred to the circuit court which may designate the place where such records may be maintained.

e. Divisions of the circuit court created by this subsection may be changed hereafter by law.

f. After the effective date of this article, in counties with a population of over thirty thousand and less than sixty-five thousand, the office expenses and salaries of associate circuit judges and their clerks who before the effective date of this article were probate judges shall continue to be paid by the counties.

g. After the effective date of this article, in all counties with a population of over sixty-five thousand and in any city not within a county, the office expenses and salaries of the circuit judges who before the effective date of this article were probate judges in said counties or city, shall be paid by the respective counties or city.

3. Until otherwise provided by law associate circuit judges shall hear all cases or matters, civil and criminal, as now provided by law for magistrates within the county and such additional cases or classes of cases as may be provided by law. Until otherwise provided by law, associate circuit judges shall hear all cases or matters as now provided by law for probate courts within the county, except that in the City of St. Louis, in all first class counties, and all second class counties with a population of over sixty-five thousand, the circuit judge of the probate division of the circuit court shall hear all cases and matters as now provided by law for probate courts within such circuits or counties. An associate circuit judge exercising probate jurisdiction shall, in connection therewith, possess general equitable powers. Associate circuit judges of the City of St. Louis shall hear all civil and criminal cases as now provided by law for magistrates and the St. Louis court of criminal correction including appeals and preliminary hearings in felony cases and such additional cases or classes of cases as may hereafter be provided by law. Until otherwise provided by law or supreme court rule the practice, procedure, filing fees and administration of causes heard by associate circuit judges within the jurisdiction of former magistrate and probate courts shall be and remain the same as in the court abolished.

4. a. In 1978, all probate judges except those selected under the nonpartisan selection of judges plan shall be elected as provided by law. On the effective date of this article the probate judge of the city of St. Louis and probate judges of all first class counties and all second class counties with a population of over sixty-five thousand shall become circuit judges of their respective circuits and thereafter shall be selected or elected from the circuit as in the case of other circuit judges and be entitled to the same compensation as provided by law for circuit judges at the time of the effective date of this article until changed by law, and shall have the same powers and jurisdiction as judges of the circuit court. Each judge who served as probate judge and who is in office on the effective date of this article in such city and counties shall continue to serve in the capacity of judge of the probate division of the circuit court until his successor is selected and qualified, provided that with his consent any circuit or associate circuit judge in the circuit at his request may hear, try and dispose of any matter, case or classes of cases assigned to him by such judge of the probate divison, and such judge of the probate division with his consent, may hear, try and determine any case within the jurisdiction of the circuit court. On the effective date of this article the probate judges of counties with a population of sixty-five thousand or less shall become associate circuit judges of their respective circuits and thereafter shall be selected or elected from the county as in the case of other associate circuit judges and shall be entitled to the same compensation as that to which they were entitled on the effective date of this article until changed by law.

b. On the effective date of this article, judges of the St. Louis court of criminal correction and judges of the courts of common pleas shall become circuit judges and be entitled to the compensation of circuit judges and shall have the same power and jurisdiction as circuit judges.

c. In 1978, all magistrates shall be elected as provided by law. On the effective date of this article all magistrates who are then in office shall become associate circuit judges and shall serve out the remainder of their terms as such. Each such judge shall be entitled to the same compensation as that to which he was entitled on the effective date of this article until otherwise changed by law.

5. The right to and method of review from a final judgment or appealable order of an associate circuit judge, or minicipal judge, when so acting within the jurisdiction of cases heretofore within the jurisdiction of the former magistrate or municipal courts shall, until otherwise provided by law, be de novo before a circuit judge or another associate circuit judge within the circuit except that appeals from an associate circuit judge exercising probate jurisdiction in any circuit, and appeals from any cause from an associate circuit judge as provided by law shall be appealed to the appropriate district of the court of appeals upon a record as authorized by law or supreme court rule. Appeals in misdemeanor cases from the associate circuit judge from the City of St. Louis shall be as now provided until changed by law.

6. The costs of judicial proceedings as provided for in all courts existing before the adoption of this article shall remain in effect with respect to cases which would have been within the jurisdiction of those courts until such costs are otherwise changed by law. Until otherwise provided by law, if a cause could have been filed in more than one court before the effective date of this article, the lower cost structure shall be used in calculating costs; provided, however, that a party instituting a civil suit which would have been within the concurrent jurisdiction of the circuit and magistrate courts prior to the effective date of this article may designate the case as being one to be processed in accordance with procedures and rules appertaining before circuit judges, and the court costs heretofore applicable to such cases in circuit court shall apply.

7. Until the effective date of this article the courts of common pleas, the St. Louis court of criminal corrections, the magistrate courts, the probate courts and the municipal corporation courts shall continue to have the jurisdiction and power provided in the article repealed hereby and provided by the laws and rules enacted thereunder, and shall continue to follow the procedures as provided in such article, laws and rules.

8. Each judge who, on the effective date of this article, becomes a circuit or associate circuit judge in any circuit subject to the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) of this article shall be eligible for retention in office as a circuit or associate circuit judge respectively by filing in the office of the secretary of state a declaration of candidacy for election not less than sixty days prior to the holding of the general election next preceding the expiration of his term of office. If a majority of those voting on the question vote against retaining him in office, upon the expiration of his term of office, a vacnacy shall exist which shall be filled by appointment as provided in section 25(a); otherwise, said judge shall, unless removed for cause, remain in office for the number of years after December thirty-first following such election as is provided for the full term of such office and at the expiration of each such term shall be eligible for retention in office by election in the same manner prescribed by section 25(c) (1). The secretary of state shall certify the name of such judges in accordance with law or in accordance with section 25(c) (2) of this article.

9. On the effective date of this article the judges of the magistate court and the judges of the probate court in any circuit which selects judges under the nonpartisan selection of judges shall become nonpartisan judges. The judges of the probate courts of the City of St. Louis and all first class counties, and all second class counties with a population of over sixty-five thousand, when such courts cease to exist, and the judges of the St. Louis court of criminal corrections, shall become circuit judges and receive the compensation payable to circuit judges.

9. a. The judges of all municipal corporations courts in office at the time such courts cease to exist and who qualify for office under the provisions of section 21 of this article shall continue in office until the expiration of the terms to which they have been elected or appointed unless otherwise provided by law. When such courts cease to exist, the judges thereof who continue in office shall become municipal judges and shall serve as such until their terms expire or are otherwise removed. They shall receive the compensation now provided until otherwise changed by law. Such compensation shall be paid by the municipality or municipalities they serve. Upon the expiration of their terms, they shall be come eligible for retention in office as municipal judges in the same manner as now provided for the selection of municipal judges in the municipality they serve until otherwise provided by law. In the event the municipal judge now serving shall fail, refuse or be disqualified from continuing in office, the municipality may elect or appoint a municipal judge in the same manner as is now provided in that municipality for selection of a municipal judge unless otherwise provided by law. All expenses incidental to the functioning of municipal judges, including the cost of any staff, and their quarters shall be paid and provided by the respective municipalities as now provided for municipal courts until otherwise provided by law. In municipalities with a population of under four hundred thousand which do not have a municipal judge or for which no municipal judge is provided by law, associate circuit judges shall hear and determine violations of municipal ordinances. No associate circuit judge shall, however, act as a municipal judge in any city with a population of four hundred thousand or more until otherwise provided by law.

10. a. 1. Until otherwise provided by law, circuit clerks in each circuit and county shall be selected in the same manner as provided by law on the effective date of this article, except that in counties having a charter form of government, the circuit clerk shall be selected in the manner as provided in the charter of such county.

2. Upon the expiration of the terms of office of the clerk of the circuit court for criminal causes of the City of St. Louis, and the term of the clerk of the St. Louis court of criminal correction, the offices of such clerks shall cease to exist and thereafter the clerk of the circuit court of the City of St. Louis shall have the powers and perform the duties and functions of such clerks and shall serve all divisions of the circuit court, except the courts presided over by an associate circuit judge, the judge of the probate division of the circuit court and by municipal judges.

3. In any division of the circuit court presided over by an associate circuit judge, in the probate division of the circuit court and in any division presided over by a municipal judge, the clerks and their deputies of the respective divisions shall continue to be selected in the same manner as provided for by law on the effective date of this article until otherwise changed by law.

4. There shall continue to be an office of circuit clerk in each county of the circuit, until otherwise changed by law.

b. Upon the effective date of this article, the office of constable serving magistrate courts is abolished. The functions, powers and duties of such constables shall be transferred to and be performed by the sheriff of the county or the sheriff of the City of St. Louis.

c. Upon the effective date of this article the office of prosecuting attorney of the City of St. Louis shall be abolished and all the duties, powers, and functions of such office shall be transferred to the Circuit Attorney of the City of St. Louis who shall have such powers and perform such functions and duties as the prosecuting attorney of the City of St. Louis.

d. No election shall be held in 1978 for the offices which are abolished by this subsection 10.

11. The commissioners of the supreme court holding office on the effective date of this article shall continue to hold office as commissioners of the court until the end of their terms, and shall be eligible for reappointment thereafter from term to term under existing law until retirement, death, resignation or removal for cause. Upon the occurrence of such vacancy in the office of commissioner of the supreme court, such office shall cease to exist. Commissioners, in addition to their regular duties, shall be subject to temporary assignment for the performance of judicial duties as special judges of the supreme court, court of appeals, or circuit court on order of the supreme court. During such temporary assignments, commissioners sitting as special judges shall have the same powers, duties, and responsibilities as are vested by law in the regular judges of the courts to which they are assigned.

12. The boundaries and territorial jurisdiction of the districts of the court of appeals and of the judicial circuits as they exist on the effective date of this article shall be continued in effect until such time is changed by law.

13. The commission on retirement, removal and discipline and the nonpartisan appellate and circuit judicial commissions in existence on the effective date of this article shall continue to exist, and the terms of office for such commissions shall continue in effect.

14. "Judge" as used in sections 20, 24 and 26 of this article shall include commissioners of the supreme court.

15. Nothing in this article shall deprive any person of any right or privilege to retire and the retirement benefits to which he was entitled immediately prior to the effective date of this article.

16. A municipal corporation with a population of under four hundred thousand shall have the right to enforce its ordinances and to conduct prosecutions before an assoicate circuit judge in the absence of a municipal judge and in appellate courts under the process authorized or provided by this article and shall receive and retain any fines to which it may be entitled. All court costs shall be paid to and deposited monthly in the state treasury. No filing fees shall be charged in such prosecutions unless and until provided for by a law enacted after the adoption of this article.

17. Until otherwise provided by law, the circuit courts shall continue to have jurisdiction to review administrative decisions, findings, rules, and orders in the manner and practice and pursuant to the laws and rules then in force at the time this article becomes effective.

18. All rights, claims, causes of action and obligations existing and all contracts, prosecutions, recognizances and other instruments executed or entered into and all indictments, informations, and complaints which shall have been filed and all actions which shall have been instituted and all fines, penalties and forfeitures assessed, due or owing prior to the effective date of this article shall continue to be as valid as if this article had not be adopted.

19. The general assembly may enact such laws and make such appropriations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this article.

20. All laws and rules inconsistent with the provisions of this article shall, on the effective date hereof, be and are repealed. Except to the extent inconsistent with the provisions of this article, all provisions of law and rules of court in force on the effective date of this amendment shall continue in effect until superseded in a manner authorized by the constitution or by law.

21. In the event that a new district of the court of appeals is established, the judges presently serving on any district of the court of appeals shall continue to be judges of the court of appeals to which appointed although they are not residents of the court of appeals district in which they serve.

22. Until otherwise provided by law, in any cause heard and determined by an associate circuit judge, the associate circuit judge shall utilize electronic, magnetic, or mechanical sound or video recording devices for the purpose of preserving the record. Electronic, magnetic, or mechanical recording devices shall be approved by the office of state courts administrator prior to their utilization by any associate circuit judge.

23. Each circuit in which judges are selcted under the nonpartisan court plan, on the effective date of this article, including the circuits of Platte county, Clay county, and St. Louis county, shall continue under the nonpartisan court plan until and unless such method of selection of judges is discontinued by the voters of the circuit as provided by sections 25(a)-(g) of this article.

Section 24. Judges, other than municipal judges, not selected under the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) of this article who on the effective date of this article or within six months thereafter, or seventy years of age or older, may petition the commission on retirement, removal and discipline to continue to serve until age seventy-six if he has not completed a total of twelve years of service as a judge. Judges, other than municipal judges, not selected under the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) of this article who are in office on the effective date of this article, may, within six months before attaining the age of seventy years, petition the commission on retirement, removal, and discipline to be allowed to serve after he has attained that age until seventy-six or has completed a total of twelve years of service as a judge, whichever shall first occur. If the commission finds the petitioner to be able to perform his duties and approves such service, the petitioner may continue to serve as such a judge until age seventy-six if he has not completed a total of twelve years of service as a judge at such age. No such judge shall be permitted to serve as such a judge beyond the age of seventy-six years regardless of whether or not he has completed a total of twelve years except for the purpose of completing the term to which he was elected or appointed.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 7

Proposed by Initiative Petition

Authorizes enactment of laws providing (1) services for the handicapped, (2) nonreligious textbooks, and (3) transportation for all public and nonpublic elementary and secondary school children.

An Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Missouri permitting the enactment of laws which provided services for the handicapped, secular textbooks, and transportation to children attending public and nonpublic elementary and secondary schools on an equitable and nondiscriminatory basis.

Be it resolved by the people of the State of Missouri that the Constitution be amended:

One new section is added to Article III of the Constitution of Missouri to be known as Section 48(a) and to read as follows:

Section 48(a). Nothing in Article I, Section 7, Article III, Section 38(a), Article IX, Section 8, or any other provision in this Constitution shall prevent the enactment of laws which provide services for the handicapped, secular textbooks, and transportation of pupils free to all school children on an equitable basis and without discrimination on the grounds of race, creed, color, national origin or school attended. For the purposes of this section, "school" shall mean any elementary or secondary school, public or non-public, within this State wherein a child may fulfill compulsory school attendance requirements as provided by law.

Mosquito spray set Wednesday in Dexter

DEXTER— Wednesday morning, weather conditions permitting, a twin-engine aircraft from Air-Aids in Hayti, will spray Dexter for mosquito control, according to Dexter Mayor Willis Conner.

Approval of the arerial spraying plan came at the last regular session of the Dexter City Council, at an approximate cost of $1,500.

The plan is approved by the FAA and local agencies. City officials have warned area bee keepers to keep their bees covered for a few hours after the spraying, but there should be no other bad side affect from the spraying, it was noted.

If weather conditions are not right Wednesday morning, the spraying will be conducted Thursday morning.

Boat is stolen

BLOOMFIELD — The Stoddard County Sheriff's Department here is investigating several thefts that occurred over the weekend.

Authorities said a Fiberglas boat and boat trailer were reported taken from SeMo Boat and Accessories in Dexter sometime Sunday and that a citizens band base radio was reported missing from the home of Charles Petty, just south of Frisco.

Paul Pratt, who resides on Highway 25 between Bloomfield and Dexter, reported that a toolbox containing various tools was taken from his residence some time over the weekend.

The Nez Perce Indian war was fought from June to October, 1877, when the Indians surrendered to U.S. troops.

thousand, the office expenses and salaries of associate circuit judges and their clerks who before the effective date of this article were probate judges shall continue to be paid by the counties.

g. After the effective date of this article, in all counties with a population of over sixty-five thousand and in any city not within a county, the office expenses and salaries of the circuit judges who before the effective date of this article were probate judges in said counties or city, shall be paid by the respective counties or city.

3. Until otherwise provided by law associate circuit judges shall hear all cases or matters, civil and criminal, as now provided by law for magistrates within the county and such additional cases or classes of cases as may be provided by law. Until otherwise provided by law, associate circuit judges shall hear all cases or matters as now provided by law for probate courts within the county, except that in the City of St. Louis, in all first class counties, and all second class counties with a population of over sixty-five thousand, the circuit judge of the probate division of the circuit court shall hear all cases and matters as now provided by law for probate courts within such circuits or counties. An associate circuit judge exercising probate jurisdiction shall, in connection therewith, possess general equitable powers. Associate circuit judges of the City of St. Louis shall hear all civil and criminal cases as now provided by law for magistrates and the St. Louis court of criminal correction including appeals and preliminary hearings in felony cases and such additional cases or classes of cases as may hereafter be provided by law. Until otherwise provided by law or supreme court rule the practice, procedure, filing fees and administration of causes heard by associate circuit judges within the jurisdiction of former magistrate and probate courts shall be and remain the same as in the court abolished.

4. a. In 1978, all probate judges except those selected under the nonpartisan selection of judges plan shall be elected as provided by law. On the effective date of this article the probate judge of the city of St. Louis and probate judges of all first class counties and all second class counties with a population of over sixty-five thousand shall become circuit judges of their respective circuits and thereafter shall be selected or elected from the circuit as in the case of other circuit judges and be entitled to the same compensation as provided by law for circuit judges at the time of the effective date of this article until changed by law, and shall have the same powers and jurisdiction as judges of the circuit court. Each judge who served as probate judge and who is in office on the effective date of this article in such city and counties shall continue to serve in the capacity of judge of the probate division of the circuit court until his successor is selected and qualified, provided that with his consent any circuit or associate circuit judge in the circuit at his request may hear, try and dispose of any matter, case or classes of cases assigned to him by such judge of the probate divison, and such judge of the probate division with his consent, may hear, try and determine any case within the jurisdiction of the circuit court. On the effective date of this article the probate judges of counties with a population of sixty-five thousand or less shall become associate circuit judges of their respective circuits and thereafter shall be selected or elected from the county as in the case of other associate circuit judges and shall be entitled to the same compensation as that to which they were entitled on the effective date of this article until changed by law.

b. On the effective date of this article, judges of the St. Louis court of criminal correction and judges of the courts of common pleas shall become circuit judges and be entitled to the compensation of circuit judges and shall have the same power and jurisdiction as circuit judges.

c. In 1978, all magistrates shall be elected as provided by law. On the effective date of this article all magistrates who are then in office shall become associate circuit judges and shall serve out the remainder of their terms as such. Each such judge shall be entitled to the same compensation as that to which he was entitled on the effective date of this article until otherwise changed by law.

5. The right to and method of review from a final judgment or appealable order of an associate circuit judge, or minicipal judge, when so acting within the jurisdiction of cases heretofore within the jurisdiction of the former magistrate or municipal courts shall, until otherwise provided by law, be de novo before a circuit judge or another associate circuit judge within the circuit except that appeals from an associate circuit judge exercising probate jurisdiction in any circuit, and appeals from any cause from an associate circuit judge as provided by law shall be appealed to the appropriate district of the court of appeals upon a record as authorized by law or supreme court rule. Appeals in misdemeanor cases from the associate circuit judge from the City of St. Louis shall be as now provided until changed by law.

6. The costs of judicial proceedings as provided for in all courts existing before the adoption of this article shall remain in effect with respect to cases which would have been within the jurisdiction of those courts until such costs are otherwise changed by law. Until otherwise provided by law, if a cause could have been filed in more than one court before the effective date of this article, the lower cost structure shall be used in calculating costs; provided, however, that a party instituting a civil suit which would have been within the concurrent jurisdiction of the circuit and magistrate courts prior to the effective date of this article may designate the case as being one to be processed in accordance with procedures and rules appertaining before circuit judges, and the court costs heretofore applicable to such cases in circuit court shall apply.

7. Until the effective date of this article the courts of common pleas, the St. Louis court of criminal corrections, the magistrate courts, the probate courts and the municipal corporation courts shall continue to have the jurisdiction and power provided in the article repealed hereby and provided by the laws and rules enacted thereunder, and shall continue to follow the procedures as provided in such article, laws and rules.

8. Each judge who, on the effective date of this article, becomes a circuit or associate circuit judge in any circuit subject to the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) of this article shall be eligible for retention in office as a circuit or associate circuit judge respectively by filing in the office of the secretary of state a declaration of candidacy for election not less than sixty days prior to the holding of the general election next preceding the expiration of his term of office. If a majority of those voting on the question vote against retaining him in office, upon the expiration of his term of office, a vacnacy shall exist which shall be filled by appointment as provided in section 25(a); otherwise, said judge shall, unless removed for cause, remain in office for the number of years after December thirty-first following such election as is provided for the full term of such office and at the expiration of each such term shall be eligible for retention in office by election in the same manner prescribed by section 25(c) (1). The secretary of state shall certify the name of such judges in accordance with law or in accordance with section 25(c) (2) of this article.

9. On the effective date of this article the judges of the magistate court and the judges of the probate court in any circuit which selects judges under the nonpartisan selection of judges shall become nonpartisan judges. The judges of the probate courts of the City of St. Louis and all first class counties, and all second class counties with a population of over sixty-five thousand, when such courts cease to exist, and the judges of the St. Louis court of criminal corrections, shall become circuit judges and receive the compensation payable to circuit judges.

9. a. The judges of all municipal corporations courts in office at the time such courts cease to exist and who qualify for office under the provisions of section 21 of this article shall continue in office until the expiration of the terms to which they have been elected or appointed unless otherwise provided by law. When such courts cease to exist, the judges thereof who continue in office shall become municipal judges and shall serve as such until their terms expire or are otherwise removed. They shall receive the compensation now provided until otherwise changed by law. Such compensation shall be paid by the municipality or municipalities they serve. Upon the expiration of their terms, they shall be come eligible for retention in office as municipal judges in the same manner as now provided for the selection of municipal judges in the municipality they serve until otherwise provided by law. In the event the municipal judge now serving shall fail, refuse or be disqualified from continuing in office, the municipality may elect or appoint a municipal judge in the same manner as is now provided in that municipality for selection of a municipal judge unless otherwise provided by law. All expenses incidental to the functioning of municipal judges, including the cost of any staff, and their quarters shall be paid and provided by the respective municipalities as now provided for municipal courts until otherwise provided by law. In municipalities with a population of under four hundred thousand which do not have a municipal judge or for which no municipal judge is provided by law, associate circuit judges shall hear and determine violations of municipal ordinances. No associate circuit judge shall, however, act as a municipal judge in any city with a population of four hundred thousand or more until otherwise provided by law.

10. a. 1. Until otherwise provided by law, circuit clerks in each circuit and county shall be selected in the same manner as provided by law on the effective date of this article, except that in counties having a charter form of government, the circuit clerk shall be selected in the manner as provided in the charter of such county.

2. Upon the expiration of the terms of office of the clerk of the circuit court for criminal causes of the City of St. Louis, and the term of the clerk of the St. Louis court of criminal correction, the offices of such clerks shall cease to exist and thereafter the clerk of the circuit court of the Citv of St. Louis shall have the powers and perform the duties and functions of such clerks and shall serve all divisions of the circuit court, except the courts presided over by an associate circuit judge, the judge of the probate division of the circuit court and by municipal judges.

3. In any division of the circuit court presided over by an associate circuit judge, in the probate division of the circuit court and in any division presided over by a municipal judge, the clerks and their deputies of the respective divisions shall continue to be selected in the same manner as provided for by law on the effective date of this article until otherwise changed by law.

4. There shall continue to be an office of circuit clerk in each county of the circuit, until otherwise changed by law.

b. Upon the effective date of this article, the office of constable serving magistrate courts is abolished. The functions, powers and duties of such constables shall be transferred to and be performed by the sheriff of the county or the sheriff of the City of St. Louis.

c. Upon the effective date of this article the office of prosecuting attorney of the City of St. Louis shall be abolished and all the duties, powers, and functions of such office shall be transferred to the Circuit Attorney of the City of St. Louis who shall have such powers and perform such functions and duties as the prosecuting attorney of the City of St. Louis.

d. No election shall be held in 1978 for the offices which are abolished by this subsection 10.

11. The commissioners of the supreme court holding office on the effective date of this article shall continue to hold office as commissioners of the court until the end of their terms, and shall be eligible for reappointment thereafter from term to term under existing law until retirement, death, resignation or removal for cause. Upon the occurrence of such vacancy in the office of commissioner of the supreme court, such office shall cease to exist. Commissioners, in addition to their regular duties, shall be subject to temporary assignment for the performance of judicial duties as special judges of the supreme court, court of appeals, or circuit court on order of the supreme court. During such temporary assignments, commissioners sitting as special judges shall have the same powers, duties, and responsibilities as are vested by law in the regular judges of the courts to which they are assigned.

12. The boundaries and territorial jurisdiction of the districts of the court of appeals and of the judicial circuits as they exist on the effective date of this article shall be continued in effect until such time is changed by law.

13. The commission on retirement, removal and discipline and the nonpartisan appellate and circuit judicial commissions in existence on the effective date of this article shall continue to exist, and the terms of office for such commissions shall continue in effect.

14. "Judge" as used in sections 20, 24 and 26 of this article shall include commissioners of the supreme court.

15. Nothing in this article shall deprive any person of any right or privilege to retire and the retirement benefits to which he was entitled immediately prior to the effective date of this article.

16. A municipal corporation with a population of under four hundred thousand shall have the right to enforce its ordinances and to conduct prosecutions before an assoicate circuit judge in the absence of a municipal judge and in appellate courts under the process authorized or provided by this article and shall receive and retain any fines to which it may be entitled. All court costs shall be paid to and deposited monthly in the state treasury. No filing fees shall be charged in such prosecutions unless and until provided for by a law enacted after the adoption of this article.

17. Until otherwise provided by law, the circuit courts shall continue to have jurisdiction to review administrative decisions, findings, rules, and orders in the manner and practice and pursuant to the laws and rules then in force at the time this article becomes effective.

18. All rights, claims, causes of action and obligations existing and all contracts, prosecutions, recognizances and other instruments executed or entered into and all indictments, informations, and complaints which shall have been filed and all actions which shall have been instituted and all fines, penalties and forfeitures assessed, due or owing prior to the effective date of this article shall continue to be as valid as if this article had not be adopted.

19. The general assembly may enact such laws and make such appropriations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this article.

20. All laws and rules inconsistent with the provisions of this article shall, on the effective date hereof, be and are repealed. Except to the extent inconsistent with the provisions of this article, all provisions of law and rules of court in force on the effective date of this amendment shall continue in effect until superseded in a manner authorized by the constitution or by law.

21. In the event that a new district of the court of appeals is established, the judges presently serving on any district of the court of appeals shall continue to be judges of the court of appeals to which appointed although they are not residents of the court of appeals district in which they serve.

22. Until otherwise provided by law, in any cause heard and determined by an associate circuit judge, the associate circuit judge shall utilize electronic, magnetic, or mechanical sound or video recording devices for the purpose of preserving the record. Electronic, magnetic, or mechanical recording devices shall be approved by the office of state courts administrator prior to their utilization by any associate circuit judge.

23. Each circuit in which judges are selcted under the nonpartisan court plan, on the effective date of this article, including the circuits of Platte county, Clay county, and St. Louis county, shall continue under the nonpartisan court plan until and unless such method of selection of judges is discontinued by the voters of the circuit as provided by sections 25(a)-(g) of this article.

Section 24. Judges, other than municipal judges, not selected under the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) of this article who on the effective date of this article or within six months thereafter, or seventy years of age or older, may petition the commission on retirement, removal and discipline to continue to serve until age seventy-six if he has not completed a total of twelve years of service as a judge. Judges, other than municipal judges, not selected under the provisions of sections 25(a)-(g) of this article who are in office on the effective date of this article, may, within six months before attaining the age of seventy years, petition the commission on retirement, removal, and discipline to be allowed to serve after he has attained that age until seventy-six or has completed a total of twelve years of service as a judge, whichever shall first occur. If the commission finds the petitioner to be able to perform his duties and approves such service, the petitioner may continue to serve as such a judge until age seventy-six if he has not completed a total of twelve years of service as a judge at such age. No such judge shall be permitted to serve as such a judge beyond the age of seventy-six years regardless of whether or not he has completed a total of twelve years except for the purpose of completing the term to which he was elected or appointed.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 7

Proposed by Initiative Petition

Authorizes enactment of laws providing (1) services for the handicapped, (2) nonreligious textbooks, and (3) transportation for all public and nonpublic elementary and secondary school children.

An Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Missouri permitting the enactment of laws which provided services for the handicapped, secular textbooks, and transportation to children attending public and nonpublic elementary and secondary schools on an equitable and nondiscriminatory basis.

Be it resolved by the people of the State of Missouri that the Constitution be amended:

One new section is added to Article III of the Constitution of Missouri to be known as Section 48(a) and to read as follows:

Section 48(a). Nothing in Article I, Section 7, Article III, Section 38(a), Article IX, Section 8, or any other provision in this Constitution shall prevent the enactment of laws which provide services for the handicapped, secular textbooks, and transportation of pupils free to all school children on an equitable basis and without discrimination on the grounds of race, creed, color, national origin or school attended. For the purposes of this section, "school" shall mean any elementary or secondary school, public or non-public, within this State wherein a child may fulfill compulsory school attendance requirements as provided by law.

Mosquito spray set Wednesday in Dexter

DEXTER— Wednesday morning, weather conditions permitting, a twin-engine aircraft from Air-Aids in Hayti, will spray Dexter for mosquito control, according to Dexter Mayor Willis Conner.

Approval of the arerial spraying plan came at the last regular session of the Dexter City Council, at an approximate cost of $1,500.

The plan is approved by the FAA and local agencies. City officials have warned area bee keepers to keep their bees covered for a few hours after the spraying, but there should be no other bad side affect from the spraying, it was noted.

If weather conditions are not right Wednesday morning, the spraying will be conducted Thursday morning.

Boat is stolen

BLOOMFIELD — The Stoddard County Sheriff's Department here is investigating several thefts that occurred over the weekend.

Authorities said a Fiberglas boat and boat trailer were reported taken from SeMo Boat and Accessories in Dexter sometime Sunday and that a citizens band base radio was reported missing from the home of Charles Petty, just south of Frisco.

Paul Pratt, who resides on Highway 25 between Bloomfield and Dexter, reported that a toolbox containing various tools was taken from his residence some time over the weekend.

The Nez Perce Indian war was fought from June to October, 1877, when the Indians surrendered to U.S. troops.

Receives national endowment

Dr. John Field

Dr. John Field, a history instructor at College of the Mainland at Galveston, Tex., has been awarded a national endowment for the humanities grant to study at the University of California-Berkeley.

Field is one of 12 participants selected from applications received nationwide from college faculty members to participate in the eight week seminar.

The seminar topic is "British Culture in the 18th Century", with special emphasis on British-American cultural relationships in the revolutionary period.

The goal of the summer program is to encourage humanistic approaches in college instruction.

Dr. Field is married to the former Kay Sargent, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alden P. Sargent of 915 Taylor St.

Missourians' complete postal survey

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton (D-Mo.) has announced the results of his telephone survey of Missourians' attitudes toward postal service.

Eagleton presented the 500 survey participants information on costs per household to retain various types of postal service. Information used in the survey was based on Postal Service estimates.

Of those polled, 77 per cent, indicated they would be willing to pay an additional $1.50 per household per year to keep 12,000 rural post offices open.

Some rural post offices have been targeted for closing by the Postal Service.

Sixty-two per cent of those polled indicated they would be willing to pay an extra $15 per year to retain mail delivery every weekday rather than only three days per week.

However, only 41 per cent of the respondents said they were willing to pay an extra $4.50 per year to retain Saturday mail delivery.

On the question of door-to-door versus curbside delivery, the participants were about evenly divided--with 52 per cent saying they would be willing to pay an extra $2.50 per year to retain delivery to the door.

"The survey produced a number of interesting results," Eagleton said. "Frankly, I was surprised at the very high percentage of respondents willing to pay more to keep the rural post offices open. We took slightly more than half of our sample from urban and suburban areas, to accurately reflect Missouri's population distribution. But even among these city dwellers, the survey indicates very strong sentiment in favor of keeping the rural post offices," Eagleton said.

"I also was somewhat surprised that only 41 per cent of Missourians polled thought that Saturday delivery is worth an extra $4.50 per household per year. I would have guessed that sentiment for retaining Saturday delivery would have been much stronger," Eagleton said.

Each person surveyed was asked for general comments on postal service after they had responded to the survey questions. The most common comments concerned high stamp prices, inefficiency of postal operations, slow and inaccurate delivery, too much "junk" mail and damage to packages handled by the Postal Service.

"Because the public's desires regarding postal services should be the pre-eminent factor in deciding the nation's postal policies, I am forwarding a copy of the survey results to the chairman of the Senate Committee on Post Office and Civil Service, Senator Gale McGee. In an effort to inform my other colleagues in the Senate, I will present the survey data in a speech on the Senate floor immediately preceding the upcoming vote on the Postal Reorganization Act Amendments of 1976," Eagleton said.

"This survey is particularly valuable to our understanding of public wishes regarding postal policies for two reasons. First, the questions are couched in realistic terms--government services are not magicly financed; each one costs us, the public, money. Second, the public costs were presented in comprehensible form--Saturday mail delivery costs were presented as costing each American household $4.50, instead of costing the American public 350 million dollars.

"In many ways, Missouri is a microcosm of the nation, and I hope my Senate colleagues will appreciate the national implications of a Missouri opinion survey. The mix of metropolitan, small town and rural population in our state closely reflects the national mix. Missouri's political party registrations, Presidential voting record and geographical mix also serve to make the state a good bellwether of national sentiment," Eagleton said.

Cost-for-service data used in Eagleton's survey was based on Postal Service estimates that the average American household pays $200 per year for postal service. The payment is made in the form of stamp purchases, federal taxes and business postage expenses which are passed on to consumers."

Summer job grant is offered to students

JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri Department of Social Services' Director, Lawrence Graham, has announced the funding of a program to provide summer jobs for more than 7,700 economically disadvantaged students.

The program is funded through a $4,569,000 grant from the Missouri Office of Manpower Planning to the fifteen Community Action Agencies serving the 105 non-metropolitan counties of Missouri. Funds for this program are derived through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). Similar programs are sponsored in the urban areas of the state by city and county governmental agencies.

Students between 14 and 22 years of age, whose families meet federal poverty guidelines, are eligible to be placed in part-time jobs in public and private non-profit agencies. The jobs may range from filing to painting schoolhouses. "The goal of the program is to provide the student with experience in the world of work, and at the same time help them earn a supplementary income which will allow them to stay in school and finish their education," Graham said.

"Special care has been taken to minimize the administrative costs of this program so that as much of the grant as possible will go to assist the students. In fact, better than 91 per cent of the funds will go directly to the students in the form of wages and fringe benefits," Graham said.

The Office of Manpower Planning has developed a formula based on the number of economically disadvantaged youth in each county to assure equitable distribution of the funds. "This is a much fairer means of determining allocations than has been used in the past," Graham said.

"Under the federal categorical manpower programs, each year's allocations were based moreheavily on the preceding years allocations than on the current needs of the area to be served. The State of Missouri isn't going to get caught in that trap with CETA funds," Graham said.

The new summer program is in two phases. In phase one the student workers will work 26 hours a week for 10 weeks at the minimum wage of $2.30 per hour. In phase two a portion of the students will work 10 hours a week while attending classes full time.

Phase 2 will begin with the start of the school year and will continue through September 30, the end of the current federal fiscal year. On October 1, these students will be phased into the CETA's regular In-School Work Experience Program.

July 7 ends registration for Stoddard County

BLOOMFIELD — "We've had more interest in voter registration this year than ever in the history of registration in this county," John Capps, Stoddard County Clerk said.

Capps said the voter registration totals for the county are now more than 14,500 with new voters being added to the registration list daily.

"This year along, we've added about 550 new voters to the registration books," Capps noted.

Registration for the Aug. 3 primary election ends July 7 in Stoddard County, and Capps noted that voters may register at the County Clerk's office in Bloomfield, or at various city halls throughout the county.

The only successful third party presidential campaign in American history was in 1860 when Republican Abraham Lincoln defeated a Constitutional Union and two Democratic candidates. Since 1860, there have been only four presidential elections (1892, 1912, 1924 and 1968) in which all third parties together polled more than 10 per cent of the vote.

Nursing home heads discuss fire safety

Nursing home administrators in Missouri will attend a seminar on fire prevention and safety June 29 at the Ramada Inn in Jefferson City. The program will train administrators so they, in turn, can train their staff in fire safety before a fire occurs.

The seminar is being presented by the Missouri Nursing Home Association and is available without charge to members.

Tom Snodgrass, MNHA executive director, reports that Gage- Babcock and Associates, Inc., nationally recognized specialists in fire protection engineering, developed the program. James D. Behn, graduate fire protection engineer from the Chicago Office,will conduct the training seminar.

This program, titled "Preparing Your Staff for Fire", is one of many educational activities sponsored by MNHA that help assist the nursing home administrators in Missouri in staying abreast with the latest advancements in patient care and safety. Coordinators of the seminar are Wilma Ball, MNHA education committee chairman from Piedmont, and Donald O'Connor, MNHA life safety committee chairman from Columbia.

Professional administrators know that the ideal solution to fire safety is not to have fires; and, therefore, emphasis is being placed on both fire prevention and how to reduce combustibles. The program will also include the basic principles of fire science and will show slides and pictures of actual nursing home fires. O'Connor said a nursing home teaching packet, complete with instructors manual and employee workbooks, will be used by attending administrators for passing the information along to personnel in their respective homes.

Danforth explains power of presiding judge of county court

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The presiding judge of a county court only has the power to decide issues in which he and one of the two associate judges disagree if the second associate judge is physically absent from the meeting, according to Atty. Gen. John Danforth.

Danforth said in an opinion sought by Greene County Counselor Theodore Johnson that the mere refusal of one of the associate judges to vote on an issue does not mean that only two members of the three-man governing body can make the decision.

Under state law, if only the presiding judge and one associate judge are present to conduct business and they disagree on a decision, the decision of the presiding judge is the final one.

Johnson sought the opinion, which has no force of law or court ruling, when one associate judge of the Greene County Court declined to vote on a matter and the presiding and other associate judges disagreed.

Danforth said that as long as all three judges were physically present, whether they voted or not, the presiding judge cannot assume the authority to make his decision the court's decision.

Armed forces

Ft. Benning, Ga. — Army Private Scott L. Reece, son of Mrs. Mary L. Rogers, Parma, Mo., completed seven weeks of advanced individual training on May 27 at Ft. Benning.

He received general training as a light weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman in addition to specialized weapons instruction.

He also was taught the proper use of high explosives and the placement, detection and disarming of mines.

Teamwork was emphasized while he learned to work as a member of a rifle squad or mortar squad. Each team member completed the training well qualified to perform other jobs in case of casualties.

The private entered the Army in February of this year and completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., where he was last stationed.

Pvt. Reece is a 1975 graduate of Parma High School. His father, Jerry W. Reece, lives in Hayti, Mo.

The nation's first "bikeway" originated in Homestead, Fla. in 1962. Since then, some 25,000 to 30,000 miles of the special roadway have been established in the United States.

Today is Tuesday, June 29th, the 181st day of 1976. There are 185 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1946, the British arrested more than 2,700 Jews in Palestine in an attempt to stamp out alleged terrorism.

On this date:

In 1577, the Flemish painter, Peter Paul Rubens, was born.

In 1880, France took control of the South Pacific island of Tahiti.

In 1941, former Polish Premier Ignace Paderewski died in New York at the age of 80.

In 1943, U.S. forces landed in New Guinea in the Pacific War.

In 1946, fighting broke out between Yugoslavs and Italians in the city of Trieste.

In 1966, North Vietnam's capital, Hanoi, and principal seaport, Haiphong, were bombed by the United States for the first time in the Vietnam War.

Ten years ago: British seamen ended a strike that had paralyzed Britain's shipping for 45 days.

Five years ago: The Democratic Party selected Miami Beach, Fla., as the site for its 1972 National Convention.

One year ago: Fourteen U.S. Senators arrived in Moscow for a four-day visit.

Today's birthdays: Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands is 65 years old. Black militant Stokley Carmichael is 35.

Thought for today: Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers — Lord Alfred Tennyson, English poet, 1809-1892.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Virginia provincial constitution was adopted, and Patrick Henry was made governor.

Dr. Lamb

Dairyman misses many facts

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I thought you might be interested in the article in Hoard's Dairyman concerning your remarks about milk intolerance.

DEAR READER — Thank you for your courtesy in sending me that article. Dr. M.J. Brink (not a physician) did write to me. Although I have reason to believe Hoard's Dairyman knew of my reply to Brink, my remarks were not included in the article. So you got a biased report.

Brink identified himself as being with the National Dairy Council. As indicated in the article he claimed that the lactose intolerance data was not applicable because the studies were done with lactose sugar and water in amounts approximately equal to what you find in a quart of milk.

I replied that Brink should read the article in the New England Journal of Medicine, May 29, 1975 of the work by doctors at Johns Hopkins Medical Center, so he could get up to date on the problem. The Johns Hopkins doctors did their study on patients' response to only one glass of actual milk, not the test Brink alluded to.

I pointed out to Brink that the Johns Hopkins doctors found that "Two hundred and forty milliliters (one glass) of low-fat milk produced gaseousness or cramps in 59 per cent of 44 lactose intolerent men and 68 per cent were symptomatic with an equivalent amount of lactose." And, "Refusal to drink 240 ml of low-fat milk served with meals correlated significantly with lactose-intolerance." Note here that people with lactose intolerance simply don't use dairy products and that market is lost to the dairy farmer.

The John Hopkins study proves that many people cannot tolerate, and will not drink, a single glass of milk a day because of lactose intolerance.I hope that Brink does not think that a single glass of milk for those who can tolerate it meets the daily calcium needs. I told Brink that inadequate calcium intake was the most common nutritional deficiency in the United States. The Recommended Daily Allowance established by the National Academy of Sciences, for adults, is between 800 and 1200 milligrams and a single glass contains only 288 milligrams. If I were a dairy farmer I'd want people to be able to drink a quart a day, not just a glass.

If people limited their intake of milk and milk products to the equivalent of one glass of milk a day it would really hurt the dairy farmer and cause widespread nutritional problems.

Brink also suggested that I tell my readers to eat yogurt as a low lactose product for calcium intake. I was astonished. Commercial yogurt is not the same as home made yogurt. Commercial yogurt kills off the lactobacillus early in the process and the product is so thin that it is usually thickened with non-fat dry milk powder. The result is that commercial yogurt is one of the highest sources of lactose available and would be very bad for people with lactose intolerance. Yogurt's high lactose content is the reason it came under suspicion as a cause of cataracts.

I believe the dairy farmers have a right to insist that the Dairy Council get wholeheartedly behind the efforts to produce and market a low-lactose product that all can use. Fortunately other segments of the Dairy Council have taken the lead in developing Lact-Aid which is now available in some parts of the United States and Canada. I trust these remarks will give you a more balanced view than the one-sided article appearing in Hoard's Dairyman.

Fireworks are causing the worries

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

While millions of Americans are looking forward to Fourth of July fireworks displays, the government is worrying about the safety of the sparklers.

New regulations have been proposed to take some of the bang out of some of the more common varieties of firecrackers, but they will not go into effect until next year.

Note: Firecrackers are distinguishable from other types of fireworks in that they are explosive devices whose primary purpose is to produce a loud noise rather than a visual display.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission reports that in 1974, the latest year for which statistics are available, there were 3,300 injuries related to fireworks on July 4 alone. More than 60 per cent of the injuries were caused by firecrackers.

The Office of Consumer Affairs of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has a few common-sense "Do's and Don't's" for fireworks use:

—Don't hold fireworks in your hand unless the directions specifically say so.

—Do place the fireworks on hard, smooth, level surfaces.

—Use fireworks outdoors only. Children should use fireworks only under close adult supervision.

—If the firework does not go off, wait at least 10 seconds after the fuse stops glowing before approaching it.

—At public displays, stay in designated areas to avoid fumes and sparks.

For further information, you can get a fireworks fact sheet from the Product Safety Commission by calling the group's toll-free hotline at 800-638-2666. Ask for Fact Sheet No. 12. (Maryland residents call 800-492-2937.)

For the future, the Product Safety Commission has issued rules limiting the amount of explosive powder that firecrackers can contain. The rules will go into effect on Dec. 5, 1976, unless there are major objections.

Missouri restores the Jefferson Landing Site

JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri's official American Revolution Bicentennial project, the restoration of Jefferson Landing State Historic Site in Jefferson City, is nearing completion and will be dedicated during a 6 p.m. ceremony on July 4, according to Missouri State Parks Director William K. Wight.

The landing area overlooking the Missouri River between the Governor's Mansion and Capitol includes three historic buildings, the Lohman Building, Jefferson Hotel, and Christopher Maus House, which have been restored by the Missouri Department of Natural Resources, Division of Parks and Recreation to look much as they did during the mid- 19th century when they were the focus of trade in the capital city.

On the Fourth, Missouri Gov. Christopher S. Bond will give the address at the 6 p.m. dedication ceremony at Jefferson Landing and DNR Director James L. Wilson will act as master of ceremonies for the event. Following the ribbon cutting, the Lohman Building will be opened for interested persons to tour the first floor visitors center. Here they may see a slide presentation on the history of state government in Jefferson City and view museum exhibits that illustrate the growth of the city from a small riverport town in the early 1800's to the busy hub of governmental and political activity in the state today.

The public is invited to the dedication ceremony and reception at Jefferson Landing.

Beginning July 5, the Lohman Building will be opened for public visitation daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tours of the State Capitol are also given daily and the Capitol museum is open for visitors.

Plans have been made for the Governor's Mansion to be opened for tours from 2 to 5 p.m. on July 4. The mansion is otherwise available for tours by reservation only. Docents or volunteer guides from the mansion will aid in the Jefferson Landing reception.

Other July 4 activities planned for the Capitol Complex area on July 4 include childrens games, Bicentennial music, and a fireworks display.

Catholic theologian predicts religions future

NEW YORK (AP) — A leading Roman Catholic theologian foresees the disappearance of Christian anti-Semitism in the years ahead, Vatican recognition of Israel and a Jewish "new view" of Jesus as a great prophet.

The Rev. Edward H. Flannery, for 10 years head of the U.S. bishops' secretariat for Catholic-Jewish relations, also predicts peace in the Middle East and eventual Arab appreciation of Israel as valuable to the whole region.

"Israel will finally be seen by its neighbors for what it is — a great democracy and model for socio-economic construction which can contribute powerfully to prosperity and quality of life in the entire Middle East," says he.

Father Flannery, of Washington, leaves his post this fall as American Catholicism's chief adviser on Judaism to return to his home diocese of Providence, R.I., where he will direct continuing education of priests.

He says religious or theological kinds of anti-Semitism will be the "first to disappear," but that secular forms of this "most durable of all hatreds" still will linger.

This means a major "historical reversal," he says, since Christian churches originally fired anti-Semitism, but are among the "first to repudiate it.

"The day is almost at hand when the Christian pulpit and classroom, the chief sources of anti-Semitism, will be the front line of the struggle against it," he writes in the interreligious quarterly, "Face to Face."

It is published by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, which works to combat anti-Jewish prejudice.

Its "unconscious character" makes it "an ailment peculiarly difficult to treat," he says, However, he says the "rabid anti-Zionism now affecting the United Nations and the international community" will come to be seen as "temporary insanity sustained by an oil politic that will lose its influence on world affairs as new sources of energy are successfully exploited."

France predicts weather to result in price inflation

LONDON (AP) — Western Russia has just had its wettest weather since at least 1878 and more rain is forecast.

At the other end of Europe, England is having its driest spell since 1727. Despite some recent showers, reservoirs and rivers remain feet below their normal levels.

Across the Continent, from too wet to too dry, the worry is the same — the threat of crop failure.

One of the countries worst hit by drought is France. Experts predict that if it continues, France will loose thousands of tons of wheat, barley and sugar beet and a sizable chunk of its vegetable crop.

The French fear that should this happen, the resulting scarcity will push up prices in the shops and add to inflationary pressure.

The price of meat from grain-fed animals would also rise. In addition the government would be hit by demands from tens of thousands of French farmers seeking compensatory payments for their losses.

Electricity supplies from France's extensive system of hydroelectric power plants are also threatened as water levels drop, while scores of barges are blocked in the Saone and Rhone rivers near Lyon.

French weathermen foresee rain for the northern part of the country but are uncertain how soon it will come.

Spain is also hit by drought. Official sources said two months of dry weather, especially in central Spain, have cost $238 million in lost grain production, and cattle losses are also reported high because of poor pasture conditions.

The drought in Spain, one of the worst in recent years according to weather officials, has reduced dam levels in some cases in the south to 25 per cent of total capacity, compared with a normal 75 per cent at this time of year.

What's the law?

The case of the guilty conscience

By JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Grover had a conscience, but it proved to be a poor guide. After playing hanky-panky with his best friend's wife for more than six months, Grover decided to make a clean breast of things.

His narrow-minded friend, however, took a very dim view of the romance and shot Grover right in the middle of his confession.

Losing no time, Grover's widow filed a claim to collect double the amount of Grover's life insurance policy, which, under the policy, was payable tin the event of Grover's accidental death.

"You've got to be joking," responded a representative of the insurance company. "Grover's death was no accident. He was shot intentionally by an enraged husband."

"So what?" retorted the widow. "It was still an accident. An accident is anything that's unforeseeable. And, believe me, if Grover thought for a minute that he was going to get shot while cleansing his conscience, he would have kept his mouth shut and let his conscience worry about cleansing itself. His death was unexpected and, therefore, an accident."

The insurance company, however, disagreed and the matter ended up in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you consider Grover's death an accident so as to entitle his widow to collect double indemnity?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that when a man tells a husband that he has been running around with the latter's wife, it's tantamount to committing suicide. He can expect to be shot, concluded the judge, and his death in such a case, consequently, is not accidental.

Missouri restores the Jefferson Landing Site

JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri's official American Revolution Bicentennial project, the restoration of Jefferson Landing State Historic Site in Jefferson City, is nearing completion and will be dedicated during a 6 p.m. ceremony on July 4, according to Missouri State Parks Director William K. Wight.

The landing area overlooking the Missouri River between the Governor's Mansion and Capitol includes three historic buildings, the Lohman Building, Jefferson Hotel, and Christopher Maus House, which have been restored by the Missouri Department of Natural Resources, Division of Parks and Recreation to look much as they did during the mid- 19th century when they were the focus of trade in the capital city.

On the Fourth, Missouri Gov. Christopher S. Bond will give the address at the 6 p.m. dedication ceremony at Jefferson Landing and DNR Director James L. Wilson will act as master of ceremonies for the event. Following the ribbon cutting, the Lohman Building will be opened for interested persons to tour the first floor visitors center. Here they may see a slide presentation on the history of state government in Jefferson City and view museum exhibits that illustrate the growth of the city from a small riverport town in the early 1800's to the busy hub of governmental and political activity in the state today.

The public is invited to the dedication ceremony and reception at Jefferson Landing.

Beginning July 5, the Lohman Building will be opened for public visitation daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tours of the State Capitol are also given daily and the Capitol museum is open for visitors.

Plans have been made for the Governor's Mansion to be opened for tours from 2 to 5 p.m. on July 4. The mansion is otherwise available for tours by reservation only. Docents or volunteer guides from the mansion will aid in the Jefferson Landing reception.

Other July 4 activities planned for the Capitol Complex area on July 4 include childrens games, Bicentennial music, and a fireworks display.

Catholic theologian predicts religions future

NEW YORK (AP) — A leading Roman Catholic theologian foresees the disappearance of Christian anti-Semitism in the years ahead, Vatican recognition of Israel and a Jewish "new view" of Jesus as a great prophet.

The Rev. Edward H. Flannery, for 10 years head of the U.S. bishops' secretariat for Catholic-Jewish relations, also predicts peace in the Middle East and eventual Arab appreciation of Israel as valuable to the whole region.

"Israel will finally be seen by its neighbors for what it is — a great democracy and model for socio-economic construction which can contribute powerfully to prosperity and quality of life in the entire Middle East," says he.

Father Flannery, of Washington, leaves his post this fall as American Catholicism's chief adviser on Judaism to return to his home diocese of Providence, R.I., where he will direct continuing education of priests.

He says religious or theological kinds of anti-Semitism will be the "first to disappear," but that secular forms of this "most durable of all hatreds" still will linger.

This means a major "historical reversal," he says, since Christian churches originally fired anti-Semitism, but are among the "first to repudiate it.

"The day is almost at hand when the Christian pulpit and classroom, the chief sources of anti-Semitism, will be the front line of the struggle against it," he writes in the interreligious quarterly, "Face to Face."

It is published by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, which works to combat anti-Jewish prejudice.

Its "unconscious character" makes it "an ailment peculiarly difficult to treat," he says, However, he says the "rabid anti-Zionism now affecting the United Nations and the international community" will come to be seen as "temporary insanity sustained by an oil politic that will lose its influence on world affairs as new sources of energy are successfully exploited."

Dr. Lamb

Dairyman misses many facts

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I thought you might be interested in the article in Hoard's Dairyman concerning your remarks about milk intolerance.

DEAR READER — Thank you for your courtesy in sending me that article. Dr. M.J. Brink (not a physician) did write to me. Although I have reason to believe Hoard's Dairyman knew of my reply to Brink, my remarks were not included in the article. So you got a biased report.

Brink identified himself as being with the National Dairy Council. As indicated in the article he claimed that the lactose intolerance data was not applicable because the studies were done with lactose sugar and water in amounts approximately equal to what you find in a quart of milk.

I replied that Brink should read the article in the New England Journal of Medicine, May 29, 1975 of the work by doctors at Johns Hopkins Medical Center, so he could get up to date on the problem. The Johns Hopkins doctors did their study on patients' response to only one glass of actual milk, not the test Brink alluded to.

I pointed out to Brink that the Johns Hopkins doctors found that "Two hundred and forty milliliters (one glass) of low-fat milk produced gaseousness or cramps in 59 per cent of 44 lactose intolerent men and 68 per cent were symptomatic with an equivalent amount of lactose." And, "Refusal to drink 240 ml of low-fat milk served with meals correlated significantly with lactose-intolerance." Note here that people with lactose intolerance simply don't use dairy products and that market is lost to the dairy farmer.

The John Hopkins study proves that many people cannot tolerate, and will not drink, a single glass of milk a day because of lactose intolerance.I hope that Brink does not think that a single glass of milk for those who can tolerate it meets the daily calcium needs. I told Brink that inadequate calcium intake was the most common nutritional deficiency in the United States. The Recommended Daily Allowance established by the National Academy of Sciences, for adults, is between 800 and 1200 milligrams and a single glass contains only 288 milligrams. If I were a dairy farmer I'd want people to be able to drink a quart a day, not just a glass.

If people limited their intake of milk and milk products to the equivalent of one glass of milk a day it would really hurt the dairy farmer and cause widespread nutritional problems.

Brink also suggested that I tell my readers to eat yogurt as a low lactose product for calcium intake. I was astonished. Commercial yogurt is not the same as home made yogurt. Commercial yogurt kills off the lactobacillus early in the process and the product is so thin that it is usually thickened with non-fat dry milk powder. The result is that commercial yogurt is one of the highest sources of lactose available and would be very bad for people with lactose intolerance. Yogurt's high lactose content is the reason it came under suspicion as a cause of cataracts.

I believe the dairy farmers have a right to insist that the Dairy Council get wholeheartedly behind the efforts to produce and market a low-lactose product that all can use. Fortunately other segments of the Dairy Council have taken the lead in developing Lact-Aid which is now available in some parts of the United States and Canada. I trust these remarks will give you a more balanced view than the one-sided article appearing in Hoard's Dairyman.

Fireworks are causing the worries

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

While millions of Americans are looking forward to Fourth of July fireworks displays, the government is worrying about the safety of the sparklers.

New regulations have been proposed to take some of the bang out of some of the more common varieties of firecrackers, but they will not go into effect until next year.

Note: Firecrackers are distinguishable from other types of fireworks in that they are explosive devices whose primary purpose is to produce a loud noise rather than a visual display.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission reports that in 1974, the latest year for which statistics are available, there were 3,300 injuries related to fireworks on July 4 alone. More than 60 per cent of the injuries were caused by firecrackers.

The Office of Consumer Affairs of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has a few common-sense "Do's and Don't's" for fireworks use:

—Don't hold fireworks in your hand unless the directions specifically say so.

—Do place the fireworks on hard, smooth, level surfaces.

—Use fireworks outdoors only. Children should use fireworks only under close adult supervision.

—If the firework does not go off, wait at least 10 seconds after the fuse stops glowing before approaching it.

—At public displays, stay in designated areas to avoid fumes and sparks.

For further information, you can get a fireworks fact sheet from the Product Safety Commission by calling the group's toll-free hotline at 800-638-2666. Ask for Fact Sheet No. 12. (Maryland residents call 800-492-2937.)

For the future, the Product Safety Commission has issued rules limiting the amount of explosive powder that firecrackers can contain. The rules will go into effect on Dec. 5, 1976, unless there are major objections.

France predicts weather to result in price inflation

LONDON (AP) — Western Russia has just had its wettest weather since at least 1878 and more rain is forecast.

At the other end of Europe, England is having its driest spell since 1727. Despite some recent showers, reservoirs and rivers remain feet below their normal levels.

Across the Continent, from too wet to too dry, the worry is the same — the threat of crop failure.

One of the countries worst hit by drought is France. Experts predict that if it continues, France will loose thousands of tons of wheat, barley and sugar beet and a sizable chunk of its vegetable crop.

The French fear that should this happen, the resulting scarcity will push up prices in the shops and add to inflationary pressure.

The price of meat from grain-fed animals would also rise. In addition the government would be hit by demands from tens of thousands of French farmers seeking compensatory payments for their losses.

Electricity supplies from France's extensive system of hydroelectric power plants are also threatened as water levels drop, while scores of barges are blocked in the Saone and Rhone rivers near Lyon.

French weathermen foresee rain for the northern part of the country but are uncertain how soon it will come.

Spain is also hit by drought. Official sources said two months of dry weather, especially in central Spain, have cost $238 million in lost grain production, and cattle losses are also reported high because of poor pasture conditions.

The drought in Spain, one of the worst in recent years according to weather officials, has reduced dam levels in some cases in the south to 25 per cent of total capacity, compared with a normal 75 per cent at this time of year.

What's the law?

The case of the guilty conscience

By JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Grover had a conscience, but it proved to be a poor guide. After playing hanky-panky with his best friend's wife for more than six months, Grover decided to make a clean breast of things.

His narrow-minded friend, however, took a very dim view of the romance and shot Grover right in the middle of his confession.

Losing no time, Grover's widow filed a claim to collect double the amount of Grover's life insurance policy, which, under the policy, was payable tin the event of Grover's accidental death.

"You've got to be joking," responded a representative of the insurance company. "Grover's death was no accident. He was shot intentionally by an enraged husband."

"So what?" retorted the widow. "It was still an accident. An accident is anything that's unforeseeable. And, believe me, if Grover thought for a minute that he was going to get shot while cleansing his conscience, he would have kept his mouth shut and let his conscience worry about cleansing itself. His death was unexpected and, therefore, an accident."

The insurance company, however, disagreed and the matter ended up in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you consider Grover's death an accident so as to entitle his widow to collect double indemnity?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that when a man tells a husband that he has been running around with the latter's wife, it's tantamount to committing suicide. He can expect to be shot, concluded the judge, and his death in such a case, consequently, is not accidental.

Democrats legal counsel and has held several elected offices in that organization. Moore received the "Boss of the Year" Award from the Sikeston Jaycees in 1974, was a co-chairman of the state convention of Young Democrats held in Sikeston and has been active in the Boy Scouts, having received a certificate of appreciation in 1968 from the Okeechobee District of the Boy Scouts of America.

Moore practices law in Scott County with his principal office in Sikeston. After a survey indicated that approximately 500 of the 6,000 criminal complaints his office receives annually came from North of Benton, Moore, in 1974, requested that a secondary office be provided in Benton and either Moore or someone from his office is in Benton approximately three days each week. Funds and space have now been approved for the secondary office and it is presently under construction.

Moore is a lifetime resident of Scott County and is married to the former Karen Giltz of Charleston. He is the father of three children, J, John Davis and Verona. Moore and his family reside in Sikeston.

Moore states that as chief law enforcement officer of the county he will continue to put his specialized experience and education to work fighting crime at all levels, to devote all time necessary to the performance of the duties of the prosecuting attorney, to continue to work diligently on the drug problem in Scott County and to fight leniency for criminals and other law breakers.

He feels that his reputation and experience and thorough preparation for trials is now an asset to the office of prosecutor in obtaining guilty pleas from those who have broken the law.

Late campaign disclosures okayed

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Late filings of campaign finance and disclosure law forms by nine candidates in Cape County will not prevent their names from being placed on the Aug. 3 primary election ballot, the Missouri Elections Commission said.

Filing of the forms after Thursday's deadline constitutes a "primary violation," which will result in letters of reprimand being sent to the candidates who filed late, said a commission spokesman in Jefferson City.

Primary violations are those which do not constitute "great violence toward the intent of the law," whereas secondary violations do constitute violence toward its intent, the spokesman said.

State Rep. Gary W. Rust, R-Cape Girardeau, filed the required forms with the secretary of state's office nine hours after the deadline and failed to file them with the county clerk's office at Jackson, which he also was required to do.

Cecil D. Stroder of Jackson, Democratic candidate for coroner, neglected to file the forms with the clerk's office as did seven committeemen and committeewomen candidates.

Stroder and Rust Monday filed forms with the clerk, which are required of all candidates 40 days and seven days before an election and again 30 days after an election.

The commission spokesman said Rust's late filing should be reported to the commission by the Campaign Reporting Division of the secretary of state's office, which is required to report all violations. Stroder's late filing and those of the committeemen and women are not required to be reported by the clerk's office, but knowledge of the late filings was obtained from newspaper stories, the spokesman said.

The commission spokesman said lateness of the 40-day reports is not considered as serious a violation as lateness of the seven-day report, which possibly would result in ineligibility of candidates because there would not be sufficient time prior to the election for public inspection of the documents.

The spokesman said the letters of reprimand would instruct the candidates not to file future reports late and if they did, appropriate action would possibly be taken.

The committeemen and women who neglected to file were: Hubert Bollinger in Daisy Precinct; Bob Rafferty Jr., in Jackson Byrd 4 Precinct; Mrs. Lillian Hobbs in Nell Holcomb Precinct; Michael L. Richey in Cape Girardeau Ward 4; Douglas and Loretta Kitchen, both in Cape Girardeau Ward 12, and Eugene F. McDonald Jr., in Cape Girardeau Ward 17.

Bill Hopkins, a Democratic candidate for the newly-created 2nd Division judgeship of the 32nd Judicial Circuit filed his economic disclosure and campaign contributions and expenditures reports prior to the deadline. His reports, filed with the secretary of state and Bollinger County clerk's office, list expenditures at $200. He received no contributions.

Hopkins' reports were omitted from a list of candidates in a story Sunday.

Rains were 'mixed blessings' to crops

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Rains were a mixed blessing to Missouri farmers last week.

The rainstorms improved the soil moisture but limited the time suitable for field work to 3.5 days, the state crop and livestock reporting service says.

Soil moisture was 34 per cent short, 52 per cent adequate and 14 per cent surplus this week compared to 61 per cent short, 35 per cent adequate and 5 per cent surplus the week before.

Wheat harvesting was in full swing with 40 per cent of the crop cut. Soybean and grain sorghum planting were 93 per cent complete.

Corn improved with 57 per cent reported in good condition. Cotton in the Bootheel deteriorated slightly with 84 per cent in poor condition. Three per cent of the cotton is now in the squaring stage.

One injured in accident

MATTHEWS — A Canalou man received minor injuries in a one- car accident at 11:30 p.m. Monday, according to the highway patrol.

Gary Lee Hartlein, 29, of Canalou, driver of a westbound car, was treated for minor injuries at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

The accident occurred when Hartlein apparently went to sleep, ran his car off Route H, three miles west of Matthews, into a drainage ditch.

Straw poll shows undecided voters

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A straw poll by the Kansas City Star indicates a heavy undecided Aug. 3 primary vote for Congress in the 4th and 6th Districts of Missouri.

The Star copyright story says state Sen. Jack E. Gant, Independence, and Charles Broomfield, Clay County Court western judge, led in the Democratic race in the 4th and 6th Districts, respectively.

Mayor Richard A. King of Independence led in the Republican race in the 4th District. State Rep. E. Thomas Coleman is unopposed in the Republican race in the 6th District.

However, 44.2 per cent remained undecided in the 6th District Democratic primary, 51.7 per cent were undecided in the 4th District Democratic primary, and 54.9 per cent were undecided in the 4th District Republican primary, according to the poll, conducted by Research Information Center, Inc., in interviews last Monday through Wednesday,

In an earlier copyright story, the Star reported that a poll showed Joseph P. Teasdale, Kansas City, held a slight edge over state Sen. William J. Cason in the Democratic primary race for Missouri governor. The winner of the Democratic primary will face Gov. Christopher S. Bond, a Republican, in the Nov. 2 general election.

The earlier story also reported that state Rep. Richard Rabbitt, led in the state Democratic contest for lieutenant governor, with 26 per cent to 15 per cent for Mrs. Alberta Slavic.

Various other candidates received 4.3 per cent and 54.7 remained undecided. Republican Lt. Gov. William C. Phelps will face the winner of that primary in the general election.

In the Democratic primary for attorney general, state Rep. James G. Baker, Kansas City, was running slightly ahead of George E. Schaaf, a former circuit judge in St. Louis County, 23 per cent to 19.5 per cent, according to the earlier story. Of those polled, 57.5 per cent were undecided. The winner of that contest will face Republican John Ashcroft in the general.

Seven persons are running for the Democratic nomination in the 6th District to fill the seat vacated by Rep. Jerry Litton, D-Mo., who is running for the U.S. Senate. In the 4th District, nine Democrats and two Republicans are running to succeed Rep. William J. Randall, D-Mo.
